Value of Gold Not Change

President States It Will Not be Done During Time He Is President

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 —(AP)— President Truman said today there will be no change in the value of gold as long as he is president.

The President replied with what he described as a categorical no when he was asked if anyone in the administration was giving consideration to raising the price of gold as a means of reducing the national debt.

Any such action would have to take the form of a recommendation to Congress.

The answer to the question, Mr. Truman asserted, is a categorical no. As long as he is President of the United States, he said, the value of gold is fixed.

The $35 an ounce U. S. price for gold has been in effect since January, 1935.

It was set when President Roosevelt "revalued" the paper dollar by lifting the government's buying or selling price from $20.67 an ounce which had been in effect for decades.

Rumors Persisted

Rumors that the gold price would be lifted again have been persistent in financial circles and elsewhere outside the government.

Shares in gold mining enterprises have moved up several times as the rumors became intense.

Persistence of these reports also is believed by government officials to be a major circumstance in causing gold to start moving from the U. S. to foreign countries recently. The metal had poured into this country for the last 15 years without interruption except in wartime.

Certain foreign countries, officials surmised, have been buying gold from this government on the theory that there might be something to the rumor despite repeated and emphatic denials by Secretary of the Treasury Snyder.

One point of the rumors was that the administration, by raising the paper-dollar price of gold, would have a gain through increasing the value of the $24,500,000,000 stock of gold it now owns. The U. S. stock is about three-fifths of the world gold supply.

The "gain," so the rumors went, could then be used for issuing paper dollars to pay part of the $256,800,000,000 federal debt.

Found Dead With Throat Cut

The body of Joseph O. Tillery, 37 years of age, of 5238 Paseo, Kansas City, was found about 40 feet from his automobile, about 15 miles southeast of Versailles on Lake Road 8, Wednesday night about 10:30 o'clock.

The body was found lying on an upgrade in a ditch, and lying on his back in an upright position. His throat was cut "from ear to ear" according to the state highway patrol. The cut was said to have been about 10 inches deep. Two razor blades were found on the front seat of the car, which is a 1947 Buick coach.

The highway patrol reported Tillery was "believed murdered." A coroner's inquest was held this afternoon at Kidwell funeral home in Versailles, conducted by Birch L. Medicus, coroner of Morgan county. His widow, Mrs. Lois Tillery and their six - year - old daughter, and three brothers arrived today at Versailes.

His car was found against a tree, and nothing in the man's effects indicated what his business was or why he was in the area, the patrol said. The body is being held at Kidwell funeral home. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Tillery was an owner of the Minnow Life Manufacturing company and had been preparing the fire to make minnow buckets.

His brother, L. D. Tillery, said Joseph had no financial worries, but had been fretting recently over the difficulty of getting steel for his plant because of the national steel strike.

Mrs. Tillery told Cornie Wood, Morgan county sheriff, that her husband had been in ill health for several years, following a stomach ulcer operation. She said he recently had been nervous and unable to sleep.

Opti-Mrs. Club to Have Meeting Friday

The Opti-Mrs. Club will hold its regular meeting Friday night at the home of Mrs. Harry Seeger, 1020 State Fair boulevard, with Mrs. Paul Alpert as assisting hostess.

Boys Find Old Grenades

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Fiveboys found 16 hand grenades in a muddy bayou. They played with them for two days. Not a grenade exploded.

Ammunition expert Sol Cohen said the boys were lucky they didn't get blown to bits.

The grenades appeared old. But Cohen, chief ammunition inspector at the San Jacinto ordnance depot, said some explosives can stay under water for years without losing their power.

Theodore Buselmier, 15, Joe Oubre, 13, Lee Wilson, 11, David McWilliams, 12, and Dan Davidson, 11, found the grenades Monday.

One boy said he dropped a grenade on a sidewalk—just to scare a girl.

Armistice Day Parade at 10 A. M. Friday

Rev. Arnold to Give Address at The Court House

The Armistice Day parade, Friday will move off at 10:00 o'clock in the morning from Broadway and Ohio avenue, led by a group of horseback riders, followed by the Smith-Cotton high school band. Mayor Julian H. Bagby and Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors will be among the eight or ten horsemen.

Next in line will be the massed colors of the various veterans' organizations, followed by the veterans, all in one body. All veterans are invited to join the parade.

Following the veterans will be the Gold Star Mothers, who will be riding in cars, followed by the various auxiliaries of veterans' organizations.

The Hubbard high school band will be next in line of march and will also be celebrating homecoming day with a football game at Liberty park that afternoon.

Behind the Hubbard band will be the Boy and Girl Scouts of Sedalia.

Floats to be in Line

The various floats entered will then be placed in the line of march as they come into position or as they report. The dead line for float entries will be 9:45 a. m. Friday. The judges for the floats will be chairman, Judge J. V. Kesterson, Judge A. M. Harlan and Judge W. L. Marlin. Prizes for the best floats will be awarded after the ceremony. All floats are to report at the assembly area at Tenth street and Ohio avenue, prior to the parade.

Observances of Armistice day will follow the parade at 11 a.m. in front of the court house in tribute to fallen members of the armed forces. The Rev. Walter P. Arnold will be the principal speaker and Rev. D. Warren Neal, will give the invocation and benediction.

The Veterans Council, of which Walter McMellen is president, is sponsoring the Armistice day ceremony. All downtown stores will be closed until noon.

Asks Audit for Miners' Welfare Fund

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) asked today for a court audit of operations of the coal miners' welfare fund since he has been one of its trustees.

When that has been done and his own actions as a trustee have been reviewed, he asked the U. S. district court here to let him get off the board.

Bridges' petition to the court was in some degree his response to a plea by Ezra Van Horn, former coal operator member of the board, to be absolved of any responsibility for the way the multimillion dollar welfare fund has been administered.

Congressman Christopher is Guest Speaker

Tells Kiwanians Of Outlay to Keep The Peace

A report on legislative experiences in Congress was made by Congressman George H. Christopher, Sixth Missouri district, of Amoret, before members of the Sedalia Kiwanis club and guests in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon.

Dr. Floyd Lively was program chairman and George H. Scruton introduced Mr. Christopher.

The congressman said we gave the military 15.6 billion dollars and to give an idea how large a sum of money that is, the Missouri valley, exclusive of railroads, telegraph wires and incorporated towns is valued by the agriculture department at 9.1 billion dollars. The speaker said he had to think a long time before rendering a decision. The military bill was passed by the House in April and came back to the Senate and passed in October.

Keep Military Strong

The speaker, in discussing the Marshall plan, said it was the first time in history of the human race that any nation ever considered spending vast sums of money in hopes of securing peace. He said if war should come, many times the cost of the Marshall plan would have to be appropriated the first day war was declared to conduct the conflict.

"In my opinion," Rep. Christopher said, "if we keep ourselves militarily strong, Russia would probably hesitate to start actual hostilities."

In answering the question what Congress was going to do about taxes, he replied, "Nobody is going to give you anything for nothing and if some one offers to, take another look at him. He probably has an ax to grind."

Rep. Christopher said at the conclusion of his speech, "my intention is to render conscientious service to the folks in my district."

Mr. Christopher spoke before a group of Pettis county committeemen of the Production and Marketing Administration in the office at 209½ South Ohio avenue at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

National Kid Day

Preceding the congressman's talk a recording announcement was played calling attention to Kiwanis sponsored National Kid day which will be observed in Sedalia and throughout the country Saturday, November 19.

Clubs guests were: Marvin Durst, Butler, secretary to Congressman Christopher A. W. Haller with Bert Hathaway; Judge Frank Monroe with Will Hurley; Mayor Julian Bagby, Atwell Bohling, Bryan Howe and Jas. Harms with Henry Salveter; James Reed with the Rev. Warren L. Botkin; Claude Boul with L. H. Archias, Jr.; Mrs. Clyde Heynen with Clyde Heynen; Robert George with Ken Miller; Abe Silverman with I. H. Reed; George H. Trader and D. Kelly Scruton with George H. Scruton; W. C. Askew and Judge E. W. Couey with Ben Robinson; Jack Cunningham with Art Morgan; W. B. Rich and C. C. Czeschin with J. C. Griffin; William Brown with Mike Giokaris; Emmett Sullivan with Edw. Mullaley; John Zander and Dr. M. E. Gouge with Dr. Floyd Lively and Frank Hayes with W. F. Keyser.

Terrace at Pool Ready to Seed

The terrace and lawn surrounding the Municipal swimming pool at Liberty park was put in good shape by city employes, and is now ready to have grass seed sowed upon it.

The 250 by 135-foot lawn was rolled, graded, disked, harrowed and had fertilizer and plenty of rich black dirt spread upon the ground recently in preparation for grass seeding.

James I. Collins, city engineer, said various types of grass seed would be sowed today. It will take about 60 days for the seed to germinate, and eventually, a stand of blue grass will surround the pool.

The intention of the park board and other city officials are to make the surroundigs around the modern pool as beautiful as possible.

Stores Be Closed Until Noon Friday

The retail stores in the business district will close until noon Friday in observance of Armistice Day, but will open at 12:00 o'clock noon and will remain open until 5:00 o'clock.

Find Body After Room Afire

ST. JOSEPH, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Firemen who extinguished a blaze at a rooming house early today found the body of Tommy Dunn, about 60, in his room. They said he probably was suffocated by smoke.

Dunn was a barber.

Can't Write, But Passes Bad Checks

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Police are looking for a man who has succeeded in passing bad checks all over town despite a formidable handicap:

He can't write.

The check-passer is described as being about 75 years old, six feet tall, and clad in faded blue overalls.

Equipped with a social security card as identification, he has been ambling into stores and offering down payments—by check—on merchandise.

The checks invariably are for much more than the amount of the down payment.

To Decorate Downtown For The Holidays

Santa Claus Will Appear Early At Business Houses

The contract for Christmas Street Decorations to the Raines Decorating Mo., was approved Wednesday evening by the Decorations committee of the Sedalia Retail Merchants and the assembly of materials for same will be started at once.

The decorations plans call for green spruce roping, additional strings of lights, and the use of cutouts in the overhead street decorations. In addition through the courtesy of the Local Carpenter's Union the church which so effectively decorated the Court House Lawn will again be used this year.

An effort will be made to have Santa Claus appear at an early date, and visit with local children. The exact date of his visit is not yet known but will be announced through the press as soon as possible.

Plan For Christmas Carols

Plans are also being made by Pat Darnell, chairman, to again have group and community singing on the steps of the Court house at appropriate times during the pre-Christmas season. Last year a number of groups participated in the caroling, and it is hoped that with an increased number of musical organizations in town this year that will participate in the caroling. A schedule will be arranged for all who care to sing and an appropriate time will be arranged for them.

The committee is also designing an appropriate window sticker for all of the firms and individuals who have so generously gave to make the decorations possible and at the same time of the installation of the decorations this sticker will be mailed to all who have made contributions.

Members of the committee are Cline Cain, Paul Hedderich, Glenn Lewis, John Heiss, and M. G. Goodrich.

Voice Protest on A 'Vile Parody'

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The Knights of Columbus has objected to Washington University, St. Louis, to what the Knights termed a "vile parody on the Lord's Prayer" in a campus publication.

Bernard S. Gillis, state deputy of the Missouri Council of the K. of C., a Roman Catholic organization, today released a letter of protest he had sent to Arthur H. Compton, chancellor of the nonsectarian school.

Gillis said the parody appeared in the October issue of "Quirk," described on the cover as the official humor magazine of the school, the parody was on the subject of drinking set to the meter of the Lord's Prayer.

"What amazes me," Gillis wrote, referring to Quirk, "is not the emphasis on sex and the tendency to vulgar humor, but the blasphemous item on page 4 entitled 'With Bowed Heads.' This is, as anyone will readily see, a vile parody on the Lord's Prayer.

"Never before have I seen such a deliberate desecration of a thing held dear by the Christian people of all denominations."

Plant a Fruit Orchard Friday

BOONILLE, Mo., Nov. 10.—(AP)—The planting of a 35-acre fruit orchard is expected to attract about 3,500 persons tomorrow.

Known as the state orchard of tomorrow day, the event is sponsored by the University of Missouri, the Missouri State Historical Society and the Boonville Chamber of Commerce. It will be held at the C. C. Bell orchards east of here.

The demonstration will include planting, pruning, construction of terraces and application of trunk protectors.

A feature of the event will be an apple pie six feet in diameter. The first 2,000 persons to register will receive a slice of the pie at the noon luncheon.

J. G. Johnson Fatally Injured

John G. Johnson, 63 years old, Missouri Pacific engineer, a former Sedalian, but who for the past several years has been residing in Jefferson City, was struck by a switch engine and fatally injured about 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night in the Missouri Pacific railroad yards in Kansas City. Mr. Johnson was walking from a restaurant to freight train he was preparing to take to Jefferson City. The switch engine was backing up. He had been working on the chain gang between Jefferson City and Kansas City.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Effie Johnson, of the home, a son, Charles, and a daughter, Mildred, wife of Robert Swackhamer, both of Jefferson City, three brothers, W. E. Johnson, 820 South Vermont avenue, this city, H. C. Johnson, 1415 State Fair boulevard, this city, and Homer Johnson, Independence, and three sisters, Mrs. A. A. Jollif, Kansas City, Mrs. William Milburn, of California, Mo., and Mrs. Millard Cook, of Jefferson City.

Mr. Johnson lived in Sedalia many years and at the time he moved to Jefferson City resided at 654 East Fourteenth street.

The body will be taken to Jefferson City where funeral services will be held at 10:30 Saturday morning.

State of Siege Is Proclaimed At Bogota

Report Hundreds Died in Colombia During Clashes

BOGOTA, Colombia, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Colombia's conservative government has decreed a state of siege and suspended all sessions of the Liberal-dominated congress in a move climaxing weeks of pre-election clashes in which hundreds reportedly have died.

Censorship of press and radio also was ordered by President Mariano Ospino Perez.

(News of the state of siege was filed last night by the Associated Press correspondent in Bogota and was not received in New York until this morning).

The state of siege was proclaimed last night after troops cordoned off Colombia's capitol building and stood guard throughout the country to suppress any further outbreaks of the bitter fighting which has raged for the past month between Liberals and Conservatives.

The president also suspended sessions of departmental assemblies and municipal councils.

Assassination Reports

Widespread rumors of assassination attempts againt political leaders were denied officially by the national radio.

Many business places in the center of the city closed early yesterday afternoon as troops began moving through the streets.

Earlier yesterday the government imposed a 9 p. m. to dawn curfew in Bogota and in Cali, Colombia's fourth largest city, to keep everyone off the streets at night.

Troops were dispatched to strategic points throughout the country. Government buildings were put under heavier guard. Congress members and newspaper reporters were barred from the capitol building.

Speculation grew that the army might take over power from the civilian government to curb the bloody outbreaks between conservative and liberal party supporters.

Might Delay Voting

Such action might postpone the balloting scheduled Nov. 27 to name a successor to conservative President Mariano Ospina Perez.

Though Bogota has been free of political violence recently, party newspapers in recent weeks have reported a steadily rising wave of hard fighting between groups of conservative and liberal partisans. Each party blames the other for the fighting.

The government has confirmed only a few of the reports. Press accounts put the death toll at more than 500 in the last two weeks of October alone.

The conservatives so far have appeared determined to hold the election Nov .27, with Laureano Gomez as their candidate. The liberals have said they will boycott the voting. They charge the government has not preserved order and any election now would not be a free vote.

Liberal leaders last night reiterated they would not recognize the result of any election now.

Though President Ospina and his government are all conservatives, the liberals have a majority in both houses of congress. Their leaders have threatened to push through a proposal for a four-man provisional government to succeed Ospina when his term ends next May 5.

Look To End Of Strike

Legal Aspects of Steel Peace Are Being Considered At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 10—(AP)—CIO United Steelworkers and giant United States Steel opened peace talks on a legal level today which might end the most costly steel strike in American history.

Rumors flooded this steel capital that industry leader U. S. Steel is making an offer to put its 170,000 workers back in the mills across the country.

There was no official comment from either big steel or union president Philip Murray. But a meeting of lawyers for both sides during the morning made it plain they are exploring the possibilities of a settlement.

Chief negotiator John A. Stephens, U. S. Steel vice president, stood by as did union authorities. Steelworker teams were on hand for a time but were told to go home and report back at 3 p. m.

Big steel and the union heads were expected to get together before the day is out. Lending credence to prospects of a break was a union call for meeting of its powerful wage policy committee tomorrow—possibly to consider a settlement.

A peace pact with U. S. Steel would mean virtual end to the costly 41-day strike by the Steelworkers for free insurance and pensions as recommended by a presidential board.

Last of Big Four

U. S. Steel is the only one of the four top producers still holding out. It led industry's fight against footing the welfare bill.

Today's peace talk came on the heels of a strike-ending contract with Youngstown Sheet & Tube's company, employing 19,000.

Shortly before last midnight Great Lakes Steel at Detroit reached a similar agreement for its 10,000 employes.

Those rapid-fire developments brought to five the number of major steel producers who have agreed to Murray's demands for non-contributory pensions.

Youngstown Sheet & Tube's contract calls for $100 monthly pensions to workers aged 65 with 25 years' service. If a worker is entitled to a $70 monthly pension from his Social Security payments the company will pay $30 to make his pension total $100.

The contract calls for a five-cent-an-hour social insurance program. Workers will pay two and one-half cents. The company will do the same.

Will Close Mail Order House

HANNIBAL, Mo., Nov. 10.—(AP)—The American Sales Agency, Inc., will close its cigarette mail order house here this week because of a new federal regulation governing the sales.

The announcement was made today by Edward Tweel, the company's sales representative.

He is a nephew of Nicholas J. Tweel of Huntington, W. Va., the concern's president, who said several days ago he would fight the new law.

The regulation requires that cigarette mail order houses doing interstate business provide lists of their customers and pay cigarette taxes to the state.

Young Tweel said the office here would be closed along with those at Alexandria, Va., and Asheville, N. C., and that all three would consolidate at the main offices in Huntington to await outcome of an anticipated court fight over the new law.

Hogs Drop Below Price Ceiling

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Live hog prices sank below the price ceiling of late 1946 today when the best price on the market was $16.20 a hundred pounds. This was a nickel under the ceiling set at the beginning of September, 1946, and in effect until Oct. 15 that year.

The new three-year low compares with the alltime record high of $31.85 set Aug. 19 last year. A year ago today the beset price on the Chicago market was $23.00.

Layoff at Shops in Effect

The layoff of 187 shopmen of the Missouri Pacific Wednesday and an additional 20 today went into effect as ordered from company headquarters, Superintendent Guy D. Bailey confirmed when asked regarding the action.

Four Firemen Die in Collision

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Four firemen were killed and four injured when two fire engines, racing to answer an alarm, collided at an intersection near Pimlico race track in Northeast Baltimore yesterday.

"Both of them were really travelling," said a filling station attendant who saw the trucks speeding for the corner. He estimated that one, a hook-and-ladder, was doing between 50 and 60 miles an hour, while the other, a hose truck, was doing about 35 or 40.

"Both of them had their sirens screaming and I guess they just couldn't hear each other," the witness added.

The eight firemen, four on each engine, were hurled through the air by the violence of the impact.

The dead were identified as Joseph A. Remeikis, 35; Charles Paff, 57; James W. Haynie, 26, and Joseph B. Magaha, 25.

Miners Return To Soft Coal Pits on Order

Production of Coal Slowly is Nearing Normal

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Soft coal production climbed slowly toward normal today as bituminous union miners returned to the pits east of the Mississippi for the first time since September 19.

Many Western Pennsylvania miners, where some 56,000 work in commercial and steel company owned operations, waited for local union meetings before picking up picks and shovels again. They have been idle almost eight weeks.

Operator sources, who refused to be identified, spoke of the diggers' dissatisfaction with the strike and their eagerness to get back on the payrolls.

"Once the miners are back at work, I think they'll stay there," declared one veteran mine owner.

Some miners returned to work at 4 p. m. yesterday, but the bulk are expected back today. Vice President Harry Suter of the Western Pennsylvania coal operators estimated 80 per cent of normal working forces will answer whistles by the time the late afternoon shifts start.

Most mines were reported to be in good shape and ready to resume production. Others gave the first men reporting back the job of preparing the pits for normay operations.

The unpredictable Lewis ordered his 378,000 soft coal miners east of the Mississippi to go back to the pits until midnight, November 30. They had been idle eight weeks.

Lewis is still trying to get a contract to replace the one which expired last June 30.

Want Issue Settled

And some of Lewis' members say they don't like the idea of going back to work until the contract issue is settled. But, as always, they're following Lewis' orders.

"Why go back for just three weeks?" was the general reaction among a sober-faced group of miners at nearby Bridgeville when they learned of Lewis' dramatic move.

"We might as well stay out until we get something," said one UMW member.

"After the 30th, we'll be at it (on strike) again," another miner declared grimly.

At Russellton, near Pittsburgh, about 95 per cent of the striking miners were hunting when Lewis' orders came. One fellow, his gun on his shoulder and a rabbit in his hand, said he'd be glad to work.

"I'm tired of just loafing around," he said.

Joseph Mautino, president of Local 4426 at Harmarville, Pa., said his men would meet today. He added:

"What the boys decide is okay with me. They are very bitter, but Mr. Lewis' orders will send them back to work. They may grumble a lot, but they'll always do what Lewis tells them."

One Parachuted to Death; Others Safe

CONDON, Ore., Nov. 19.—(AP)—One naval airman parachuted to his death as a four-engined plane crash landed in a wheat field north of here last night.

The six others aboard the navy privateer were safe. Two parachuted and four rode the plane down.

A sheriff's searching party found the body of the victim at dawn today. Members reported at the nearby Louie Barnett ranch that he was killed by a blow on the head in landing. He was not named, pending notification of next of kin.

Lewis Fails To Show Up

Plans Upset For Mediation Talks And Director Ching Indignant

Federal officials and mine operators fumed in Washington at the failure of the mine union chief to show up for coal peace talks.

Lewis dropped out of public sight yesterday after ordering suspension of the 52-day-old soft coal strike until November 30.

The mine chief was last seen by newsmen as he entered a taxicab in front of Chicago's Sheraton hotel, where he had met with the union's 200-man policy committee since Monday.

Lewis declined to make known his destination but he was overheard as he instructed the cab driver to take him to Grand Central depot. It was believed he intended to board the Baltimore and Ohio railroad's Capitol Limited for Washington.

However, the railroad said it did not have a reservation for Lewis, at least not under his own name. Personnel at the depot and on the train said they had not seen the mine chief.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 —(AP)—John L. Lewis today snubbed the government's bid to a coal peace conference and Cyrus Ching, federal mediation director, said he was dropping his efforts to smooth the way to a new mining contract.

Ching went to the White House and reported that Lewis, instead of showing up for the peace talks scheduled for this morning, had sent a wire saying he would see the mediators on Monday.

When he left the White House, Ching told reporters he would tell the mine owners here for the conference to go on home.

He said he had other plans and would be too busy to see Lewis on Monday.

Ching added:

"I haven't any plans at this time for calling any further meetings in the coal dispute.

He hedged that a bit later, however, by saying that he was not ruling out the possibility that another government effort to promote peace might be made.

No White House Action Yet

Asked if he expected President Truman to take any action in the coal dispute in view of today's developments, Ching said:

"Not yet. There are no plans for anything like that yet nothing has been decided."

The mediation chief said the government "must evaluate the situation" before deciding on its next move.

Then, at a later news conference, Ching said he would have to determine between now and Saturday whether to call any meetings at all. He said "we will have our plans better formulated by Saturday."

"It is quite obvious" Ching said, "that had the miners not gone back to work today we would have had to take some action. It had reached the crisis stage.

"Another crisis may arrive November 30. As far as the mediation service is concerned we are not going to sit down and wait. But we will do what we can as long as anything can be done."

Could Establish Board

If President Truman should decide that the mediation service can accomplish nothing in the situation, he might turn to other means. He could establish a fact-findings board empowered to recommend settlement terms. Or he could invoke the Taft-Hartley act's court injunction emergency powers.

The T-H law permits the government to seek a court order halting a strike for 80 days.

It was quite obvious that the government was going to make strong efforts to prevent another coal walkout at the end of the month.

It was also plain that officials were pretty annoyed by Lewis' attitude toward the invitation to peace talks this morning.

It amounted to a sharp slap in the face to Cyrus Ching, federal mediation chief. It left him, too, pretty much in the position of the parson when the bride-to-be does not show up for the wedding.

Ching was there, fuming. The soft coal operators were there, fuming. But no Lewis.

In fact, it was something of a mystery where Lewis was. Aides of the bushy-browed union leader

Trial Delayed On Spy Charges

NEW YORK, Nov. 10—(AP)—Russian engineer Valentin A. Gubitchev came into court again on Wednesday on a spy charge and his command of English suddenly deserted him.

Gubitchev, suspended from his United Nations job, is charged with Judith Coplon to transmit stolen government documents to the Russians.

Miss Coplon, former justice department employe, was convicted in Wahington and sentenced to 40 months to 10 years for stealing confidential FBI papers with intent to pass them to Soviet agents.

Gubitchev and Miss Coplon appeared in court today for the start of their trial, but lengthy arguments by attorneys in the judge's chambers postponed the actual trial at least until tomorrow. The nature of these arguments was not disclosed.

In past court appearances, Gubitchev spoke English fluently and understood everything that was said to him.

But today, when Federal Judge William Bondy asked him if he was ready for trial, Bubitchev answered with a barrage of Russian.

A lawyer who speaks Russian happened to be in the courtroom and offered his services.

While the lawyer interpreted, Gubitchev declined to say whether he was ready for trial, said the court had no jurisdiction over him, and claimed diplomatic immunity.

Sedalia's Airport Has Grass Fire

Fire at the Sedalia Municipal Airport did considerable damage to runways and a lespedeza seed crop, Wednesday afternoon, shortly after 2 o'clock.

Jack Funk of the Funk's Flying Service, reported he was working in a hangar when he heard the crackling of fire and rushed out to see a good portion of the eastern section of the flying field on fire. He said he fought the blaze for more than two hours before getting it under control.

Mr. Funk said he heard a train pass a short time before and believed it might have started from sparks, from an engine. He said a good portion of the grass on the east end of the northeast-southwest runway, which is considered the main runway was burned off. This he said might create a mudhole if weather should turn bad.

He reported he was alone at the flying field it being the day-off for his mechanic and Mrs. Funk was in town and had to battle the flames alone. He said he wore out two brooms and a pair of pants.

The lespedeza patch was on the east end of the flying field.

Short Week For State Employees At Jefferson City

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 10—(AP)—This will be a short work week for state employes, the overnor's office said.

All offices will be closed Friday, Armistice Day.

It was decided that shucks, there was no point in coming back for a half day's work Saturday. So most state offices will be closed all day Saturday, too.

Helen G. Steele Music club memebers and guests were given an informal and retrospective view of the field of concert artists gained over a period of 43 years by Mr. Walter Fritschy of Kansas City on Wednesday afternoon at the Heard Memorial club house. His talk was highlighted by pertinent references to the effect of radio and movies in lowering the standards of both music and art. The modern methods of exploitation of promising artists at an early age often result in a complete loss of their talents even before they reach maturity. Young people of today who aspire to the heights are not willing to devote the time and hard work which a career in concert and opera requires. That, according to Mr. Fritschy, is the difference between the modern and the so-called Golden Age of Music and the Theater.

"There is something great in the truly great artist," said Mr. Fritschy and "all great talent is a gift from God." There are many performers but few are endowed with this greatness and the perseverance to achieve perfection of performance.

In answer to questions from the audience, Mr. Fritschy gave some interesting comments on artists both past and present. He stated that Myra Hess is considered the most satisfying of living pianists and is so classed by other artists. Jennie Tourel is the greatest among living women singers and possesses great musicianship. Mischa Elman has the finest tone of all contemporary violinists.

Ezio Pinza's voice is reminiscent of Chaliapin and the singers of the Golden Age. Enrico Caruso's voice in Mr. Fritschy's opinion was "the greatest ever to come from a human throat." Marian Anderson is truly great and there is nothing finer than her tonality in the opening phase of Schubert's "Ave Maria." She worked on this number for six months and decided it was not for her. She shelved it for two years and then spent six months more on it with such splendid tonality as the result. The speaker said that any singer who cannot properly sing a vowel is no singer. He paid a fine tribute to the ability as a teacher of Mrs. T. J. Strickler, who was Margaret Truman's first teacher.

George Gershwin's opera, "Porgy and Bess" is the most vital music on the stage today in the opinion of Mr. Fritschy.

The speaker's advice to aspiring young musicians is work and more work, coupled with patience and an earnest desire for quality instead of speed. "The modern piano is built for speed and the young musicians are literally cutting seconds and minutes off the great concertos," he said.

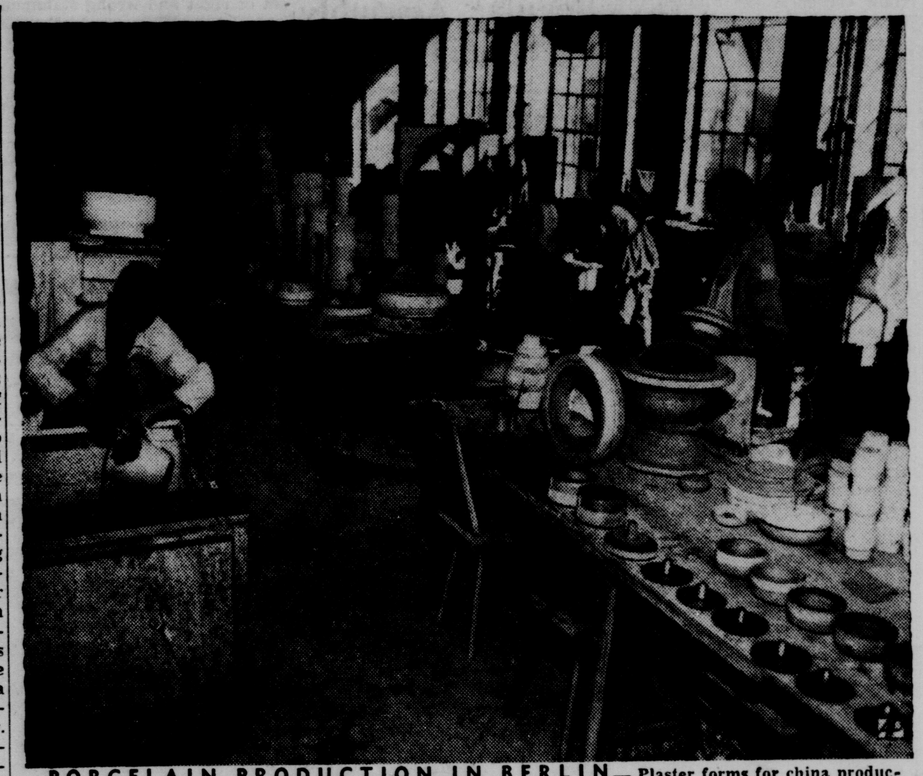
Miss Jessie Blair, chairman of the day, introduced the speaker and related some humorous incidents shared by them in the 43 years off and on that she has been attending his concert series in Kansas City. She commented that the people of Kansas City owe Mr. Fritschy a great debt of gratitude for the fine standards he has maintained in his concerts.

Mrs. E. F. Yancey, life president, presided over the short business session and introduced Mrs. A. B. Potts, junior federation chairman, who called attention to a radio program on ABC Saturday at 9 a. m. which features Sigmund Spaeth and is sponsored by the National Federation of Music clubs. She also mentioned a program on which tribute was paid to the fine work of Mrs. Hart Dierks of Kansas City, national federation chairman of music in hospitals.

Mrs. Fred Ross, the program chairman, announced that Miss Ruth Ann Yunker of Sedalia and a student at Christian college, will give a program of the numbers she will use for her graduate recital to the Music club on February 8. Her graduate recital will be given in the college auditorium on March 1. Among her numbers will be Cesar Franck's "Symphonic Variations" with her teacher, Mr. Launer at the second piano.

Mrs. Ross also called attention to the annual club supper and program to be given the night of November 16. Mrs. Homer Keith, Hymn of the Month chairman, gave the history of "Now Thank We All Our God," the hymn for November and led the group in singing this inspiring hymn. Miss Lillian Fox accompanied at the piano.

The regular weekly chorus rehearsal next Wednesday afternoon at promptly 2 p. m. was announced by Mrs. C. D. Demand choral director. She called attention to the fact that there are only six more rehearsals before the program and urged all who intend to sing in the chorus to be at the next rehearsal.



PORCELAIN PRODUCTION IN BERLIN— Plaster forms for china production are made once again at Berlin's famed old porcelain factory, in operation for first time since the war. Plant employs 150 workers and is under control of West Berlin government.

SEA-GOING VELVET— Barbara Freking of Hollywood, Calif., wears velvet swim suit treated to repel water.

The Mozart Music club held its monthly recital at the home of Mrs. Jewell Thomas, 401 Dal Whi Mo, Sunday, November 6.

The recital was opened by the group singing "America," accompanied by Mrs. Thomas. Musical games were played and awards given the winners. Plans were discussed for the Christmas recital which will be held December 18.

The program followed: "Fairy Polka" by Spindler, Joyce Burke; "Black Water in the Moonlight" by Wachs, Bonnie Lazenby; "Coronation March" by Meyerbeer, Barbara Mertgen; "Solfeggietta" by Bach, Marilyn Kelley; "Revel of the Wood Nymphs" by Barbour, Betty Lazenby; "Nelly Bly" by Foster, Charlotte Griggs; "Nola" by Arndt, Ruby Faye Silsby; "The Barn Dance" by Howell, Beverly Mertgen; "A Mountain Stream" by Smith, Valgene Hayworth and "Nola" by Arndt, Nancy Jane Oswald.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Hileman of Grand River, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Morris and Mr. Vernie Morris of Weiser, Idaho, have returned home after spending a few days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Morris of Emden, and brothers and families, Ernest Morris of Huhesville and Virgil and Orie Morris of Sedalia.

A family dinner, to which all contributed, was held Sunday at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Morris.

Those attending were Vernie Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Morris and sons, Arthur, Charles, Larry, Harry and Junior; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Hileman, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Orie Morris, daughters Crystal and Darlene and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Morris and daughter Betty.

The afternoon was spent in conversation and taking pictures.

Mrs. C. R. Almquist, 1603 South Moniteau avenue, entertained the members of the G. I. A. to the B. of L. E. at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Those present were Mrs. J. W. Murrell, Mrs. John Overmier, Mrs. George McKelvey, Mrs. S. E. Bushey, Mrs. W. C. Edwards, Mrs. F. C. Wilhite, Mrs. Emma Steele, Mrs. Walter Motz, Mrs. George S. Young, Mrs. Roy Lierman, Mrs. Wallace J. Lang, Mrs. R. C. Smallwood, Mrs. A. J. Rose and Mrs. P. H. Handley.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie whipped cream and coffee were served by Mrs. Almquist.

The first meeting of the newly organized Past Matrons, Past Patrons and Associates club of Pettis Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, was held Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Almquist, 1603 South Moniteau avenue.

The first officers of the club are: Walter Kennedy, president and Mrs. C. R. Almquist, vice president, both charter members of Pettis chapter and Mrs. Cleo Boston, secretary-treasurer.

A short business meeting was followed by a social session.

The home was decorated throughout with arrangements of charysanthemums and on the dining room table was a brass bowl filled with yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and red roses.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Duffett, Mrs. Lucille Vilmer, Mrs. Lottie White, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gwinn, Mr. and and Mrs. William L. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brummet, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gwinn, Mrs. E. D. Bybee, Mrs. Max Holland, Mrs. Max Holland, Mrs. Katherine Stevens, Mrs. Grace Arbo-Gast, Mrs. J. B. Hancock, Mrs. J. W. Leftwich, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kettlesen, Mrs. Jewell Nave, Mr. and Mrs. Linden L. Jones, Mrs. Gertrude Fingland, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Staubli, Mrs. Jess Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Downey, Mr. and Mrs. Everett C. Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Spears, Mrs. Cleo Boston and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Almquist.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Almquist and her assisting hostesses, Mrs. Cleo Boston and Mrs. Walter Kennedy.

Mrs. Max Holland and Walter Kennedy assisted in receiving the guests.

CHURCH NEWS

Mrs. W. A. Green's circle of the Methodist church, Broadway and Engineer avenue, met at the home of Mrs. W. A. Green, Sedalia, route 2, with Mrs. Green and Mrs. J. Lawrence Dyer as hostesses. There were 21 members present and the following visitors: Rev. R. E. Hurd, Mrs. J. R. Ramey, Mrs. Raymond Garrett, Mrs. C. E. Ezell, Mrs. C. E. Garrett, Mrs. Rosalie Alcorn, Connie Beals, Jackie Hayes and Gary Dyer.

The devotionals were given by Mrs. Elmer Coulter and Mrs. J. Lawrence Dyer on the "Responsibility Parents Have For Our Young People." All joined in repeating the club collect and the Lord's prayer in unison, ending in a prayer by Mrs. Mae Varney.

Two games were led by Mrs. J. Lawrence Dyer.

The meeting was adjourned until the December meeting which will meet at 638 East Eighteen street with Mrs. C. L. Beard and Mrs. V. C. Richardson as hostess.

To Condemn For A State Office Building

Proceedings Start Next Week Against Five Tract Owners

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 10—(AP) — Attorney General Taylor will start condemnation proceedings next week to acquire a site for the new $3,500,000 tsate office building, Gov. Forrest Smith reported.

Proceedings will start against owners of five tracks at the southeast corner of the intersection of East Capitol and Jefferson streets, just a block east of the capitol.

Hopes To Reduce Price

Smith told his news conference today he hopes the suit will cut in half the price asked by the five owners, now totaling $263,000. The total assesesd valuation of their land is about $23,000.

Smith said the board of public buildings—himself, Taylor and Lt. Gov. James T. Blair, Jr.—believes the state at least could cut the price to $175,000 by condemnation proceedings.

Marcel Boulicault of St. Louis, architect for the building, is studying space demands for state agencies now, Smith said, to decide how many stories the structure should have.

He said earlier estimates indicated some agencies wanted offices for secretaries as big as his own executive office.

"They'll not get that much space," Smith remarked.

May Expand Hotel

He didn't close the door to possible future acquisition of the space, however. The hotel has announced plans to use the area for an addition to its own building. But if pressed by the state, the hotel management has said it will sell the 44-foot frontage for $1,000 a foot.

The governor said the board of public buildings also has deferred action on possible condemnation of four tracts just across the street west of the proposed building site.

Four houses there may be bought by the state and razed to make room for a parking lot between the new office building and the present state highway department building, Smith explained.

Condemnation proceedings may be well enough along by the end of this month to start clearing the building site, Smith said.

Man And Wife Jump From Burning Home

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10—(AP)—A man and his wife jumped from a second story window to escape fire which destroyed their combination home and filling station today.

John Bidnick, 32, was ill in bed when the fire broke out near the front door of the station. Mrs. Bidnick ran upstairs and helped him to a window. The fire had cut off escape by the door, so they jumped, escaping injury.

Where Russia Gets Atomic Material—

Stamps In the News

AP Newsfeatures

By SID KRONISH

Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson announced that the Wright Brothers 6-cent Air Mail commemorative stamp will be placed on first day sale at Kitty Hawk, N. C., on Dec. 17.

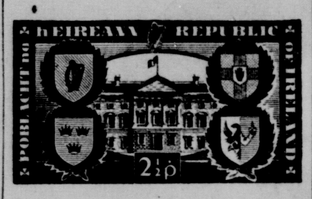
The Wright Brothers' historic plane, with the caption "First Free Controlled and Sustained Powered Flight By Man," forms the central design. The portraits of the two aviation pioneers together with their names appear in the upper right corner.

Stamp collectors during first day cancellations of this stamp may send a limited number of self-addressed envelopes, not exceeding 10, to the Postmaster at Kitty Hawk, N. C., with postal note or money order remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed.

Dayton, O., stamp collectors, however, are irate over the U. S. postal authorities' refusal to make Dayton the place of the first day sale. Daytonians protested that since their city was the home of the Wright Brothers and the scene of the greater part of their aviation experiments, the fair city of Dayton should have received the honor.

The Post Office Department stood firm on its original decision. Officials said the purpose of the stamp was to commemorate the first flight of the Wrights on Dec. 17, 1903, at Kitty Hawk.

Carl Soendlin, Secretary of the Dayton Philatelic Society announced that Dayton would not be left up in the air over this aerial issue. He is going to have a batch of the stamps flown to Dayton from Kitty Hawk for stamping with a Dayton postmark.



To commemorate the international recognition of the Republic of Ireland and the coming into operation of the Republican of Ireland Act, the Irish government will issue a new stamp on Nov. 21. The central design will show a picture of Leinster House, the seat of the legislature where the Act was passed. The Arms of the four provinces appear one in each corner of the stamp. It will be in two denominations, 2½ pence red brown and 3 pence blue.

"Better Late Than Never" must be the philatelic motto of Colombia. It has just issued a new stamp honoring the First Forestry Congress of Colombia which took place in 1945. The 5 centavos olive green stamp pictures a tree and the official emblem of that organization.

The flow of stamps honoring the 75th anniversary of the Universal Postal Union continues to flood the philatelic scene. These new issues come from all corners of the globe.

All the British colonies have issued sets of 4 UPU stamps. All have the same central design with the names of the countries at the bottom.

Ceylon, however, has issued 3 bi-colored stamps. All depict a world globe as the central design. A plane flies above the globe. At the bottom of the stamps are a train and a boat.

The Soviet Zone of Germany has also paid tribute to this philatelic anniversary. The stamp is 50 pfennig blue and shows a dove with a letter in its mouth. A world globe appears in the upper right corner of the extra large stamp.

The Yugoslav sector of the Free Territory of Trieste has overprinted the two Yugoslav UPU issues in red, reports the New York Stamp Co.

Regular Assembly At Smith-Cotton

The regular Smith-Cotton assembly was held Wednesday morning at 9:00 o'clock in the school auditorium and was in honor of national book week.

The assembly was based on the Dr. I. Q. radio program and all questions dealt on books or their authors.

Bob Van Horn was Dr. L. I. Q., standing for literary I. Q. His assistants were: John Mothersbaugh, Jerry Sims, Bob Holsten and Laurence Cottingham. Leo Eickhoff, Jr., was the announcer.

The best advertising slogan was sent in by Betty Momberg, Joan Benett had the best biographical sketch, Paula Jones gave the best set of right and wrong statements and Janet Keele gave the best thought twister. Peanuts were given to each winning contestant, as the program was sponsored by "Peter Piper's Puffed Popped Pepperd Perfect Peanuts."

After the program the winners in the various entrants were awarded a large number of peanuts on the stage.

The assembly was sponsored by Mrs. Doretta Waite and Miss Verna Ott.

The President's Sympathy To Reed Family

Friend and Colleague During His Days In United States Senate

PARSONS, Kas., Nov. 10—(AP)—Pres. Truman joined political and business leaders Wednesday in extending sympathy to the family of Senator Clyde M. Reed, who died unexpectedly at his home here.

The President said he was shocked and saddened by the death last night of the 78-year-old Republican senator and publisher of the Parsons Sun.

"The loved and loving husband and father was also my friend and colleague through all the years when our work in the Senate brought us in daily association," Mr. Truman said in a telegram to Mrs. Reed.

Expression Echoed By Many

The President's expression was echoed by many other politica and busines sleaders in messages received at the Reed residence.

Even as plans were made for the funeral Friday, speculation arose over a possible successor. The appointment will be made by Gov. Frank Carlson, who was expected to be in no hurry to fill the vacancy.

Carlson, frequently mentioned as a likely candidate for the senatorial nomination in the 1950 primary, expressed grief and shock at Reed's death, but he gave no hint on when he will act.

Most political observers in Topeka, the state capital, were inclined to discount the possibility the governor might resign to clear the way for his own appointment to the Senate seat.

Reed was elected to the Senate in 1938 and re-elected in 1944. His second term expires Jan. 3, 1951.

Collapsed At Home

The senior senator from Kansas collapsed while descending a stairway at his home. Death was attributed to a heart attack. He had left a hospital here last week after being treated for influenza.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Friday at the First Presbyterian church with the pastor, Dr. E. W. Armstrong, officiating. Fred W. Brinkerhoff, editor of the Pittsburg (Kas.) Headlight and Sun and a long-time friend, will give the eulogy. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery here.

In Washington, where flags on the capitol were at half staff, Vice President Barkley named a committee of 12 senators to attend the services. They were Senators Schoeppel (R-Kas), Donnell and Kem (R-Mo), Hickenlooper (R-Ia), McKellar (D-Tenn), Hayden (D-Ariz), Bridges (R-NH), Wherry (R-Neb), Capehart (R-Ind) McFarland (D-Ariz), and Kerr (D-Okla).

The House sergeant at arms, Joseph C. Callahan, appointed all six Kansas representatives in Congress to represent the House at the funeral.

Love For Youth Effects Release

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 10—(AP)—Young Johnny Mordan was free to return to a sweetheart whose love effected his release from jail.

The 18-year-old Danville, Pa., youth pleaded guilty to an automobile theft charge. Instead of sending him to prison, District Judge Eben L. Taylor deferred sentence for one year and freed Mordan with a lecture.

"It means," said the judge, "that you have a chance now to prove yourself to the people who have shown so much interest in you."

The court deferred senitence on recommendation of local juvenile authorities who obtained a home and a job for Johnny in Washington, D. C.

The young couple was arrested 40 miles south of Tulsa on Oct. 17 in a stolen car. They told officers of sleepless nights on the road, without food or shelter. They took the car "to get some rest," Rita said. She was sent home, Johnny jailed.

The girl then wrote authorities here not "to punish Johnny because he loved me so good." County Attorney Elmer Adams ordered a thorough investigation of the case, leading to the youth's release.

Probation Officer Chauncey Moore said he had worked out an arrangement with Pennsylvania juvenile authorities so the pair might visit each other.

Firemen Killed In Crash Of Trucks

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10 —(AP)—Two fire engines answering an alarm came together with a terrific crash at an intersection Wednesday, killin four firemen.

Four other firemen were injured, two critically.

One of the vehicles was a hook and ladder, the other a hose truck.

They met in the center of an intersection knocking down an overhead traffic signal.

A witness said that firemen were bounced off the engines like "so many tenpins."

A passenger car was nearly cut in half when one of the fire trucks spun into it after the crash.

Grand Jury Witnesses Are Jailed

Duvoe And Bassin Guilty Of Contempt Of Federal Court

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10—(AP)—Max Ducov and Nathan L. Bassin, Kansas City beer distributors, were found guilty of civil contempt of federal court late Wednesday.

District Judge Richard M. Duncan ordered them confined until they "tell the truth to the grand jury."

Judge Duncan committed the men indefinitely but indicated they would be confined for at least the length of the grand jury term unless they purged themselves earlier. Fred Canfil, federal marshal, said they would be placed in the county jail.

Evasive Answer To Jury

The government charged Ducov and Bassin brothers-in-law, had given evasive answers to the federal grand jury investigating gambling and other crime here.

Judge Duncan gave his decision immediately after attorneys closed there arguments in a hearing which began Monday. Meanwhile the grand jury has been in recess.

"My own opinion," Judge Duncan said, "is that Bassin finds himself in the middle, pressed from both sides—a most unfortunate situation for him. Mr. Bassin seems unable to remember things of common experience in everyday life."

It was entirely possible for Bassin to accumulate $7,500 over 25 working years, 20 years in a bank, the judge said. But it was "incredible" that a man working in a bank would conceal the money in a trunk at home. . . .

"Bassin was evasive to an extent almost incredible," he said. "With truth and fact, he just obviously was a tool, and is one now."

Of Ducov, the judge said he believed the brother-in-law was the "beneficiary of Bassin's efforts in concealment." He termed Ducov a "much smarter man, and better able to care for himself."

Could Disposed Of $43,000

A man who lived in Ducov's manner easily could dispose of $43,000 in the period under question by the jury and still not be able to account for it, the judge remarked.

Ducov was guilty mainly, the judge said, because he was equally evasive about transactions concerning the Wiggle Inn (a tavern) and transfer from Ducov to Bassin of the Dukes Sales Company, a beer agency.

Walter Calvin, defense counsel immediately asked the judge to furnish a list of questions the defendants must answer before their release.

The judge commented that he did not consider it necessary.

Max H. Goldshein, special assistant attorney general, said the government's presentment defined clearly the areas of evasiveness. He said it was readily apparent what the prisoners must do to purge themselves of contempt.

In closing argument, Goldshein had called the defense stories of Ducov and Bassin "ridiculous fantasy." Defense attorneys countered that they were guilty of perjury, if anything, but not contempt.

with the flair for the dramatic said they did not know.

Ching was plainly burned up.

First, he fired a telegram to United Mine Workers headquarters asking Lewis for "clarification." But he didn't even know whether Lewis would see it.

Then Ching delivered a report to the White House that Lewis had cooly turned down a bid to a peace conference.

Ching called for his car and sped to the White House himself to make the report.

While he was traveling there, President Truman was holding his regular Thursday news conference.

The Lewis-Ching situation had not come to light and the questions to Mr. Truman did not deal with it.

The president was asked what might be the administration's next move in the coal situation.

He wouldn't say about that.

No Comment on Order

Nor would the president comment on Lewis' order of yesterday sending the coal miners back to work for three weeks.

Instead of a comment, the president said of Lewis:

Mr. Truman was asked if he thought the steel settlements would have been reached and the coal strike called off—at least temporarily—if the Taft-Hartley act had not been hanging over the unions.

The president, who wants the Taft-Hartley law repealed, said he couldn't say. He suggested that the question be put up to management and labor negotiators.

When Ching headed for the White House, he indicated to reporters that he was ready to wash his hands of Lewis, leaving the coal situation on the White House doorstep.

Ching had outlined to the newsmen the whole series of events since he asked Lewis and the operators to a peace meeting.

Ching told reporters he had received this reply to his wire to Lewis:

"Ching. Department Labor, Washington, D. C.

"Your wire. Mine Workers' representation will be in your office 2:30 o'clock Monday.

"Lewis, Chicago, Illinois."

Ching said he had asked Lewis for a "clarification" because he said Lewis' message "appears not to be responsive" to the federal invitation.

The conciliation service said the Lewis telegram, although signed Chicago, had been sent from the Washington office of the United Mine Workers.

All Day Meet By Homemakers

The Walnut Grove Homemakers Club held an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Howard Paige. The morning was spent in tacking a comfort for the hostess. At noon a contributive lunch was served to six members and two visitors.

Due to the absence of the president and vice president, the secretary, Mrs. Paige, called the meeting to order. The devotional leader, Mrs. Dorothy Hefner, read a psalm. Roll call was answered wth a Hallowe'en custom. Mrs. Paige read the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved. A book review, "Under the Lonto Rim," by Zane Gray, was given by Mrs. Hefner. The club decided to raise money for the treasury by having each member pay to cents for each inch of her waist line which is to be brought to the next meeting. Mrs. Paul Harvey, game leader, led in playing a game, with Mrs. J. J. McBride being the winner. Mrs. Wray Schroeder joined the club.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Charles Smethers, November 17.

Some Counties Have Surplus

Survey Suggests Sixteen of Them Reduce Taxes

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 10.—(AP)—At least 16 of Missouri's 109 rural counties should cut taxes because they have big surpluses, the Missouri public expenditure survey recommended today.

The survey, a taxpayers' organization, said these 16 counties have general fund surpluses exceeding 100 per cent of their appropriations:

Benton, New Madrid, Cole, Jefferson, Clay, Saline, Mississippi, Audrain, Johnson, Texas, Ray, Osage, Shelby, Clark, Ralls and Knox.

The biggest surplus is in Benton county, 145 per cent. The survey said a surplus of only about 65 per cent is enough to operate on a cash basis.

Six Have Deficits

In contrast, six counties began their 1949 operating year with general fund deficits—Stoddard, Worth, Wayne, Ripley, Ozark and Reynolds.

More and more counties are levying the constitutional limit of taxes—89 this year compared with 34 five years ago. General fund tax rates among the 109 rural counties averaged 45.4 cents on each $100 assessed valuation, an increase of 1.1 cents over last year and 6.1 cents more than five years ago.

The little class four counties (those with less than $10,000,000 assesesd valuation) are in the worst shape. Their taxes average 5.4 cents more than in class three counties (those with $10,000,000 to $50,000,000 valuation.)

Only one class four county, Crawford, had a general fund rate under the constitutional limit.

On the average, the rural counties got 70 per cent of their general revenue from property taxes, 21 per cent from surplus, six per cent from sales and service, two per cent from state aid and one per cent from licenses.

Forfeit Bonds on Exceeding Speed Limit

The following were arrested on East Twelfth street for excessive speed, Wednesday night and forfeited $10 bonds in police court this morning: Homer Templeton, Hughesville, route 2; Dr. Gray of Kansas City, William K. Wells of Lees Summit, Frances M. Brisco, Kansas, and Glen Young, of Otterville.

Betty Metchalf, 713 West Second street, charged with speeding, was fined $10.

Irwin Rudolph, 321 North Grand avenue, was fined five dollars and Raymond Partrey, Bothwell hotel, fined $10 on charges of soliciting without a permit, Wednesday in Sedalia.

A total of 12 overtime parking bonds of a dollar each were forfeited.

Preliminary Hearing Nov. 26

The preliminary hearing in Magistrate court of John W. Schrewsbury of Kansas City, charged with manslaughter has been continued to November 26.

Shrewsbury was driving one of two cars which collided head-on last Friday evening on U. S. highway 65, three miles south of Sedalia, in which Miss Catherine Fowler, 73, was instantly killed, and Mrs. Annie Stamper, 73, both of 612 South Park avenue, later died, and injured eight others, as a result of the collision.

Husbands Scold if Wives Look Old
Try looking younger this very day—whether your husband scolds or whether you just want to please him. Thousands of wives thrilled, "youthified" by Ostrex. If you, too, look haggard, drawn, worn-out, OLD; aged by tired, rundown condition due solely to blood low in iron, try Ostrex Tonic Tablets today. See if new pep and prettier, YOUNGER looks don't make your husband proud to "show you off." Costs little. New introductory size now only 50c

PILES Hurt Like Sin! But Now I Grin

PLASTI-LINER

Easy to Use Strips

ONE APPLICATION

Makes False Teeth Fit

For the Life of Your Plates

If your plates are loose and slip or hurt, use this amazing, pliable, non-porous strip to refit them yourself, for instant and permanent comfort. It's easy. Just lay this strip on your upper plate or lower plate, then bite and it molds perfectly. Hardens for lasting fit and comfort. Helps stop the embarrassment of slipping, rocking plates or the misery of sore gums. Eat anything and talk freely without fear your teeth will loosen. Ends forever the mess and bother of temporary applications that last only a few hours or months.

Easy to Re-Fit and Tighten False Teeth

PLASTI-LINER is tasteless and odorless. Won't injure your plate. Guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money back. Removable as per directions. Users say: "Until I used Plasti-Liner I used several kinds of liners without success. Now I can eat anything." H. H. M. "My plates are now better fitting than new." R. H. G. Plasti-Liner for one denture $1.25.

Investigation as Vaughan Sees it

Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, President Truman's military aide and a target in the Congressional "five percenter" inquiry, summed up his reaction in this painting, "The Path of Investigation." It will go on exhibit at the Associated American Artists Galleries in New York along with other canvasses by "famous amateurs." Sponsors describe it as a road trailing off into the distance, flanked by pumpkin heads and ending in a trail of smoke and a question mark. (AP Wriephoto).

Tipton

Mrs. E. N. Pizer

Next Monday, November 14, there will be held at the public school building a school and pre-school health clinic sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary with Mrs. H. C. Hume as chairman of the project.

Besides diphtheria inoculations, smallpox vaccinations and typhoid vaccines, there will be dental examinations.

There will be a small charge of 15c for each inoculation or two for 25c.

It is pointed out that children who have had previous inoculations should have booster "shots" at this time.

Mrs. Beatrice Grubb, of Washington, Mo., public health nurse, will be here to assist the local physicians and dentist.

Mrs. E. N. Pizer, who re-entered the St. Joseph hospital in Kansas City a week ago last Monday is continuing to improve.

Maynard White took his father, Alva White, to Kansas City, Saturday, where Mr. White was entered as a patient at St. Luke's hospital. Complications are causing Mr. White to be quite ill.

Miss Clara Dueber was brought home Sunday by her brother, Lawrence, after having been a patient a month at St. Mary's hospital in Jefferson City, where she had undergone a major operation. Miss Clara is able to be up and about the house.

Spending Saturday and Sunday in Kansas City were Mr. and Mrs. K. J. Sieber and daughter, Betty, and Miss Clara Kline. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Dueber, Mrs. Dueber being a sister of Mrs. Sieber and Miss Kline.

Leaving Tipton last Monday, Mayor and Mrs. J. J. Brant, took their son, Cpl. Jerry Brant, as far as Taylorville, Ill., on his trip to New Jersey, where he is with the Air Force medical school. Jerry had been home on a 12-day furlough, Mayor and Mrs. Brant, who were accompanied by Mrs. Brant's sister, Mrs. K. J. Seiber, then went on into Chicago, and then to Milwaukee and Beaver Dam, Wis., visiting an aunt of the mayor at Beaver Dam, Sister Helenwarda,a hospital nurse, After travelling some 1,800 miles Mayor and Mrs. Brant and Mrs. Seiber returned home, Saturday.

Mrs. Leslie Allison is reported as improving at St. Luke's hospital in Kansas City, where she is a patient.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hardy were week-end visitors in Kansas City, Mr. Hardy having a check-up at the Plaza Medical center.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dawson, newlyweds, have returned from a month's honeymoon trip to the west coast. They took the northern route going out and on their return travelled through the south. For the present they are residing with Mrs. Dawson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Stratman, while their farm home east of town is undergoing a series of improvements.

Moving to Tipton from St. Elizabeth are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Oligschaeger and their family of five children. They have purchased the 120-acre improved farm of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mertens, who are now occupying one of the Earl Norman farms.

Mr. and Mrs. Urban Bestgen went to Falls City, Neb., Friday, for a visit with Urban's sister, Sister Ann Leonard, a nurse in Our Lady of Perpetual Help hospital. They came home Sunday morning, stopping enroute at Leavenworth, Kas., to see their daughter, Miss Colette, a student in St. Mary's academy.

Missouri Bride Is Killed In Accident

NAPLES, Fla., Nov. 10—(AP)—A honeymoon trip ended Wednesday in the death of the bride and injury of her husband when their car and a truck collided.

Mrs. John R. Crowley, 18, the former Betty Snook of Mexico, Mo., was killed instantly. Crowley, also 18, of Leon, Kas., received cuts and bruises.

The couple was married last week in Jeffersonville, Ind., and was touring Florida on a wedding trip.

Highway Patrolman W. W. Miller said the accident occurred when Crowley tried to pass a truck and trailer.

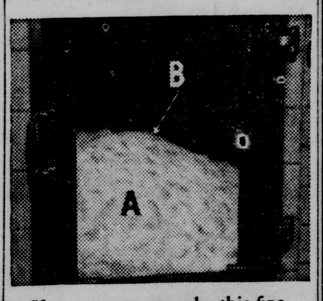
Naturally Smoother...

it's "De-Bitterized"

Read How This Improved, Patented Process Makes a Fine Beer Even Finer!



Here you can see why this fine beer is "Naturally Smoother." During fermentation, dark bitter substances (B) are removed from the beer (A) foaming through the patented equipment.

This shows the bitter substances taken from the beer during this patented brewing process. Notice its coarseness (C) and thickness (D). You get none of this in Griesedieck Bros. Beer. That's why it's Never Bitter . . . "Naturally Smoother." Try it today.

Good Samaritan Car Aids Drivers

ST. PAUL — (AP) — A modern Good Samaritan is travelling the midwestern highways today "looking for trouble." Helping travelers in any sort of trouble is the special job of Connie St. Mane in his "safety and courtesy car," equipped with the most up-to-date supplies for first-aid to man and motor.

In addition to a stretcher and medical aids, St. Mane carries such additional help for the stranded motorist as: Two gallons of gasoline, fuses, jacks, flares, flags, fire extinguishers and tools. He is trained to use them, too, with Red Cross and Boy Scout training in addition to his background as a veteran trucker.

The special red-and-white car travels an average of more than 1000 miles a wek to give help in highway emergencies ranging from full-fledged collisions to changing a tire for a lone woman motorist. "The look on a woman's face when I pull up and ask if I can change a tire for her is pay enough for me," St. Mane says. He makes no charge for any emergency aid. The "courtesy car" is helping make friends for an entire industry, according to its sponsors, the Schirmer Transportation company of St. Paul, Minnesota, operators of a trucking fleet.

Life spans of between 200 and 300 years are normal for the elder duck, giant tortoise, goose, parrot and raven.

Trucks With Poison Gas Collide In St. Joseph

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 10—(AP)—A collision involving one of 15 trucks carrying poison gas for the U. S. Army caused the worst traffic jam in St. Joseph's history Wednesday.

Four persons were injured in the collision. None of the gas containers was broken, although the truck was knocked 42 feet by the impact from a furniture company delivery truck at a downtown intersection.

It took police two hours to untangle the traffic tieup.

Scientists have estimated that in six months the progency of a single pair of houseflies could exceed 100 quintillion.

Pictures and anniversaries go hand in hand. It is only natural, therefore, if we take a look at the photographic picture of the U. S. Marine Corps on its 174th anniversary. On Nov. 10, 1775 the Corps was created by the Continental Congress. Its history has been the fighting history of this country.

Like the other armed services, the marine corps trains and maintains a photographic division. From a World War II peak of 600 officers and men, today its personnel numbers over 150 photographers and photographic officers. They use all types of equipment from small candid cameras to large aerial cameras and from magazine-loading 16mm cameras to 35mm professional motion picture production outfits.

The selection of a marine for photographic duty is based on his interest in photography and his amateur or professional background as discerned from a military classification questionnaire. Selected recruits are normally assigned to the corps photo school at Camp Pendleton, Cal., for a six months' course in both motion and still photography. A comprehensive schedule adapts the student to take all types of pictures including portraits, amphibious maneuvers, news pictures and photos for intelligence, planning and training purposes.

After this "breaking in" period, further training in aerial or motion picture work might be indicated for some Marines and off they go for specialized schooling. A limited number of others are sent to commercial firms (like newspapers and photo syndicates) for additional training. The others are assigned to a photographic laboratory at a continental or overseas marine corps station. Wherever possible, marine corps photos identify the photographer who took the picture, thereby boosting morale and personal pride.

All still photos and negatives taken by marine corps photographers throughout the world are filed at headquarters in Washington, D.C. The library unit there fills all photo requests from the entire marine corps and interested civilian groups.

The marine corps recognizes photography as a hobby, too. It has provided a place to work in the hobby shops at the major posts and stations of the corps. These shops have dark rooms and include enlargers among the equipment. And courses in photography are available to all regular marines through the marine corps institute, a correspondence school.

All She Wants For Christmas Is a Doll And Soda Pop

SUSAN JUZWIAK and Yuletide target: No more beer for her.

Text and Picture
By Mary C. Flynn
NEA Staff Correspondent

KANSAS CITY, Kas.—(NEA)—When Santa sorts out his mail he will find a letter from a seven-year-old girl who wants only "a doll and some American soda pop."

Susan Juzwiak was only a toddler when she was fed beer regularly in a German labor camp. Her parents gave it to her because there was little food and no milk nor fruit juices.

"I like beer," she exclaims in the same way most American children say, "I like candy."

But no wlittle Susan, who came to America as a Polish Displaced Person last May, is beginning to like the new, strange-tasting soft drinks. She is fascinated by the "pretty water."

* * *

Like hundreds of other former DP children who will experience their first American Christmas, Susan is looking forward to seeing a Yule tree with tinsel and bright lights for the first time. Last Christmas she got a glimpse of a tiny, unlighted tree at the DP camp in Germany. The only "ornaments" were an apple or some articles from a CARE package.

Susan never has owned a doll of her own—at least not in the American sense. An old piece of fabric, tied with a string and crudely embroidered "face," was the only "dollie" she ever had.

If Susan doesn't get just the kind of doll she wants from Santa, she'll understand. Her father, the only one in the family household who is employed, explained that Santa also must bring gifts for the five adults and Susan's 12-year-old sister, Christine, all of whom occupy the same four-room apartment in Kansas City.

Susan's father, Walter Juzwiak, a veterinarian, worked for a month as a dishwasher in Philadelphia, but now is a U. S. meat inspector in a Kansas City packing plant.

Little Susan was only 18 months old when her family was forced by the Germans to leave their home in Stanislawow in what was Poland before 1939 and now is known as the Soviet Ukraine.

Child Strangles In Crawling Through Hole

SIBLEY, Mo., Nov. 10—(AP)—Four-year-old Mary Marie Stewart died of strangulation at her home here.

Her head was caught while she tried to crawl through a hole in the wall of a shed.

The mother, Mrs. Jesse L. Stewart, found the child wedged tightly in the hole about 10 minutes after Mary left the house. Mrs. Stewart said Mary had climbed through the hole many times.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have five other children.

Silver Returned for Food Packages

CUMBERLAND, Md., — (AP) — A grateful Englishman is making his collection of Victorian and Georgian table silver available to Mayor Thomas S. Post.

E. J. Dennis, of London, wrote the mayor for food packages from Cumberland and saying he was anxious to dispose of the collection.

Dennis said he would send a few of the valuable items to interested Cumblanders on approval. He is asking no cash payment.

Baby Born on Train

Ben Duncan flagged the Southern Pacific's Sunset Limited to a stop near Buckeye, Ariz. He couldn't get his car started and his wife had a fast approaching date with the stork. Mrs. Duncan, 31, loaded aboard the train, gave birth to a 6 lb., 6 oz, baby girl, her fourth child, in a chair car while the train was enroute to Phoenix. Here she is shown being removed from the train after its arrival. Mother and child are both doing well. (AP Wirephoto)

Governor Dewey Says Senator Dulles' Showing Administration Setback

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 10—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said Wednesday Senator John Foster Dulles' showing in yesterday's election was a "setback" for President Truman's administration.

Dewey told a news conference he based his belief on the fact that Dulles, defeated Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, "ran well ahead of local tickets all over the state."

The CORN BORER Has Become A Real MENACE!

"The European corn borer has become established in all counties of North Missouri and as far south as Highway 50," according to a bulletin published by the College of Agriculture, University of Missouri.
Conditions favorable to the borer caused an alarming increase in 1949, according to farmers checking their own and neighborhood fields.

Many of these farmers are changing to Peppard Funk G Hybrids because of evidence they find of their resistance to corn borer.

NOW IS THE TIME to check corn for resistance to corn borer damage. It's easy when you know how. Peppard's corn research department has prepared a simple bulletin telling you what to look for and how to look.

Sam Engel Gets Ten Years For Swindle

"A Virtual Death Sentence" Says Defense Attorney

CHICAGO, Nov. 10—(AP)—A lonely old man, Sigmund (Sam) Engel Wednesday was sentenced to from two to 10 years in prison for a love swindle. His attorney called it "a virtual death sentence."

The 74 year old international confidence man, who ran out on scores of women victims after winning their hearts and money, was all alone when he heard the bad news.

"Only True Love" Leaves

Mrs. Pauline Langton, 39 year old New York widow whom Engel called his "only true love" was no longer at his side.

The pint-sized Romeo later told newsmen he hadn't seen or heard from Mrs. Langston since last Saturday. A spokesman at the Commodore Hotel, where she had been staying, said she checked out Saturday without leaving a forwarding address.

Engel's attorney, Allen R. Bloch, argued fruitlessly for a new trial.

"This man is old," he said. "His days are over. Why be vindictive? He can't harm anyone anymore. A year for him is like 10 for a younger man."

Master Of "Con Men"

But Assistant State's Attorney James A. Brown, who asked for a nine to 10 year sentence, called Engel "the master con man of his time."

Engel showed no sign of emotion as Judge George M. Fisher denied a new trial and passed sentence. He silently searched the courtroom with tired eyes, apparently looking for Mrs. Langton.

Judge Fisher granted the baggy-eyed Engel a 60 day stay so he can appeal to the Illinois supreme court. The prisoner was returned to the county jail.

McKENNEY Answers Your CANASTA Questions

BY WILLIAM C. McKENNEY

America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

In today's article John R. Crawford and I continue our discussion of what happens in connection with the penalty cards when you make an insufficient initial meld.

Question: Our side has 1600 on on the score, which means that we need 90 points for an initial meld. Thinking that I have 90 points, I put down 3 kings, 2 queens and a deuce and 3 five-spots. Before I discard, one of the opponents call sattention to the fact that I have only 85 down. I have no more melds in my hand. I discard one of the five spots and the other eight cards remain face up on the table as penalty cards. My partner has three nines. At his turn to play, can he put down the 3 nines and use my 3 kings, 2 queens and deuce to fulfill the initial meld requirement for our side?

Answer: No. Although your penalty cards are down on the table, bear in mind that they are not melded. They are left face up on the table so the opponents can see what your penalty cards are, but they must be treated as if they were still in your hand. If you had 3 kings, 2 queens and a deuce in your hand, your partner could not reach over and take them out of your hand and meld 3 nines with them, could he?

Question: My 8 penalty cards are face up on the table. At my partner's turn to play, he melds 90 points. He has an extra five-spot in his hand. Can he play this on my 2 fives?

Answer: No, he cannot. Once again, although the 2 fives are down on the table, they are penalty cards and must be treated as if they were in your hand.

Question: If my partner makes a legal initial meld are my penalty cards automatically melded, or do I have to meld them when it is my turn to play?

Answer: No, they are not automatically melded, and you do not have to meld them at your next turn to play. You are privileged to meld the 3 kings if you want to. If you do not meld them, they are still exposed cards subject to penalty. You may if you wish meld the 2 queens and the deuce, but you do not have to do so. If your partner has melded 3 fives, you can play your 2 fives on his fives. You may add the deuce to the fives or to any other meld he has made. In other words, you do not have to meld the two queens with the deuce; but if you do not meld the queens, they are still exposed cards subject to penalty.

Question: My 8 penalty cards are still on the table. Suppose that at my next turn to play, I draw a ten, and I have 2 other tens in my hand. Can I meld these 3 tens, together with the 3 kings, 2 queens and deuce, and fulfill the requirement of 90 points for my initial meld?

Answer: Yes, but you cannot then pick up the 2 fives. Unless you pick up another five, the 2 fives remain penalty cards and you must discard one of them.

Question: I put down 3 kings, 2 queens and a deuce and 3 five-spots, and I discard a seven. Now the next player calls my attention to the fact that I have put down only 85 points instead of the 90 points I need for an initial meld. Am I allowed to pick up my seven-spot?

Answer: You cannot pick up the seven spot and put it back in your hand or on the table, even though it is an exposed card. You have completed your play and you can do nothing at this point about making your meld sufficient or changing your discard. However, at your next turn to play you may do anything you wish with the nine penalty cards. You may add a deuce or any other card to them, or change them around and add other cards in order to make a sufficient meld. Any of the exposed cards that are not used in completing the minimum initial meld must remain as penalty cards and be discarded in order at your first opportunity.

Question: I have eight penalty cards down. At my partner's turn he makes a legal minimum meld. On the next play, his left-hand opponent goes out. Does my penalty cards count in our meld or do they count as though they were in my hand?

Answer: They count as though they were in your hand, because penalty cards have to be face up on the table, have never been melded.

Divorced Parents To Funeral Of Son

ADRIAN, Mich., Nov. 10—(AP)—Eight-year-old Glenn Rose, Jr., slain by his angered little brother, was buried Wednesday. His divorced parents looked on in silent grief.

The father, Glenn, Sr., and the mother, Mrs. Floyd Sager, came and went separately. During the services they did not speak to each other.

They bowed their heads when the Rev. Douglas Hines quoted the words on the Biblical David-mourning for his lost son—"my son, my son!"

Six-year-old Dickie Rose, who said he shot his brother "because he hit him and I got mad," did not know of the service. He was kept at the Neuropsychiatric Institute in Ann Arbor, where he was taken soon after the slaying Sunday in Milan.

Mrs. Sager, recently remarried, was divorced from Rose last January.

Young Glenn was buried in the Maple Grove cemetery at Hudson, where the family formerly lived.

S-C Tigers to Try for CEMO Championship

Local Gridders Meet Mexico There Friday Afternoon

Friday is the big day for the Smith-Sotton Tigers when they meet Mexico Military Academy in a conference game played at Mexico that afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Following the game, the Tigers will either be the champions of the Central Missouri Conference or they will have tied for first place with Columbia, providing the Kewpies down the Kemper Yellowjackets, Friday.

The Mexico Colonels are holding third place in the conference, and this tilt will be one of the toughest for the Tigers this year, as the Mexico team will outweigh the Tigers 20 pounds to the man, according to Coach Ralph Dow of the Smith-Cotton Tigers.

In Good Shape

Coach Dow said the boys are in pretty good shape, although there were still some injuries; however, he said they look better now than they hve all season. Ace quarterback, Gene Dowdy, who has carried a knee injury for several weeks , is still not completely recovered from the ailment, but he can be expected to play full time in the event his passing and running attacks are needed.

The Tigers have had two weeks of idleness, the team having an open date last Friday. Last week, they went through light practice, but all this week, the coach has sent the Tigers through rigid maneuvers, working on the Colonels' defense, running the team through Mexico's plays and passes. The local gridders were scheduled for a light workout today.

Depart Friday Morning

Friday morning, 29 Tiger footballers, Coaches Dow and Howard Glavin and manager Cecil Monsees will leave in a S-C bus from the high school at 9:00 o'clock.

The Tigers' starting lineup will be. Myron Herrick, le; Billy Wheeler, lt; Lloyd Young, lg; Donnie Dowdy, c; Delbert Bryant, rg; Charles Phillips, rt; Leo Eickhoff, re; Gene Dowdy, qb; Donald Pummell, rhb; Dale Ruffin, lhb; and Bob Ray, fb.

Rickey Approves Anti-Bonus Rule

By Joe Reichler

NEW YORK Nov. 10—(AP)—Anti-bonus rule magnates have gained another ally in Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Rickey said he will vote to kill the rule at the annual major league sessions in New York next month. But he added a stipulation.

"The Pittsburgh amendment, as it is now offered, I shall vote for," he said. "It kills all present bonus restrictions. It wipes out all provisions.

"However, another amendment must be passed. This would restrict minor league clubs from giving players part of their purchase price."

It is Rickey's contention that a big league club or its affiliates can't compete in the bidding for a player against an independent minor league club that "promises a player 50 per cent of the money received upon his sale to a big league outfit."

Rickey said he will also vote in favor of the National league's three-game playoff in the event of a penannt tie at the end of the regular season.

"I don't believe in the American league's one-game 'sudden death' playoff," he said.

Judge Folta Wonders If He Got The Bear

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 9—(AP)—Federal Judge George W. Folta is considered hereabouts as almost as much of an authority on hunting as on law. He has always maintained that 99 times out of 100 a bear will run when a human shouts at it.

Back from a hunting trip yesterday, Folta told of a big she bear which came out of the brush toward him as he stood in a clearing. Remember his "law," the judge yelled. The bear rushed toward him.

When the animal was only 10 feet away, Folta fired once and the bear fell dead at his feet. The shot had penetrated under the chin and apparently broke the animal's neck.

"It was a lucky shot and if it hadn't been good, I guess I wouldn't be telling about it," Foltz declared, then he mused:

"Wonder if that law's no good —or if I got the 100th bear."

Fans Disagreed To 50-50 Fight

DETROIT, Nov. 10 — (AP) — Young Lester Felton of Detroit, who is fast becoming one of the most controversial figures in boxing, was back in the headlines today — this time because he did not win a fight.

The 20-year-old Negro welterweight zoomed into national prominence Oct. 21 when he got an unpopular decision over Kid Gavilan of Cuba in a fight here that touched off probes by the state boxing commission and the police.

Felton returned to ring warfare last night and wound up with a ten-round draw at Olympia stadium with rough Tony Pellone of New York.

Most of the 8,967 fans and the newspapermen thought Felton had won.

Judges Johnny Webber and Lou Jallos each called it a 50-50 fight, while Referee Clarence Rosen voted for Felton by a 54-46 margin. Under Michigan rules, explained by boxing commission chairman Floyd Stevens, that was a draw.

The Associated Press scorecard showed Felton a 52-48 winner, and fight writer Charlie Ward of the Detroit Times had an identical figure. Tommy Devine of the Detroit Free Press called it 53-47 for Felton.. Sam Greene of the Detroit News called five rounds for each fighter, but said "Felton won his rounds by bigger majorities and it was his fight."

Kramer as Again The Opponent For Gonzales

Gonzales has been able to win only three of 10 matches with Kramer so far.

Last night, Kramer turned the trick at the community center in White Plains, N. Y., in straight sets, 8-6, 6-3.

College for Builders

CHICAGO — (AP) — Bricklayers and carpenters may start out in the years ahead with college diplomas as well as trowels and hammers. Martin C. Huggett, executive vice president of the Chicago Metropolitan Home Builders Association, says: "Approximately 30 colleges and universities throughout the country include light construction courses as part of their curriculum."

Scores 26 Touchdowns For Total Of 156 Points

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 10—(AP)—A 19-year-old sophomore full back for Little Rock Junior college claimed the national junior collegiate football scoring leadership. He is Harold Waggoner who in eight games has tallied 26 touchdowns for a total of 156 points.

Waggoner, a 175-pounder from North Little Rock, Ark., is a 60-minute man. He is a defensive standout as well as a triple threat on offense.

His coach, Jimmy Karam, says he's one of the fastest men in football. He runs the 100-yard dash consistently at 9.6 seconds.

The Little Rock Jaycee squad has bowled over eight straight opponents—six of them senior college squads—by lop-sided scores. Two games remain of the 1949 schedule.

Sooner Back Is Nation's Top Scorer

Geo. Thomas Needs Two Touchdowns to Establish a Record

By Saul Feldman

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 10—(AP)—George Thomas went to the University of Oklahoma to become a sports writer, but now is making football headlines.

Thomas leads the nation's scorers among maqor colleges with 87 points.

The blond speedster was a good high school player at Fairland, Okla. He wanted to take journalism at Oklahoma, but had to sidetrack his sports writing ambitions because of too much curricular work.

He enrolled in business management and has found that he can keep up his regular class work and still devote time to football.

Coach Made Happy

This has made Coach Bud Wilkinson a happy man.

The halfback isn't an impressive looking runner, but his flat-footed style makes him hard to stop.

In Oklahoma's opening game, Thomas returned the opening kickoff against Boston College 95 yards. Against Texas, he broke loose for 40 yards.

He has carried the ball 84 times this season for 536 yards. Four of his touchdowns have come after receiving passes.

Thomas, a senior, has a chance to set a new Big Seven Conference scoring record. He needs only 11 points to tie the all-time mark of 98 set by Missouri's Bob Steuber in 1942.

Oklahoma has games left with Missouri, Santa Clara and the Oklahoma Aggies.

Barring injury, it seems cetrain Thomas will make two touchdowns. But he will have to do it quickly.

With Oklahoma's 300-yard a game rushing offense which has generated 17 straight victories, the first team isn't used more than a half.

Thomas is quick to point out that most of the credit should go to the Sooners' rugged forwards, especially right tackle Wade Walker and right guard Stan West.

Walker has led interference for Oklahoma right halfbacks to conference ground gaining honors the past three years—Joe Golding in 1946, George Brewer in 1947 and Thomas last year.

Wilkinson terms him the most powerful man for his size—177 pounds—on the team.

Hubbard High Homecoming This Friday

Pep Rally Set For Tonight, Football Game Friday 2 p. m

Football spirit will run high at Hubbard high school for the next two days.

The Hubbard high school Tigers will meet the Douglass high school Tigers of Columbia, Missouri, to determine what you might call the championship between small Negro schools. Hubbard and Douglass are the only schools of their size that participate in the fall sports.

Program For Tourney

Plans have been made by the high school students for the following activities:

Pep-rally including bon-fire, snake dance, songs, and funeral, for the Columbia Tigers, at Hubbard high school at 7:30 p. m.

Friday:

1:00 p. m. Homecoming parade —several floats will appear in the parade and it promises to be the best parade ever presented to the public by Hubbard high school. There will be special cars in the parade for all alumni.

2:00 p. m. Columbia versus Hubbard at Liberty Park.

Band demonstration and crowning Queen, Miss Patricia Winston.

Homecoming Dance

8:00 p. m. Homecoming Dance at Liberty Park.

The spirit of the students is high and all are helping to build floats and painting signs with zest to make the 1949 Armistice Homecoming the biggest day of the year.

As for the players, Coach Broadus brings his boys up to this game with a record of four won and two lost mark.

Columbia will present a fighting squad against Hubbard and will be a tough foe to defeat.

Hubbard's last win displayed it had finally developed into a machine instead of a bunch of individual stars.

• Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10—(AP)—There's going to be an all-out effort to dispose of baseball's annoying bonus rule at the December meetings, but it may run into a little opposition. . . . Branch Rickey says he won't vote for the "Pittsburgh amendment" wiping out all bonus restrictions unless the old rule is restored which prohibits a minor league club from giving a player part of the purchase price when he is sold. . . .Rickey explains that transfers within a chain generally are player trades involving only nominal sums, so they can't make similar offers. . . . So it would be "murder" to allow independently owned clubs that privilege. . . . The original purpose of the bonus rule, of course, was to discourage offering ridiculous sums to untried kids. It didn't work. . . . Few, if any, independents can match the bonuses which major league clubs will hand out to boys who will immediately be farmed out. Seems like it would only be giving the independents a fair break to let them make another kind of offer. . . . But Branch apparently wants all the breaks to favor his side.

Sports Before Your Eyes

George Munger has ordered scrimmage for his Penn footballers every day this week in preparation for the Army game. . . . And how about a fast workout with the light bag? . . . Billy Key, the clever young Georgia golfer, has transferred from Washington and Lee to Rollins college in Florida, where he can play golf the year round. . . . When Northwestern's Bob Voigts became tearful over the departure of Alex Sarkisian because "they'll run us up the middle," the experts thought it was an act. But Northwestern's last three opponents have gained 798 yards through the line. . . . Pat Egan of the Rangers has played 200 consecutive National Hockey league games since Feb. 23, 1946. . . . Slightly bitter over Jim Gallagher's criticism of Branch Rickey's farm produce, one Dodger employe points out that Branch, Jr., set up the system for Larry MacPhail in 1939 so you can call any player from a Brooklyn farm a Rickey product.

Quote, Unquote

John Barnhill, Arkansas coach: "If you lose less than half your games in baseball, you've had a good season and finish in the first division. In football you have to win them all."

Branch Rickey: "Duke Snider is better than he was last spring and will be continuously better, but he is not great yet. He's got a distance to go." . . . Burt Shotton: "You don't need 20 game pitchers to win. I've found out that you can win without them."

Scouting Report

Larry "Moon" Mullins, St. Ambrose college coach, claims Joe Lucas is a better football player this season than when he earned little All America mention as a tackle last fall. But he's playing defensive end and offensive guard now.

Pigskin Pickins

Columbia vs. Navy — If victoy is pat of Columbia's fate, it will come to Little much too late.

Oklahoma vs. Missouri — Oklahoma and Darrell Royal will cause Missouri's blood to boil.

Minnesota vs. Pittsburgh — Pittsburgh's Panthers ain't got the anthwers.

California vs. Oregon — California will make a score when it digs down in the mines for Ore.

Shorts and Shells

Promoter Thomas Patrick Gorman of the "skating sensations" is feuding with his star, Barbara Ann Scott, and her mother over a personal non-appearance in Edmonton. . . . Art Wall, the Duke university golfer from Honesdale, Pa., who has made 28 holes-in-one, has decided to turn pro and will serve his six months probation period before going after the cash in PGA tournaments.

One Grid Rule Is Cause Of Bad Relations

A Hand Blocking Rule Costs Team 15-Yard Penalties

By Gayle Talbot

NEW YORK, Nov. 10—(AP)—An innocent-looking little paragraph on page 44 of the football rules book for 1949 appears to be the cause of more strained relations than usual between officials and coaches this season.

Scarcely a weekend passes that some overwrought mentor does not accuse a group of officials of having robbed him blind. Penalties are up and so are blood pressures. All because article 4 (the little joker) says:

"When a teammate of the runner uses a hand or forearm in blocking or to supplement a shoulder or chest block the hand must be in contact with the body during the entire block."

Poor Offensive Lineman

Know what that means? Only that the poor offensive lineman, who always has taken a wicked mauling from the unfettered defense, now is even further restricted. He can't even rooster-fight this year without incurring a 15-yard penalty.

Once he was permitted to lock his hands and flail around pretty good with his elbows. Then last year, the locked hands were abolished and it was decreed that the offensive blocker had to keep his hands "near" his body. This year the rules makers went whole hog.

Now the only way the poor bloke who is trying to carve a hole for a ball-carrier can make certain of avoiding "illegal use of hands" is to take a firm grip on his jersey with either paw when a play starts and hold on for dear life until it ends.

Watch Those Hands

If a hand slips loose and an official sees it—whambo—15 yards. That usually happens just after a team mate has run 83 yards for a score. That was what Coach Frank Leahy was raving about earlier in the season, after Notre Dame's win over Washington.

Difficulty is, of course, that certain officials are enforcing the new rule more closely, more literally, than others. The yelps are coming, mainly, from coaches who have been bitten by a zealot.

Asa Bushnell, the czar of eastern football who appoints officials for 20 to 30 games each week, said the new "tightening-up-rule as he calls it, has brought a great many more penalties, though he doesn't yet know the exact percentage of increase.

Request Strict Enforcement Of Grid Rule

Coaches Like Rule Restricting Elbow Blocking

By Will Grimsley

NEW YORK, Nov. 10—(AP)—College coaches not only like the new football rule restricting elbow blocking but most of them want it more rigidly enforced.

"If there's any hollering about the increase in penalties the coaches brought it on themselves," said Lou Little of Columbia, chairman of the coaches rules committee, today. "They were all for it.

"In fact, we sent letters to the various conference commissioners requesting strict enforcement. We feel it's a fine rule and will cut down rough play and injuries."

Rule Stipulates

The rule stipulates that when an offensive player uses a hand or forearm in blocking the hand must stay in contact with the body.

Once the block could lock his hands and flail away, rooster fashion. The locked hands were barred last year and the regulations were changed to say the hands should stay "near" the body.

Now there must be a contact all the way. If the hand slips and it is detected, it's a 15-yard penalty.

Penalties are on the rise and the emphasis on horn-tooting has brought beefs from some of the mentors. The stricter blocking rule is blamed.

Short of Complaints

But a cross-country sampling of coaches, opinion by the Associated Press today showed almost everybody for the rule and a shortage of complaints.

"I think the rule is perfectly all right," commented Minnesota's Bernie Bierman. "I don't think the officials are calling violations too close and in some cases are not calling them close enough."

Lynn Waldorf of California and Marchy Schwartz of Stanford were others who approved.

There were no outright objections but a lukewarm attitude toward the rule was reflected by Herman Hickman of Yale, Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma and Jim Tatum of Maryland.

Hickman Declares

Hickman said he's not "heatedly for or against it" but he believes it can be overemphasized. Officials should overlook cases where the blockers hands fly out from the body inadvertently and should crack down only when intent is involved, big Herman declared.

Wilkinson declared it's unfortunate the violation is called sometimes when it doesn't have a bearing on the outcome of the game. "It's a step in the right direction, though," he added.

Tatum would like to see the rule changed so that hands may be taken away from the chest and penalties imposed for "striking motions with arms, fists and elbows." He favors the spirit of the regulation he said, but it's hard to enforce.

Coach Faurot Speaks Up

Missouri Don Faurot wants the rule kept on the books and enforced. There were "plenty of uppercuts" before, he said, and some teams still "get away with murder."

Plays Ice Hockey With Broken Leg

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19—(AP)—Center Cliff Simpson, scorer of the St. Louis Flyers of the American (Hockey) league, didn't know it at the time but he played in four games with a broken leg.

And during that time he scored two goals and was credited with an assist.

He was injured Oct. 27 in a game at New Haven, Conn. and thought he had sprained an ankle. He couldn't understand why the ankle continued to pain him when he removed tape from it after each game.

An X-ray examination after Simpson returned to St. Louis this week cleared up the mystery. He has a bone fracture two inches above the ankle.

Dr. Robert F. Hyland put the leg in a cast, and Simpson is on crutches. He probably will be out of action for three or four weeks.

WICHITA, Kas. — Alvin Williams, 161, Wichita, stopped Eddie Miller, 159, Dayton, Ohio, 8 rounds.

DETROIT — Lester Felton, 146½, Detroit and Tony Pellone, 145½, New York, drew 10 rounds.

A Dim View For Tigers Over Sooners

Faurot Fretted Over Condition Of His Squad

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10—(AP)—The Kansas State Wildcats, who have already achieved their best record in Big Seven conference football since 1944, hope to take another step forward Saturday.

The Wildcats play Oklahoma A. & M. at Manhattan, Kas., in a non-conference game.

Kansas State won two games in 1944, beating the University of Kansas 18-14 in the last game of that season. But then they failed to win another conference game until Oct. 1 of this year when they beat Colorado 27-13 at home.

Coach Ralph Graham's 'Cats also won over Fort Hays State in the 1949 opener, giving them two victories thus far in the season. They'll play Tulsa in Oklahoma City Nov. 19 and Missouri at Columbia on Thanksgiving day before calling it quits for the year.

Chance For Wildcats

Although fairly well beaten down in manpower, the Wildcats figure to have at least an outside chance against both Oklahoma A. & M. and Tulsa. The loss of fullback Gerald Hackney due to injury three weeks ago has taken steam from the offense, but the Wildcats' sophomores still have the desire to win.

At another Big Seven camp, Coach Don Faurot took a dim view of his Missouri Tigers' chances of beating undefeated Oklahoma at Columbia, Mo., Saturday. Oklahoma can clinch its second Big Seven title by beating the Tigers.

Frets Over Sooners Power

Faurot fretted over the condition of his squad and the overall power of Oklahoma. Nick Carras and Mike Ghnouly, ace defensive backs, have failed to respond to treatment for injuries and neither is expected to play much against the Oklahomans.

Nebraska and Iowa State continued to work hard for their conference game at Ames, Iowa. Nebraska drilled against the type of pass plays they expect Iowa State quarterback Bill Weeks — Big Seven leader — to throw against them.

Iowa State, at top strength, worked until dark and then moved indoors under the lights for signal drill and calisthenics. Saturday will be Coach Abe Stuber's birthday and he wants to have his boys in condition to give him a present.

The Colorado Buffaloes will depart tomorrow for Albuquerque, N. M., where they hope to avenge a defeat handed them last season by New Mexico university. Kansas has an open date.

Republican Party Warned By Stassen

It Must "Rebuild" To Serve The People If It's To Avoid Defeat

By The Associated Press

Harold E. Stassen warned the Republican party yesterday (Wednesday) that it must "rebuild" to serve the people if it is to avoid defeats such as those it suffered Tuesday and in 1948.

While Democrats from President Truman down viewed Tuesday's off-year state and municipal voting as portending further victories in 1950, Stassen conceded his party "is in a bad way."

In an informal speech before the National Press Club in Washington, the former Minnesota governor—who now heads the University of Pennsylvania—said the results in New York and elsewhere "reemphasized the very serious nature of our defeat in 1948."

He said the Republicans must reorganize both policies and organization and bury intra-party differences in both the foreign and domestic fields. Specifically Stassen said they should accomplish this by:

Must Accomplish Points

1—Opposing what he called the "gravy train" or "give-away" approach of the Truman administration on domestic programs. "If you take away the incentive to produce and the penalty for loafing, then you are on the road to ruin," he said.

2—Advocating a bi-partisan foreign policy "with vigorous participation in the affairs of all the world."

3—Giving volunteer groups a place in the regular campaign organization, and younger victorious candidates some influence in party councils.

Nearly complete returns yesterday (Wednesday) showed the Democrats won not only the top prize in Tuesday's voting—the U. S. senatorship from New York—but the only two house seats that were at stake, in Brooklyn and San Francisco, and far-flung city elections.

"Vote Of Confidence"

President Truman interpreted the results as a vote of confidence in his "fair deal." He said it would have a "very decided effect on the election in 1950" when control of Congress will be at stake.

Guy Gabrielson, the Republican national chairman, said in a statement that the principles which Republican Senator John F. Dulles expounded in his campaign "are those which ultimately will prevail because they are right."

Dulles concentrated his drive against centralization of power in the federal government. His victorious opponent, Herbert H. Lehman, came out for most of the "fair deal."

While Herbert H. Lehman's Senate victory started New York Democrats looking hopefully for a candidate for governor next year, Republicans debated whether Gov. Dewey was knocked out of the picture by his support of the defeated Dulles.

Stassen, Dewey's opponent for the Republican presidential nomination in 1948, was asked during a question-and-answer period after his press club talk whether the Dulles defeat eliminated Dewey politically.

His Audience Chuckles

"I would say," Stassen replied after a pause, "that no individual election every completely eliminated anyone."

Then as the audience chuckles, he added:

"Sometimes they have a marked trend in that direction."

Stassen side-stepped a question involving whether he himself will run for the presidential nomination in 1952.

Asked whether General Eisenhower will be his chief opponent for the nomination, Stassen said:

"That is a loaded, double-barreled question. I hope you ask me that two years from now."

Late returns from Tuesday's voting showed that Pennsylvania had voted about three to one for a $500,000,000 veterans' bonus. A referendum on a $105,000,000 bond issue to finance a bonus was still in doubt in New Jersey, with opposition having a slight edge.

Student Pilot Forgets Wings

SAN MONICA, Calif., Nov. 10 (AP)—With unvarying precision, student pilots wheeled their Douglas AD-1 Skyraiders down the taxi-way at Charleston, R. I., for simulated carrier takeoffs.

The routine was the same for each, taxi, lower the folded wings, zoom into the air.—But, what's this?

At 2,500 feet the plane finally left the runway and began to climb. At 250 feet altitude it banked steeply ot the left and plunged into a clump of trees.

"What happened?" queried the dazed pilot when the rescue crew freed his scratched and bruised body from the demolihed aircraft.

"Nothing much," he was told. "You just forgot to unfold your wings."

Details of this feat were contained in official reports received at Douglas El Segundo (Calif.) plant from a Douglas service representative and were confirmed by the Navy.

It is the only known instance of an aircraft becoming airborne with its wings in the folded position, a necessity to save space aboard carriers.

Billy Baskette Composer Died Tuesday Night

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10—(AP)—Billy Baskette, 64, composer-pianist whose tunes included "Goodby Broadway, Hello France," and "Waiting For The Evening Mail," died Tuesday night after a prolonged illness.

The musician, whose full name was William James Baskette, was born in Henderson, Ky. His widow, Julia, survives.

Other Baskette songs were "Dream Queen," "The Lone Ranger" "Talkin' To The Moon" and "Garden of Allah."

Wrong Radio May Caused Fatal Crash

Federal Inquiry In Plane Crash Which Cost Lives Of 55

By James J. Strebig

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10—(AP)—A youn airport traffic controller admitted at a federal inquiry Wednesday possibility of using the wrong radio channel when he tried to prevent an air collision which cost 55 lives.

The testimony came from Glenn D. Tigner, 21, one of several operators in the Washington National Airport control tower Nov. 1 when a war surplus P-38 fighter ripped through an Eastern Airlines DC-4, killing all aboard. Erick Rios Bridoux, Bolivian civil aviation director and pilot of the P-38, survived the wild plunge into the Potomac river, but was seriously injured.

Six-Man Panel Hear Evidence

The six-man panel set up by the civil aeronautics board to hear testimony of 50 witnesses. did not reach the point at which Rios' story, told to investigators in a hospital interview, will be read The seventh witness was on the stand when the hearing recessed overnight.

Tigner was questioned for two and a half hours about the ten-minute period that elapsed between Rios' takeoff for a test flight around the field and the moment the fighter slashed into the big transport. Both planes were coming in to land at the time and the accident occurred just as the Airline pilot began to turn away at Tigner's warning.

Investigators brought out that Tigner had to use one radio channel to talk to Rios and another to Captain George Ray of the Airliner. The channel is selected by pushing buttons.

Tigner was asked whether it was "possible you were on the wrong frequency?" to be heard by Rios.

"It is possible, yes," Tigner said.

Some Stories Differ

Maj. German Pol, Bolivia's official representative who was on the field at the time, said he saw the DC-4 "pulling up and to the left x x x. Right at this moment the accident happened x x x."

Both Tigner and Robert B. Union, a control operator who watched the collision through field glasses, said the fighter appeared to be slightly to the right of the DC-4 when the airline pilot applied power, leveling off from a descending position, and then turned left just as the fighter hit.

Testimony indicated concern over condition of the plane, which the Bolivian government was buying from a Washington firm.

Pol said Rios had refused to fly it on three occasions before the tragic flight, insisting each time on repairs.

Did Much For Beauty And Public Service

Some of the many achievements of Hilliard Brewster, who passed away Monday morning in Sedalia are epitomized in a letter concerning him received by the management of the Terry hotel from F. H. Chambers, of Kansas City, a close friend.

The letter says in part:

"Had Hillard Brewster turned his artistic talents into the business world for profit he would have been a rich man; but, his rewards have always come from the satisfaction which he and his appreciative friends, a few of whom survive to gratefully recall his gratuity in public services, generally far beyond any monetary reward."

"Our public memory is prone to be father short and, indeed, when a modest public servant reaches the ripe age of 83 years there are only a few who actually know of his endless contributions to the public weal who are left to tell of his benefactions, no matter how much his services may have been valued at one time."

"At one time he developed the grounds of the boys' home in Boonville until they became the pride of the entire state."

"During Governor Hyde's administration he was called to Jefferson City, in charge of the green houses for penal institutions. With no extra compensations he landscaped the other state governmental grounds, including the new state capitol group of buildings. He was drafted and freely gave of his ability and time to decorate the capitol for at least three generations of our governors."

While at the penal institution that same desire to serve others was frequently evidenced by aid to men whom he thought were good even if misfortune had overtaken them. We do have some worthy citizens in this state who might not have left their "time" there as actually worth while men had it not been for his counsel and friendship.

Put Talents to Use

"During that same period he donated his outstanding talent to the planting of 20,000 trees and shrubs which were donated from 47 states to "commemorate the valor of confederate soldiers and sailors" at Memorial Park, Higginsville. This was typical of the man. He was not of southern parenthood, but he loved his fellow men. He recognized valor."

"There are few if any communities in Missouri, his native state, where some beauty spot along their highways did not originate within his brain."

"No man or woman ever went through the State Highway Department's landscaping exhibits at the state fair annually who is not indebted, I believe, to him for those gorgeous examples of what any community, or home owner, might aspire to and no man can say just how much better off the world becomes for such generosity."

"He loved to make the most of his rare talents, including his voice."

HOLLAND HANKIE—On a "thank you" visit to Memphis, Tenn., Mayor Meine van Veen of Enschede, Holland, displays a souvenir handkerchief made in Holland from mid-South cotton. His audience is Betty Fay McAlister and Hugh Allan, Jr., representatives of all Memphis school children who sent boxes to Enschede after the war.

CHICAGO—(AP)—George Drake and Marion Isbell run restaurants just around the corner from each other. They are competitors. Yet they recently ran a series of six advertisements—three apiece—in Chicago newspapers in which each paid tribute to the other as a good friend and fine neighbor.

One of Isbell's ads set forth: "In order to get along with the rest of the world we must learn to get along with one another—with those in our immediate vicinity, our neighbors. George and I have learned."

County Liable In Medical Cost

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 0—(AP)—When a prisoner is inside the county jail, the county is liable for the cost of medical attention. But should the prisoner escape and break his legs in the effort, he has to pay the bill.

That was the opinion of attorney general J. E. Taylor today in the case of Henry Herbold of Oregon county.

Herbold was being held in the Oregon county jail at Alton on a mixed felony charge. He broke the bars in the window of his third floor cell and tied blankets together for a rope.

The blankets parted as Herbold tried to climb down the outside of the jail. Both his legs were broken and he was taken to a hospital in Springfield. He died there later.

The opinion was written by assistant attorney general Stephen J. Millet for Percy W. Gullic, prosecuting attorney of Oregon county.

Millett wrote that the county is not liable for the costs of Herbold's hospitalization but if his estate is insufficient to meet the bill, the county could pay it.

Use of pumice and pumicite reached a record 607,746 tons in the U. S. in 1948.

GOP Bickering Contributed to Bare Campaign Cupboard

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Resignation of isolationist insurance man James Kemper as treasurer of the GOP national committee was dressed up in a high-sounding smoke-screen about foreign policy in order to cover up a bitter personal GOP feud. Actually, his resignation was handed in one hour after Guy Gabrielson of New Jersey became the new national chairman last August, but it was agreed to delay the announcement until the political horizon was calmer.

Kemper's exit puts the spotlight on some red faces and raw nerves inside the GOP committee, which probably will be smoothed over now that he is out. Although Kemper talked big about lack of funds in the GOP treasury, real fact is that he was never much of a money-raiser. The best GOP money-raiser was the man Kemper and Dewey ousted as GOP national finance chairman after the 1948 convention—Walter Hope.

Hope, an able New York lawyer, learned of his resignation by reading it in the morning papers, and his friends claim that the shock was responsible for his death a month or so later. Hope left in the treasury a surplus of $800,000 after the Philadelphia convention.

He was replaced by bourbon prince Harold Talbot, eager aspirant to the court of St. James, whose family had almost ordered their clothes for their presentation to the king—when they heard the news of Dewey's defeat. Between January 1949 and August 4, when GOP Chairman Hugh Scott resigned, Talbot had raised the magnificient sum of $71,000—while Scott and Kemper were spending money at the rate of $80,000 a month.

Talbot's main excuse was that he couldn't collect funds because of the Omaha GOP fight. And when it became apparent that Guy Gabrielson was to be the new chairman, Talbot began a quiet campaign against him, which culminated in a lunch at which he and Gabrielson patched up their differences. That same night, however, Talbot dined with an oil executive who reported back to the new GOP chairman that Talbot had begun his attack all over again.

As a result of all this, GOP finances today are in terrible shape. However, with Sinclair Weeks of Massachusetts now in charge of the national finance committee, they are improving. Johnny Hanes, onetime Democrat and member of the Roosevelt administration, has been appointed vice-chairman, and some of the big contributors already have promised to kick in.

Merry-Go-Round

Some folks were surprised when Senator "Wild Bill" Langer, Republican, praised President Truman, Democrat. But it was this same president who appointed Langer's nephew, Morgan Ford, as judge of the United States Customs court in New York. Ford was an insurance man in North Dakota, a long way from New York. . . . Air Secretary Stuart Symington staged a private poker party for President Truman and cronies last week. The now vanished 70 air groups were not discussed—not even the 58 air groups which have also vanished. . . . Colliers magazine hits the purge of the left-wing CIO unions right on the nose in its advance article by Sam Stavisky. The man responsible for injecting new pep into Colliers is Louis Ruppel, one of FDR's old newspaper pals.

U. S. Steel vs. U. S. Government

While the U. S. Steel corporation was using its influence against a settlement of the strike, it was also trying to increase its tremendous hold on the steel industry through the U. S. government.

Its latest proposed acquisition is a government wartime shipyard at Orange, Texas, which it plans to convert into a factory for making steel pipe for the oil industry. The shipyard was purchased by U. S. Steel's wholly owned subsidiary, Consolidated Steel, upon whose property the yard was built. Then Albert Herbert Bergson, head of the Justice Department's anti-trust division, ruled that this would increase U. S. Steel's monopoly position and would be against the best interests of the USA.

However, this didn't please Congressman J. M. Coombs and other Texas politicos who thereupon pushed a resolution through both houses of Congress authorizing the shipyard facilities to be sold to U. S. Steel.

Once before, Congressional and White House pressure was used to increase U. S. Steel's hold on the industry. After the war, when the government advertised its Geneva, Utah, steel plant for sale, once again the Justice Department's anti-trust division ruled that any sale to U. S. Steel would be against the best interests of the nation.

However, then Senator Abe Murdock of Utah now a Labor Relations commissioner, pulled every wire possible to sell the government's property to U. S. Steel. Simultaneously, Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder, a good friend of U. S. Steel President Ben Fairless, was given credit for talking to the White House.

At any rate, President Truman personally directed Attorney General Tom Clark to overrule his antitrust division and decree that there was no objection to selling the government's Utah steel plant to U. S. Steel.

Thus the steel corporation has been in the fortunate position of being able to thumb its nose at President Truman's fact-finding board and at the same time get President Truman's help in tightening its monopoly hold of the steel industry.

Capital News Capsules

Undersecretary of State out—Kindly Jim Webb has informed President Truman he wants to resign as Undersecretary of State. Webb game of diplomacy, wants to get back into private life. The president asked Jim to remain hasn't liked the sophisticated rough-and-tumble on until after the important atomic energy talks with Britain and Canada are over, then he will look for another mon. Meanwhile Webb is on the list of possibilities for the presidency of the university of North Carolina, though Sperry Gyroscope is itching to get him back.

Air Traffic Tickets—CAA Chief Del Rentzel has called in Navy and Air Force leaders to iron out air traffic problems in the hope of preventing future disasters. The CAA is in charge of patrolling the airways, and can hand out traffic tickets for air violations. But it is up to the Navy and Air Force to punish their own fliers. One problem, therefore, is to make sure military pilots are properly punished for reckless flying. Another problem is the close proximity of military and civilian fields. Busy fields, such as Washington's national airport, are forced to hold up traffic several times a month while some military pilot on a training mission hunts for his bearings.

Government Fight With A&P Looms as a 'Paper Bullet' War

By Douglas Larsen
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Anti-trust suits used to be titanic legal struggles that lasted for years. Now they've apparently become titanic propaganda struggles, at least if the current case against the A & P food store chain is any indication.

Both sides are screaming that this litigation ain't cricket. But every day finds the word-war getting hotter with more participants.

Justice officials say that A & P started it by buying full-page ads in 2000 newspapers throughout the country, to tell their side of the story. A spokesman for the food chain gives the company's reasons for the ads:

"Our 30,000,000 customers wanted to know what was involved in the suit. So did the thousands of suppliers who do business with us, as well as our employes. We took out the ads to tell them. It was the best way."

To counter the effect of the ads on the public mind, Attorney General J. Howard McGrath and chief Department of Justice trustbuster Herbert A. Bergson hit the banquet trail. They began to make public speeches denying what was said in the A & P ads, and supplying some opinions on the case which weren't included in the original court brief.

With the help of the efficient public relations staff of the Department of Justice these speeches got wide play in the press and on the radio. A & P countered with another set of full-page ads in 2000 papers. Then more speeches by Bergson and McGrath. And more A & P ads. At this writing A & P has placed four sets of ads in 2000 papers. Company spokesmen say that there will be more if there is a need for further enlightening their customers, suppliers and employes. And Bergson and McGrath aren't planning to stop talking.

Old Hand At It

But those are just the activities of the main contestants. Rep. Wright Patman from Texas, the long-time chain store hater, couldn't resist the chance to start sounding off. For a couple of weeks he made speeches on the floor of the House almost every other day, castigating the A & P. And, as is his privilege, he had close to 50,000 copies of each speech mailed out to newsmen and interested persons at government expense.

Next voice to roar out in public against the A & P was an outfit called the National Federation of Independent Businessmen. It placed full-page ads in 500 papers around the country. George J. Burger, the vice president, says the organization has 136,000 members—presumably small businessmen—and that it is the largest group of its kind in the country. Burger says the decision to support the Department of Justice case was made by the board of trustees.

According to Mr. Burger, his federation is just beginning to sound off. National radio programs and more ads are in the mill. His organization's interest, he says, is simply to see that the country's anti-trust laws are properly enforced.

A & P's supporters haven't become too vocal yet but they will. American Trucking Association and several state granges have announced that they are ready to get into the propoganda fight. And other big merchandising outfits are about ready to throw in with A & P. They see it as a death fight for the right to mass purchasing and mass buying.

No Room For News

At the rate this thing is developing, in a few months there won't be any newsprint or radio time left for anything but the A & P suit.

The chain must file its answering brief Dec. 9. It will probably be nearly spring before the case can come before a judge.

A & P attorieys will ask the court to handle the charges as a separate litigation, divorced from the former case against the company which resulted in a $175,000 fine. They say that the old case was settled once and for all and that new issues are involved in the present suit. If they are successful in this appeal it will lengthen the time of the case considerably.

Justice Department attorneys are claiming that the present suit is part of the older suit because the A & P has not stopped those illegal monopolistic practices for which the company was fined. They contend that it is part of the old case. If this argument holds, there should be a quicker decision.

Hubby's Interests Changed? Better Change Yours, Too

Her main complaint seemed to be that they married each other because they shared the same interests. But after a few years of marriage his interests had changed.

Evidently she didn't understand that what happened to her husband happens to most men.

If the average wife wrote down her husband's main interests and ideas of relaxation at the time they married and then made out another list four or five years later she would have two lists with a few duplications.

But that shouldn't make a woman feel gyped or cheated.

As a wife it is her job to keep up with his changing interests, not to sit and sulk because they've changed.

Husbands and wives don't remain companionable through the years because they cling to the same set of interests they had when they fell in love.

Share New Interests

They stay companionable because they are both willing to share each other's interests and activities as they develop through the years.

It's foolish for a wife to feel gyped because her husband, who once loved to dance, can't be dragged onto a dance floor.

So they've lost that "common interest" they once shared. What of it?

Another interest can take its place. All that a wife who wants to remain a companion to her husband has to do is to see to it that a "common interest" that no longer common to both of them is replaced by a new interest they both share.

One set of common interests can't be counted on to last a lifetime. Lasting companionship is always the result of making new interests "common ones."

Surgery is Required to Make The Prostate Gland Shrink

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

There are several kinds of prostate trouble. One of them — hypertrophy — is definitely associated with aging. Although in many men the prostate tends to shrink with age, in some it enlarges instead. Because of the position in which it lies, its increased size partly shuts off the free flow of urine.

The first sign ordinarily is delay and difficulty in beginning urination. This develops rather rapidly to a stage in which the bladder cannot be completely emptied. When this happens the bladder wall becomes thickened and therefore is able to hold less urine so that the desire to urinate comes more and more often. As the amount of urine remaining in the bladder increases, the difficulty becomes worse, the bladder holds less and there is increasing frequency. This often shows up more at night.

Tube Can Be Used

Sometimes a man with an enlarged prostate suddenly may be unable to urinate at all. The bladder then has to be emptied by the use of a tube, called a catheter, which is passed into the bladder. With the help of a catheter the bladder can be emptied and the symptoms relieved temporarily. However, it is not usually advisable to rely on the constant use of the catheter tube nor to leave one in place for very long because of the danger of infection.

When the prostate has enlarged so much that the use of a catheter is necessary (or preferably earlier), expert advice and treatment is nedeed. There is no medical treatment for a hypertrophied prostate gland; that is, there is no medicine which can be taken or given which will make the prostate gland shrink. The treatment consequently is by surgery. For this several different methods of operating on the prostate gland are available to relieve the symptoms and to remove some of the excessive tissue.

Q—How many species of tortoise are there in this country?

A—There are only three species of tortoise in the United States. The gopher tortoise is the most common and is found in the Southeast; the other two occur in the deserts of Arizona, Texas and California.

Q—Which of the planets most nearly approximate the earth in size?

A—Venus is very nearly the same size as the earth, the difference in diameter being about 213 miles.

Q—Is there any "universal" adhesive, which will stick anything to anything else?

A—No single adhesive will bond satisfactorily all types of materials, and each particular job seems to require its own adhesive for best results.

Q—Where is the highest suspension bridge in the world.

A—It is the bridge that spans the canyon of the Arkansas River in Colorado. The floor of the bridge is 1053 feet above the bed of the river; the main span is 880 feet long and the total length exclusive of approaches is 1260 feet.

Q—Which has the larger sale, the Bible or novels in general?

A—More Bibles are sold annually than novels.

The CAMEO

By Virginia Teale

Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Hagar Blair and Andrey Yakov both want to buy a valuable cameo. Both Neil O'Neill and Tom Falter claim to own it. All live in a western art colony. Hagar, setting out to see Falter about the cameo, finds the cameo box in her car, and the cameo is gone. Meanwhile, Neil and Yakov have gone to Bob's place, where Tom O'Neill, Neil's husband, is in his cups. Learning that Falter might be at his home, Yakov slips out. Later Neil goes, leaving Tom alone with Bob Knox, the proprietor.

UPON recovery from her first minutes of stupefaction after finding the empty cameo box on the seat of her car, Hagar Blair had driven up Hillside Road to think out what her discovery might indicate, and what to do about it.

Opening the box, she ran her fingers across the purple velvet lining—idly she picked with her fingernail at the edge of the cushion. The cushion tilted. Hagar attempted to push it back into place, but it had become wedged.

Using a hair pin as a lever, she dug carefully at the side of the velvet cushion to put it straight. It finally popped out. Hagar brushed the loose glue out of the box, blowing into it to remove the small particles. She held it close to the light to appraise its condition, and it was then that she noticed the numbers.

There were two sets of figures, engraved one beneath the other, and a single figure at the bottom. Probably some jeweler's code number, she decided. Arranged in a peculiar way, though, for that sort of thing: 10-4; and below that, 8-2; and below that, 6.

She pressed the cushion back in place and closed the box.

She started the motor. Pulling the wheel hard over, she whirled the little car around and pointed its nose downhill.

• • •

SHE brought the car to a bouncing stop in front of Falter's mail box. As she climbed out and slammed the door, she was jeering at herself:

"So far, old lady, you've behaved like a stupid cat worrying at the tail the lizard has left behind." She climbed the steps to Martin's porch, "Well, here's hoping it's not too late to catch the lizard!"

Hagar saw a light inside and pounded on the door.

"Falter? Hey, it's me! Hagar. I've come to talk business."

She leaned against the door. It creaked open about two feet and stopped.

She stepped inside and looked around: What a pigsty! There was a bottle of red wine overturned on the floor and a murky pool had spread out, around and under it.

Probably lying drunk on his bed, Hagar decided, and made up her mind to prove it. She approached the half-open door of what she judged would be the bedroom and peeked inside.

She froze for a few seconds, then her body perked up into boardlike stiffness and she tottered backward into the studio.

Though she could not now see through the bedroom doorway, the picture on the other side was photographed on her brain.

Martin Falter, in blue and white striped pajama trousers, sprawled across the bed, the hair on his naked chest matted with glistening dark red, his head lolling on the edge of a round pillow-bolster, and the whole dreadful tableau startlingly illuminated by the light of a fluorescent reading lamp.

Her eyes lost their look of vacant horror and became only astonished and curious as they darted over the disordered studio. Except for the spilled wine, Hagar thought, there was no sign of a fight. She noticed, then, that the front door was wide open and went over to close it. She reached for the knob, paused a moment and pushed the door closed with her foot.

Taking a pair of gloves from her pocket, she slipped them on and walked through the bedroom door on tiptoe and closed it behind her. She kept her eyes off the bed as much as possible.

ON the floor, near the closet door, she saw an open suitcase; a number of clean shirts and socks were strewn around it. Hagar concluded the bag had been already searched and turned her attention to a wardrobe chest opposite the bed. She examined the contents of the drawers and found but a few odds and ends of clothing.

Slowly, then, her eyes averted, she advanced toward the bed. She crouched beside it and, feeling as though she were about to touch a dead snake, slid her hand under the pillow bolster. There was nothing tucked away there, and she was about to withdraw her hand when she realized that the area under the pillow was hard and smooth rather than resilient. She pressed her fingers down on what seemed to be a wood panel about 10 inches wide which extended from her edge of the bed to a point almost halfway across.

She sat back on her heels and considered: There seemed to be a rectangular piece cut out of the mattress, and in the hole there seemed to be some sort of compartment or box resting on top of the springs. Hagar realized that there was no way of exploring this further without moving Falter's body. She shivered. Then, warily, she untucked the sheet from the side of the bed and peered underneath. Fitted in snugly between the mattress and bedstead was a gray wooden box of a type used by carpenters to carry tools. Hagar slid her hands in on each side of it and pulled—it slid forward quite easily.

Hagar glanced up at the bed and her stomach churned! The pillow bolster was settling as she moved the box from beneath it and Falter's head and shoulders had begun to slant toward her!

RECIPE

CALIFORNIA SUPPER DISH

1 small onion, chopped
4 Tbsp. shortening
1—4 oz. can mushrooms
1 Tbsp. chopped green pepper
2 c. canned tomatoes
⅔ c. kernel corn
½ tsp. salt
dash of pepper
dash of thyme
1½ c. cooked rice
1—7 oz. can tuna, flaked
½ c. buttered crumbs

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

All over the world today there are people teaching bitterness and hate.

Here in America we have learned to live together in friendship.

For us here at A&P, it has been a wonderful and thrilling experience to get from those with whom we compete day after day such astounding evidence of friendship and respect.

The things that have happened since the anti-trust lawyers from Washington brought suit to destroy A&P have amazed us.

While we sincerely believed that we had earned the friendship of millions of consumers for whom we have provided better food at lower prices, and the friendship of millions of farm families for whom we have provided a better market for their produce, we were not prepared for the avalanche of offers of support.

But most of all, we have to confess that we had underestimated the fine sportsmanship of many of our competitors all over the country.

Can anyone believe that these competitors would rush to our defense if, as the anti-trust lawyers allege, we had been trying to put them out of business?

We and they have fought hard for business.

There are nearly 350,000 individual grocers competing with us. They have a larger share of the nation's grocery business today than they had ten years ago or twenty years ago.

Many of them do as good a job as we do, and they make it plenty tough for us.

Now, day after day, these same competitors are letting us know that they are in our corner.

All we can say is, thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

Who hollered for Uncle?

Who wants him to break up A&P?

COULD IT BE INDEPENDENT GROCERS? Doesn't seem likely. In ten years America's independent storekeepers almost tripled their business. In 1938 they did just under 5½ billion dollars worth of food business. Last year the independent storekeepers handled over 15 billion dollars worth of food.

WHOLESALE GROCERS? Hardly. For many of them are directly or indirectly engaged in or supporting some form of voluntary or cooperative chain to match chain economies.

THE EMPLOYEES? That would be funny—except that some folks probably believe it. Actually, less than 25 years ago many food chain stores could have paid all expenses—rent, heat, light, wages, etc.—out of the money a store manager alone gets paid now. And the store manager of 25 years ago would have been happy to get what a clerk gets today.

PRODUCERS? Well, take farmers. Certainly part of their prosperity must be attributed to the markets that big chains create for them. The big chains buy the entire pack of many a cannery. Those canneries pack the farmers' crops. What would the farmer do with his highly perishable crop if the food chains were eliminated as big volume buyers?

COMPETING CHAINS, MAYBE? No. Practically every chain in the grocery business had more sales last year than the year before. One chain that we know a lot about increased its food business 21% last year and is up 19% in the first eight months of this year.

THEN IT CERTAINLY MUST BE THE PEOPLE! Like fun. If the people hated food chain stores, would they have spent 9½ billion dollars in them last year? Folks like the low prices and high standards of chains—and the better the chains are run, the better folks like them.

Does This Sound as Though We Need Help?

Thorofare Super Markets came into existence 10 years ago. The food chains Thorofare replaced were doing about three million dollars worth of business a year. Housewives liked our policies well enough to boost their purchases in our 90 stores to about 30 million dollars a year.

We call that a vote of confidence. And we're going to keep right on proving that as long as we stick to good brands and better-than-average selections at rock-bottom prices, we can compete with anybody in the business. And keep right on growing, too!

We don't believe any chain will be punished for being efficient, or for pleasing housewives so well that it is forced to grow.

We, too, believe that it is a storekeeper's duty to bring the public the best food at the lowest possible prices, and hope to see the chain store way of doing business vindicated.

And as long as the producers, the employees, the customers, the wholesale grocers, the independents and the competing chains thrive so well, we will continue to think it's a good way to do business.

We Don't Want the A&P Put Out of Business

The owner of the undersigned store is an independent merchant in this community. We run our own store, set our own prices, maintain our own policy.

We consider the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. as a chain store. Because they are a chain they give us stiff competition.

The competition offered by the A&P keeps us on our toes.

The Department of Justice has brought a suit against the A&P claiming that the A&P is a monopoly.

Whether it is or not we are in no position to judge.

What we do know is that the A&P doesn't do all of the grocery business in this area. We are here and ready to serve local customers.

WE DON'T WANT TO SEE THE A&P PUT OUT OF BUSINESS.

The A&P is keeping food prices down. We in turn keep our prices down; and that helps us to sell more goods.

KUGLER'S SUPER-FOOD MARKET
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

We Agree With A&P

Yes, we want our A&P competitors to stay in business on their present scale because we know what it would mean to the American people without them.

We are only one store and are striving to serve our community with good food at low prices, but the A&P is a nationwide organization serving the American people everywhere with good food at low prices.

Destroying the A&P would mean eliminating competition nationally in the food field which every poor man knows consumes the major portion of his salary.

A COMPETITOR'S OPINION of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

The self-styled "trust busters" of the government recently made headlines as a result of a move to destroy the A&P.

Frankly, we don't like it.

So What...

And if monopoly of the food business is charged, that sure hands us a laff. We...at P.P.M. are growing like wildfire. Seems like we're able to sell better foods at better prices.

Your increasing patronage of our stores is positive proof that A&P has no monopoly on the food business.

Let's get down to good old American horse sense. A&P is doing a good job of serving the people of this country. They're no bogey men. We are for them 100% in this controversy.

I Welcome A&P Competition BECAUSE

• • • • like myself, many hundreds of independent grocers got their start with the TEA COMPANY.

• • • • The great A&P is not detrimental to the progress of the grocery business. On the contrary, A&P has always been beneficial to any open-minded businessman who believes in FREE ENTERPRISE. Founded on the principle of FAIR PLAY and FAIR PRICES, A&P developed from a humble start to its present commanding position in the field of retail merchandising.

• • • • My experience as a former employee of the TEA COMPANY has served me well. I attribute my success to the ideas and methods tried, tested and proven by the A&P stores—at a great cost.

• • • • A&P upholds the rights and privileges of a good worker. I know this from personal experience. A&P is ever on the lookout to promote sincere and ambitious employees to trustworthy and important positions and has never crossed the efforts of any employee to enter into business for himself. A&P helped me to start in business...IS THAT AN ACT OF A COMPANY MONOPOLIZING THE GROCERY BUSINESS? NO!

A&P taught me to serve the public BETTER—MORE ECONOMICAL and MORE EFFICIENT, thanks to the start given me by B. F. VINSON.

• • • • During the depression of the thirties, A&P paid higher wages than any other chain. A&P has striven to keep up the standard of living in this country. I shudder to think what would happen to its 110,000 employees if it was forced out of business.

• • • • I am not afraid of A&P competition—I welcome it. It's democratic—it's the American Way.

The Anti-Trust Suit Against The Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

This suit is another threat against our great American system of free enterprise. The A&P Co. has always been clean, above board competition and any successful independent merchant, if he is honest, will admit that they have taught him a great many things regarding merchandising, reducing overhead, better buying, etc., thus lowering food costs for the great American Public.

Settle by Raising Rates

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 10—(AP)—The only way it can settle its financial troubles is to raise rates, the Bolivar, Mo., Telephone company told the State Public Service commission yesterday.

The utility said its rates would have to be raised enough to bring in $11,458 more a year, mostly because of ice storms last winter which destroyed all its outside equipment.

The storms caused $16,000 worth of damage and only part of the plant has been restored. But revenue now is so low nobody will lend the firm more money to complete reconstruction, the company complained.

Former Colonel Goes to College

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A former army colonel, three times a grandfather, is having the time of his life as a student at the University of Southern California.

Desmond K. Laub, 62, majors in French and studies the modern French novel, American history, geology and English literature as well. "I'm making straight A's," he grins, "which is better than my daughters did when they went to the University of Michigan."

As a youth Laub bypassed college in favor of a trip to Denmark. Back in this country he took a job with the Detroit News and over a 30-year period was everything from cub reporter to foreign correspondent. He won a purple heart as an infantry lieutenant in World War I, and left the last war a colonel in the Air Corps Intelligence Corps.

Retirement wasn't to his taste, so Laub went to college. "I'm having a wonderful time," he says. "Being with all these young people is keeping me young."

Justice In Purple Robe

BALTIMORE —(AP)— Patrolman Edwar Burns turned up at a police station in the wee hours of the morning with two prisoners charged with disturbing the peace—chiefly Burn's peace. The officer was wearing a white and purple bathrobe, and a mood to match.

He explained he had found a strange car parked in his parking lot space. So he blocked the culprits' exit with his own machine, then went to the adjacent apartment house where he lived and crept into bed.

A call from the night clerk hauled him out around 1 a. m. Burns found half a dozen men bouncing in his car in an effort to move it, a hot discussion and two arrests followed. A magistrate later fined the two $5 a piece after they explained they had thought the lot was unused during the night.

Says Space Ship Must Wait

BALTIMORE—(AP)—Man's desire to roam about outer space and explore heavenly bodies will remain a songwriter's fancy for a few years, says Dr. Ralph E. Gibson, director of the applied physics laboratory of the Johns Hopkins University. Dr. Gibson cites these obstacles to inter-planetary travel:

1. You would need a rocket ship weighing about 10,000 tons—the weight of a light cruiser—to carry a pay load of 50,000 pounds. 2. You would need fuel tanks, a quarter of a million feet in size and would have to carry 8,000 tons of fuel, probably liquid oxygen. 3. You would have to start with a velocity of 36,000 feet a second in order to get shot out of the field of the earth's gravity.

Dr. Gibson's laboratory has been experimenting in guided missiles at the government's White Sands (N. M.) testing grounds.

Persimmon Menace

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Citizens Association of Anacostia, a section in southeastern Washington, is petitioning the District of Columbia government to do something about fruit falling from persimmon trees planted along three streets.

"Have you ever stepped on one?" asked Mrs. Carrie Smith, first vice president.

Hollywood Couterier "Preplexed, Confused"

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 9—(AP)—Hollywood couterier Marusia says she's "perplexed, confused," about the order she says she has from a fashionable St. Louis department store to make the wedding dress of Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, who is marrying Vice President Alben Barkley.

A friend of Mrs. Hadley says Marusia isn't making anything for the St. Louis widow; that the trousseau is being fashioned in New York.

"Well, I have an order to make the wedding dress and a going away dress," Marusia told a newsman today. Asked to produce the order, she said "that would not be a matter of good policy, but I assure you I acted in good faith and that I am going ahead with the order."

"Undoubtedly," says Marusia, "Mrs. Hadley does not feel it is in good taste to make public her wedding wardrobe until after the ceremony. She wants to keep it secret."

She agreed with a reporter who suggested that Mrs. Hadley, like other women, has the prerogative of changing her mind.

Engineers His Harmony

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—(AP)—"I have a little bit of music in me, and every so often it comes out," Parker H. Daggett, Rutgers university professor of electrical engineering admits with a grin. But that 'every so often' has resulted in more than 100 songs—everything from football songs to musical comedy hits. His latest, "Old Rutgers" was introduced this year, the third he has written for the university.

Forty-three years ago, Daggett was undecided whether engineering or music was to be his life's work. They've been blended in harmony.

FOR CARE OF DOLLY—Six-year-old Barbara Ravold, a modern young "mother," uses her new "formula" set as she sterilizes dolly's bottles. The baby-care set, which even includes a small size diaper disposer, is typical of this year's realistic Christmas toys.

Crete's Wine Goes to France

CRETE—(AP)—The people of Crete are thanking France for half a million dollars, but they're worn out after putting in 24 hours a day for nearly a month to earn it. The money represents the sale of wine under a "deadline" contract with hard-pressed French wine importers, whose own domestic grape production had been cut badly by this year's drought.

CREAMO ONLY MARGARINE WITH CREAM

5 out of 6 choose Creamo in Taste-Test

Pure sweet cream is responsible for Creamo Margarine's superiority: its smooth, cream-rich flavor. Because no other margarine gives you cream, no other margarine equals Creamo's naturally superior flavor. In addition to being a finer tasting spread for bread, Creamo's extra flavor makes it wonderful for flavoring other foods. Try it on hot vegetable dishes, and for baking and frying. You'll be delightfully surprised at the delicious difference. Ordinary dishes become party dishes, with just a little cream-enriched Creamo added. You'll find that Creamo's exclusive cream content works flavor miracles. Try a pound of Creamo today: Taste it yourself. You'll see immediately why new thousands every day are switching to Creamo. You'll learn why the only margarine made with cream is the only margarine to buy... Creamo Margarine.

Knob Noster

Mrs. Russell Kendrick

Miss Marjorie Kelley of southeast of Knob Noster won second place in the state R. Y. O. talkmeet in Jefferson City Wednesday which was in connection with the annual meeting of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation. Contestants spoke on "Effect of Rural Youth Citizenship in the Democratic Government." Miss Kelley will represent the state as alternate at the national conference in Chicago on December 12th.

Miss Lyda Fern Vogler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Vogler of Knob Noster and Jack Maudlin, son of Mrs. Vinton Bugbee of northeast of Knob Noster, were married at 2:00 o'clock on Sunday afternoon at the home of Elder R. E. Burgess in Knob Noster, who read the single ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vogler, brother and sister-in-law of the bride were the attendants.

The bride wore an aqua crepe dress and her corsage was of white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Vogler was attired in a green taffeta dress.

Mrs. Arch Vogler, mother of the bride and Mrs. Bugbee, mother of the bridegroom, wore black crepe dresses.

The bride was graduated from the Knob Noster high school in 1949 and has been employed at the Town and Country shoe factory in Warrensburg.

The bridegroom served in the army air corps in Japan for 18 months.

The couple will live in Kansas City where Mr. Maudlin will be employed. Those attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Whetstone, Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Nichols and Raymond Scott of Kansas City, Mrs. Roy Wood of Kansas City, Kas.; Mrs. E. L. Moorman, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Nutt, Mr. and Mrs. Vinton Bubee, Mary Jane, Wilma Dean, Nancy and Marvin Bugbee, Mrs. Arch Vogler, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vogler and Leon Bennett of Knob Noster.

Members of the Ladies Aid society of the Christian church met at the church Thursday for an all day meeting. A covered dish dinner was served with Mrs. R. W. Davies and Mrs. Otto Baldwin as hostesses. There were seven members and thirteen guests for dinner. Mrs. Harry Lane conducted the business meeting and Mrs. H. A. Wimer led the devotional. The afternoon was spent quilting. Mrs. J. D. Garrison was a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Schlusing were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Lane and daughter Rosemary, southeast of town.

Members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church met with Mrs. O. W. Peithman Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Vernon Lane, the president, presided. Mrs. Laura Roadruck led the devotionals. Mrs. Marion Sibert was the lesson leader. Her subject was "The Land of the Crescent, and the Five Pointed Star." She was assisted by Mrs. E. O. Price, Mrs. Byron Lane, Mrs. Elmo Lay and Mrs. Ora Austin. Nineteen members were present. Mrs. S. L. Doggett was a visitor. Mrs. Peithman showed handwork from the Philippine islands. During the social hour, refreshments of cookies and coffee were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin F. Blaine, daughter Barbara Ann of Grandview spent Sunday with Mrs. Blaine's mother Mrs. Russell Kendrick and Mr. Kendrick and with Mr. Blaine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blaine and dauhter Judy in Sedalia.

Mr. and Mrs. James Boyd and son Jimmie of Kansas City spent the week-end here with his parents Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Boyd.

The reular meetin of the Geneva Rebekah lodge was held Tuesday evening after which a Hallowe'en party was enjoyed. Various games were played and refreshments of gingerbread, apples, popcorn and cider were served.

The revival meeting which began last Monday night at the Methodist church will continue through Sunday night November 13th. The evangelist is the Rev. Arthur Hinnah, pastor of the Methodist church in Higginsville and is assisted by the pastor the Rev. Lloyd D. Wasson.

POSTER FOR HOLY YEAR—The above poster is being circulated to stimulate interest in the Holy Year of 1950, as proclaimed by the Pope in Rome for Catholics of the world. It bears the hopeful slogan: "May this genuinely Holy Year be for the human family the harbinger of a new era of peace, prosperity and progress."

Emergency Treatment

EFFINGHAM, Ill.—(AP)—When a lighted kerosene stove was turned over accidentally in the home of Mrs. Andrew Verdeyen, she calmly removed the kerosene bottle attached to the stove to cut off the fuel supply and then tossed a blanket over it to smother the flames. Firemen merely had to carry out the stove.

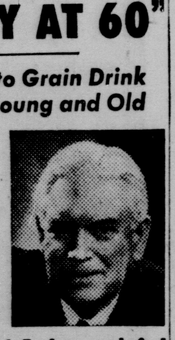
"NERVES STILL STEADY AT 60"

Switching to Grain Drink can Help Young and Old



"I thought my shaky nerves were due to getting older. But my doctor blamed the caffein in coffee and suggested a switch to POSTUM. Now my nervousness is completely gone and I sleep and feel so much better!"

Are "coffee nerves" making you uncomfortable? . . . Jittery by day? . . . Sleepless at night? . . . Many people —young and old alike—have found the answer in switching from coffee and tea to POSTUM.

SCIENTIFIC FACTS: Both coffee and tea contain caffein—a drug—a nerve stimulant! So while many people can drink coffee or tea without ill-effect, others suffer nervousness, indigestion, sleepless nights. But POSTUM contains no caffein or other drug — nothing that can possibly cause sleeplessness, indigestion, or nervousness!

MAKE THIS TEST: Buy INSTANT POSTUM today—drink POSTUM exclusively for 30 days. See if POSTUM doesn't help you, too, to sleep better, feel better, enjoy life more! . . . INSTANT POSTUM—A Vigorous Drink made from Healthful Wheat and Bran—100% caffein-free! A Product of General Foods.

Cairo Houses Fall

CAIRO — (AP) — Many of the dwelling places in old Cairo are more than 1,000 years old. Almost weekly one collapses. Usually there are a number of deaths.

The most recent collapse came when a four-story house fell down in the Sayeda Zeinab district, killing six and injuring seven.

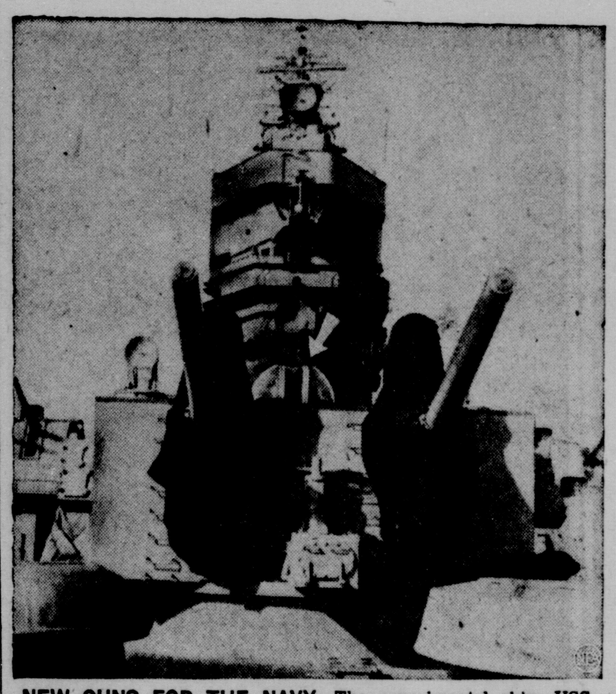
FITS WELL—Looking young enough to pass for a student himself, 25-year-old Jerry Coleman of the Yankees signs autographs for coeds in San Francisco's Lowell High. The New York second baseman and American League rookie of the year was guest speaker at a football rally in his former high school.



NEW GUNS FOR THE NAVY—The experimental ship, USS Mississippi, carries this new twin-barrelled, six-inch gun mount, designed for both surface fire and anti-aircraft. A minimum crew of five can operate the mount. The plastic bubble, giving all-around vision (arrow), allows one officer to control the fire direction.

Paint Performs!

NEW paints can do almost everything!

With but a stroke of her brush any housewife can paint frosting on glass, chrome finishes on fixtures, deskid a walk and fake a hand-rubbed gloss on furniture.

This housewife (upper left) brushes new frosting paint on her clear glass bath windows to make their transparency opaque for privacy. A cheese cloth pad will mottle the surface so that when the simple paint-job is dry it will pass for expensive frosted glass.

More strokes of the paintbrush dipped into another type of paint eliminate the hazard of slippery steps around the kitchen (right). Housewife uses a bright floor enamel containing new non-skid compound which she can also use on her cellar floors.

Lewis Fails To Show Up

Plans Upset For Mediation Talks And Director Ching Indignant

By Harold W. Ward

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10—(AP)—A snub from John L. Lewis today delayed Government efforts to end the soft coal dispute which led to the recent nation wide strike.

Federal mediation chief Cyrus S. Ching had asked both sides to a conference here this morning. Lewis failed to show up, sending instead a curt message that his representatives would be here Monday.

But Ching replied that he had other things to do Monday. The mild-mannered conciliator, smarting from the rebuff, appeared at first about to check the deadlock to President Truman. Later, however, he said, he'd keep trying.

Lewis, who put his 380,000 striking coal diggers back to work today for three weeks, said through his office here that his people were too busy getting the work resumed to enter negotiations set for today.

A Curt Lewis Message

But that explanation did not come out until late in the morning. It was hours after the mediation service had been trying to get clarification of a typically curt Lewis message to Ching last night. It read:

"Ching, Department of labor, Washington, D. C. your wire. Mine Workers representation will be your office 2:30 o'clock Monday.

"Lewis, Chicago, Illinois."

Lewis communicated through his headquarters here. Nobody knew where the miners leader himself was. He appeared to have left Chicago.

Ching told reporters he would know by Saturday whether meetings would be called between Lewis and the operators. He said he had not recommended any action by President Truman to date.

Ching said he had asked for "clarification" of the Lewis wire because it "appears not to be responsive" to the federal invitation.

Then he went to the White House. He hinted that he was reporting he had done all he could in the coal dispute, in view of the Lewis snub.

Counseled For Delay

But John R. Steelman, a presidential aide who has sometimes aided Lewis in the past, apparently counseled for delay in tossing the dispute directly into the lap of President Truman.

While Ching was with Steelman the union made public what was described as Lewis' response to Ching's inquiry about the first wire.

"Telegram of yesterday was based on the fact that Mine Workers representatives would be fully occupied until Monday in securing maximum resumption of coal production.

"Monday afternoon first available moment Mine Workers' delegation can attend the meeting your office. Representation will be present at that time unless you notify otherwise.

Proposes Omitting Of Armistice Day

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 10—(AP)—The Tulsa World will propose editorialy tomorrow that the national observation of Armistice Day be omitted.

It urges instead, a lumping of all such rites into one such celebration—possibly on Memorial Day.

The Armistice was a signal event as an end of World War I, but through the years and since and another war has come to mean less and less toward peace. Memorial Day, on the other hand, is more extensive, the newspaper contends.

Its editorial will say, in part: "People talk, with relative calmness, of a third world war. The whole world is uneasy.

"There is a latent, and sometimes expressed feeling that the pre-minence of Armistice Day, as one of peace is failing.

Farmers Co-op Buys Closed Slater Mill

SLATER, Mo., Nov. 10—(AP)—The elevator and buildings of the International Milling Co., here have been purchased by the Farmers Cooperative No. 1 of Slater.

The plant, formerly known as the Slater mill and Elevator company, has been operated since 1945 by the Midland Flour Miling Co., of Kansas City. It was closed last Oct. 19.

With an added capacity of 150,000 bushels, the cooperative now has room for 238,000 bushels of grain making it one of the largest grain operators in the central grain elevator operators in the central part of the state.

Machinery and equipment used in the mill will be dismantled and shipped to other plants of the International company, which has headquarters at Minneapolis.

Officers of the Co-Op said they planned to offer the mill building to some industry.

Congressman Christopher is Guest Speaker

Tells Kiwanians Of Outlay to Keep The Peace

A report on legislative experiences in Congress was made by Congressman George H. Christopher, Sixth Missouri district, of Amoret, before members of the Sedalia Kiwanis club and guests in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon.

Dr. Floyd Lively was program chairman and George H. Scruton introduced Mr. Christopher.

The congressman said we gave the military 15.6 billion dollars and to give an idea how large a sum of money that is, the Missouri valley, exclusive of railroads, telegraph wires and incorporated towns is valued by the agriculture department at 9.1 billion dollars. The speaker said he had to think a long time before rendering a decision. The military bill was passed by the House in April and came back to the Senate and passed in October.

Keep Military Strong

The speaker, in discussing the Marshall plan, said it was the first time in history of the human race that any nation ever considered spending vast sums of money in hopes of securing peace. He said if war should come, many times the cost of the Marshall plan would have to be appropriated the first day war was declared to conduct the conflict.

"In my opinion," Rep. Christopher said, "if we keep ourselves militarily strong, Russia would probably hesitate to start actual hostilities."

In answering the question what Congress was going to do about taxes, he replied, "Nobody is going to give you anything for nothing and if some one offers to, take another look at him. He probably has an ax to grind."

Rep. Christopher said at the conclusion of his speech, "my intention is to render conscientious service to the folks in my district."

After his speech at the Kiwanis club Rep. Christopher spoke at the P. M. A. office to the Pettis county township committeemen on, foregin problems as related to congressional actions.

Rep. Christopher was a former committeeman, loan inspector and county committeeman of Bates county.

Attending the meeting besides the regular members were: Calvin Holloway, a member of the state committee, John Kendricks, a state program man, Oscar Fix, field man for southwest Missouri and C. E. Campbell, fieldman for the south central Missouri portion.

National Kid Day

Preceding the congressman's talk a recording announcement was played calling attention to Kiwanis sponsored National Kid day which will be observed in Sedalia and throughout the country Saturday, November 19.

Clubs guests were: Marvin Durst, Butler, secretary to Congressman Christopher A. W. Haller with Bert Hathaway; Judge Frank Monroe with Will Hurley; Mayor Julian Bagby, Atwell Bohling, Bryan Howe and Jas. Harms with Henry Salveter; James Reed with the Rev. Warren L. Botkin; Claude Boul with L. H. Archias, Jr.; Mrs. Clyde Heynen with Clyde Heynen; Robert George with Ken Miller; Abe Silverman with I. H. Reed; George H. Trader and D. Kelly Scruton with George H. Scruton; W. C. Askew and Judge E. W. Couey with Ben Robinson; Jack Cunningham with Art Morgan; W. B. Rich and C. C. Czeschin with J. C. Griffin; William Brown with Mike Giokaris; Emmett Sullivan with Edw. Mullaley; John Zander and Dr. M. E. Gouge with Dr. Floyd Lively and Frank Hayes with W. F. Keyser.

Russia Uses Atomic Energy Not For Bombs

Vishinsky Declares They Can Have As Many As They Need

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 10—(AP)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky declared today the Soviet Union is utilizing atomic energy not to stockpile atom bombs but for vast mountain moving and desert watering projects aimed at expanding the Soviet economy.

He said, however, that if it became necessary for Russia to amass atomic bombs "we should have as many of these as we should need—no more and no less."

A Dramatic Surprise

In a dramatic surprise appearance before the 59-nation special political committee of the United Nations, Prime Minister Stalin's top diplomat said:

"We in the Soviet Union are utilizing atomic energy, but not in order to stockpile atomic bombs—although I am convinced that if, unfortunately and to our great regret, this were necessary, we should have as many of these as we should need—no more and no less.

Yesterday a Soviet - licensed newspaper in Berlin said the Russians had used atomic energy to blast an entire mountain to open the way for a man-made river bigger than the English channel.

The fiery, gray-haired Soviet foreign minister at the same time made a bitter attack on the plan for prohibiting atomic bombs and controlling atomic energy which has the support of the U. S., Britain, France, China and Canada—and a great majority of all the United Nations.

Red-faced, and flailing his arms through the air, he shouted: "There is not an atom of control in the American atom control plan."

Vishinsky said the five-power western plan is "doomed to failure" and asserted that the crux of the U. N. inability to reach agreement on atomic energy control is a desire by the U. S. to monopilize control over the world's atomic resources.

Want No World Domination

"We want no world domination," he said. "The Soviet Union stands squarely on the grounds of peaceful cooperation."

He declared the big powers are not closer to a solution of an atomic control plant than they were three years ago and attributed the lack of progress to the attitude expressed last April 6 by President Truman.

At that time, the President told a group of congressmen in Washington he believed it never would be necessary to drop another atom bomb but he would not hestitate to use the bomb again for the welfare of the Democracies.

Russia has proposed outlawing the atom bomb but refuses to agree to the rigid forms of inspection demanded by the western powers. The Soviet line on this is that such inspection of atomic resources and installations would violate national sovereignty.

Vishinsky said Russia's objection to such international control is motivated by a belief that since atomic energy should be used only for peaceful purposes, then it should be controlled by national governments responsible for their own economic development.

"How sorrowful," Vishinsky shouted, "if the control of atomic energy were take from sovereign, peace-loving states and given to an international organ with no control over the economies of various states!"

One Parachuted to Death; Others Safe

CONDON, Ore., Nov. 19.—(AP)—One naval airman parachuted to his death as a four-engined plane crash landed in a wheat field north of here last night.

The six others aboard the navy privateer were safe. Two parachuted and four rode the plane down.

A sheriff's searching party found the body of the victim at dawn today. Members reported at the nearby Louie Barnett ranch that he was killed by a blow on the head in landing. He was not named, pending notification of next of kin.

Secretary Of The Interior Krug, Resigns

President And Krug Were Not Together On Certain Matters

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10—(AP)—Julius A. Krug announced his resignation today as Secretary of the Interior amid signs that he and President Truman had fallen out.

Krug informed reporters that he was quitting about Dec. 1. A half hour after this word was given to newsmen, Krug's letter of resignation was received by the President.

Letter In "Friendly" Terms

Although White House aides said the letter was couched in "friendly" terms, they indicated that the President was displeased because Krug had given the news out before notifying him.

Informed officials said they understood the President and Krug had not seen eye to eye on certain matters, including the method of obtaining congressional appropriations for big reclamation project in the west. There were reports that the President had sent "rather sharp" letters to Krug in recent months, complaining that the secretary was bypassing the budget bureau and going directly to Congress with requests for appropriations.

The President sidestepped a news conference question this morning about differences with Krug. He replied no comment when asked if he had written the cabinet officer a strong letter concerning conflicting views on reclamation policy.

Krug's successor is expected to be Oscar L. Chapman is one of the longest-serving new deal appointees. He is a Virginia native who came here from Denver.

Youngest Cabinet Member

Krug, now 41 and the youngest member of the cabinet, said in his statement to reporters.

"I am leaving. I have been wanting to leave for a long time."

Charles G. Ross, presidential press secretary, disclosed that Krug's action was no surprise.

"The President has known for some time that Mr. Krug has been considering this step," Ross said.

Krug is expected to re-enter private business.

It is known that the secretary has not been too happy about his job since the 1948 election. He was criticized by some party officials who contended he had not busied himself enough for Mr. Truman in the election campaign.

Injures Leg At Pittsburgh-Corning

James Curtis, route 1, Sedalia, injured his left upper leg while at work at the Pittsburgh-Corning glass plant. He was taken to Bothwell hospital at four-thirty Wednesday afternoon where he was treated by Dr. John B. Carlisle. He was dismissed after treatment.

New Plan For Germany By Western Allies

But It Is Promptly Snagged On French Cabinet Objections

PARIS, Nov. 10—(AP)—The Western allies wrote a new plan for Germany tonight, but it promptly snagged on French cabinet objections.

The new plan is reported authoritatively to give Germany its freest hand since the war. It was whittled out and approved by U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman in two days of secret meetings.

The foreign ministers of the three Benelux nations—Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—gave it quick approval, and Schuman took the plan to his cabinet. There, reliable sources said, Schuman was given "detailed instructions" which amount to a French counter-proposal.

Wary Of An Alliance

Rejection by the French, always wary of an alliance with their historic enemy, could scuttle big three plans. It could even wreck Premier Georges Bidault's two weeks old government, veteran diplomats said.

Diplomatic sources said the point at issue is the dismantlement of German industry, Schuman had joined Britain and the United States in agreeing that the dismantlement should be halted. The informants said the cabinet, however, sent Schuman back to a night-time big three session with instruction on just how far France is willing to go in rescuing the industry of her traditional foe.

Though its contents have not yet been made public, the general lines of the big three formula were believed to have been:

1. Sharp cuts in the German factory dismantling program. In exchange, the West German government would accept allied controls over industries which turn out goods potentially useful in war.

2. Consular representation abroad for the West Germans, without diplomatic status. Britain, the U. S., and France to retain direction of foreign policy.

3. West German associate membership in the Council of Europe, the parliament which seeks European unity. The Saar basin, now linked to France's economy, also to be a member.

Some Luck From Crash Wednesday At St. Joe

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 10—(AP)—The truck crash which sent 27,000 pounds of poison gas containers into filling station driveway of George Dewey wasn't all bad luck.

Today while investigating a crack in the lid of a sewer inlet hit by one of the trucks Dewey found a $20 bill. He shared it with a small boy who climbed into the inlet and retrieved the bill.

Four persons were injured in the accident but none of the gas escaped. The cargo was part of a shipment being convoyed through the city for the Army.

Truman Says No Reason To Change Policy

Reaffirmed Devotion To Bi-Partisian Foreign Policies

By D. Harold Oliver

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10—(AP)—President Truman today reaffirmed his devotion to the nation's bipartisan foreign policy and said he hopes relations with Russia will improve.

He said emphatically he sees no reason to change foreign policy operation because of the defeat in Tuesday's elections of Senator Dulles (R-NY).

Mr. Truman also told his weekly news conference that:

1—The election results will make it easier to carry out the Democratic platform.

2—There will be no change in the price of gold while he is President.

3—As far as he knows there have been no more atomic explosions in Russia since he announced the first one weeks ago.

The foreign policy discussions dovetailed with talk about the election victories scored by Democrats in the off-year voting this week.

Recall Dulles As Delegate

Reporters were mindful that Dulles is a former delegate to the United Nations and a leading Republican party consultant on operation of the unified foreign policy. They also knew that Gov. Dewey in campaigning for Dulles had declared Dulles' skill in foreign affairs must be kept in Washington.

When one of them asked whether the Republican senators' failure at the polls meant any change in the bi-partisan policy, the President replied with emphasis of course not.

A reporter wanted to know whether Mr. Truman felt the Tuesday elections meant "another mandate" for him. The President replied that when the Democrats campaign on a certain platform and win, they have the authority—call it mandate if you want—to carry out that platform.

Questions about the big three foreign ministers' conference in Paris led one reporter to inquire whether the U. S. is getting anywhere in its dealings with Russia and if the chances are good for bettering those relations.

The President replied he hopes, as he always does, that things are moving in that direction and the medium for such dealings is still the regular diplomatic channels.

A Lewis Fierce Scowl

The President' sonly comment on the truce John L. Lewis has called in the coal strike was to call attention to an Associated Press wirephoto of Lewis. The United Mine Workers leader had an especially fierce scowl on his face, and the President's reference to the picture brought a laugh from newsmen.

Mr. Truman was asked whether he has any plan for keeping the mines open in event another strike is called after the truce ends Nov. 30. He replied that he will cross that bridge when he comes to it.

Would the coal and steel strikes have been settled if the Taft-Hartley was not held over them? Managements and workers should answer that.

Asked if there was any truth in a rumor that the government's price of gold would be raised as a means of reducing the national debt, Mr. Truman replied with a categorical no. He added the price of gold if fixed as long as he is President.

J. G. Johnson Fatally Injured

John G. Johnson, 63 years old, Missouri Pacific engineer, a former Sedalian, but who for the past several years has been residing in Jefferson City, was struck by a switch engine and fatally injured about 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night in the Missouri Pacific railroad yards in Kansas City. Mr. Johnson was walking from a restaurant to freight train he was preparing to take to Jefferson City. The switch engine was backing up. He had been working on the chain gang between Jefferson City and Kansas City.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Effie Johnson, of the home, a son, Charles, and a daughter, Mildred, wife of Robert Swackhamer, both of Jefferson City, three brothers, W. E. Johnson, 820 South Vermont avenue, this city, H. C. Johnson, 1415 State Fair boulevard, this city, and Homer Johnson, Independence, and three sisters, Mrs. A. A. Jollif, Kansas City, Mrs. William Milburn, of California, Mo., and Mrs. Millard Cook, of Jefferson City.

Mr. Johnson lived in Sedalia many years and at the time he moved to Jefferson City resided at 654 East Fourteenth street.

The body will be taken to Jefferson City where funeral services will be held at 10:30 Saturday morning.

Youth Charged With Dodging Induction

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 9—(AP)—A youth who insists he is only 17 but who already has served an enlistment in the Army was arraigned today on a federal charge of failing to report for induction under the selective service.

The defendant, Lawrence Harvey Whitten, St. Joseph, passed himself as old enough for enlistment when only 15. While in service he registered for the draft at Salt Lake City under another name and gave a different age.

He was discharged from the Army this year and returned home. The government charged that he was called for induction at Salt Lake City, but failed to report.

Whitten was sent to jail when he was unable to post a $500 bond.

Armistice Day Parade at 10 A. M. Today

Rev. Arnold to Give Address at The Court House

The Armistice Day parade, today will move off at 10:00 o'clock this morning from Broadway and Ohio avenue, led by a group of horseback riders, followed by the Smith-Cotton high school band. Mayor Julian H. Bagby and Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors will be among the eight or ten horsemen.

Next in line will be the massed colors of the various veterans' organizations, followed by the veterans, all in one body. All veterans are invited to join the parade.

Following the veterans will be the Gold Star Mothers, who will be riding in cars, followed by the various auxiliaries of veterans' organizations.

The Hubbard high school band will be next in line of march and will also be celebrating homecoming day with a football game at Liberty park that afternoon.

Behind the Hubbard band will be the Boy and Girl Scouts of Sedalia.

Floats to be in Line

The various floats entered will then be placed in the line of march as they come into position or as they report. The dead line for float entries will be 9:45 a. m. Friday. The judges for the floats will be chairman, Judge J. V. Kesterson, Judge A. M. Harlan and Judge W. L. Marlin. Prizes for the best floats will be awarded after the ceremony. All floats are to report at the assembly area at Tenth street and Ohio avenue, prior to the parade.

Observances of Armistice day will follow the parade at 11 a.m. in front of the court house in tribute to fallen members of the armed forces. The Rev. Walter P. Arnold will be the principal speaker and Rev. D. Warren Neal, will give the invocation and benediction.

The Veterans Council, of which Walter McMellen is president, is sponsoring the Armistice day ceremony. All downtown stores will be closed until noon.

Inquest In Death Of Kansas Citian

A coroner's inquest will be held in Versailles 10:00 o'clock this morning to attempt to decide whether the death of Joseph Tillery, 37 of Kansas City was murder or suicide.

Tillery's body with the throat slashed open was found lying on his back in an upright position in a ditch about forty feet from his automobile, sixteen miles southeast of Versailles on lake road 8 about 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night. The cut was said to have been cut from "ear to ear."

Two razor blades were found on the front seat of the car.

Highway Patrol Investigates

The highway patrol's first report on the man death was "believed murdered." No clues were reported Thursday, however, to substantiate that belief, the patrol said.

His widow, Mrs. Lois Tillery, her six-year-old daughter and three brothers went to Versailles Thursday. The body is being held at the Kidwell funeral home and arrangements for services have not been made.

Tillery was the owner of the Minnow Manufacturing company, a firm about to begin making Minnow buckets. His car was found against a tree and nothing in his effects indicated his business or what he was doing in that area, the patrol said.

His brother, L. D. Tillery, said Joeph had no financial worries, but had been fretting recently over the shortage of steel for his plant.

Mrs. Tillery told Cornie Wood, Morgan county sheriff, that her husband had been in ill health for several years and ascribed her husbands condition the result of an operation two years ago. She added that he had been nervous and unable to sleep.

Birch L. Medicus, Morgan county coroner will conduct the inquest.

Legal Aspects of Steel Peace Are Being Considered At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 10—(AP)—The great steel strike of 1949 tonight neared an end as United States Steel corporation and the CIO United Steelworkers put together terms for a settlement.

Lawyers for union and company worked all day polishing up the pension and insurance agreement which may be signed tomorrow.

One source who can't be quoted by name said flatly:

"It's the Bethlehem agreement here, too."

No high officials of the union would confirm his statement. But observers pointed out that five other large steel producers found the Bethlehem Steel company's formula good enough for them.

There were indications lawyers were struggling only with purely legal aspects of the agreement.

The union scheduled these important sessions for what may be a significant Armistice Day in the nation's most expensive steel strike:

1. The 35-man union negotiating team will convene at 8 a. m. (CST).

2. The full negotiating teams of both union and company are slated to meet at 9 a. m. (CST.)

3. The union' spowerful wage-policy committee is called to a 2 p. m. (CST) session.

Bargaining Team Met

The union's bargaining team met this this afternoon but was dismissed by David J. McDonald, steelworker secretary - treasurer, who said:

"We simply released the committee until morning. The lawyers' conference are continuing. We won't have an agreement until we get the committee's aproval."

Union President Philip Murray paid a casual visit to newsmen waiting in an anteroom at union headquarters.

"There will be no announcement tonight," Murray declared.

Asked if the 10 a. m. meeting ruled out the possibility of a peace announcement after the earlier sesion, the labor chieftain laughed and said:

"You are trying to negotiate a contact with me. You newsmen are too smart. You're a mile and half ahead of me."

The union said official of the Inland Steel company were in Pittsburgh but insisted there were no developments pointing toward a settlement with that firm.

Only other development in negotiations was a report the union vetoed a proposed agreement with Wheeling (W. Va.) Steel Corporation employing 12,500 because it failed to follow the Bethlehem settlement pattern. Company and union sources withheld comment. Bargaining talks were recessed.

Peace Means Virtual End

Peace between the union and U. S. Steel would mean the virtual end of the 41-day old strike. Big Steel employes 150,000 and produces about one-third of the country's steel.

The corporation's huge capacity, added to that of the five large producers already agreed to strike demands and back at work, would return the industry's operating rate to near normal.

More than a score of steel companies in basic steel—which produce raw steel—and in the fabricating industry—which processes raw steel into finished products—have yet to sign.

Union sources confidently predicted those firms would quickly sign up, once U. S. Steel is in the fold.

Terrace at Pool Ready to Seed

The terrace and lawn surrounding the Municipal swimming pool at Liberty park was put in good shape by city employes, and is now ready to have grass seed sowed upon it.

The 250 by 135-foot lawn was rolled, graded, disked, harrowed and had fertilizer and plenty of rich black dirt spread upon the ground recently in preparation for grass seeding.

James I. Collins, city engineer, said various types of grass seed would be sowed today. It will take about 60 days for the seed to germinate, and eventually, a stand of blue grass will surround the pool.

The intention of the park board and other city officials are to make the surroundings around the modern pool as beautiful as possible.

2 Deaths In Auto Collision

Miss Catherine E. Fowler and Mrs. Annie Stamper Dead; 8 Injured

Miss Catherine E. Fowler, about 70, was instantly killed and Mrs. Annie Stamper, widow of the late J. A. Stamper, 73 both of 612 South Park avenue, was fatally injured in a head-on collision of two automobiles on U. S. Highway 65, three miles south of Sedalia and about 200 yards north of Flat Creek Inn, shortly before 6 o'clock, Friday night. Eight other persons were injured and taken to the Bothwell hospital.

Mrs. Stamper died at the Bothwell hospital at midnight Saturday.

Mrs. Anna Wilhoit, 35, wife of D. B. Wilhoit, route one, Sedalia, was the driver of the car in which Miss Fowler, Mrs. Stamper and six other were riding. She was driving her 1949 Ford sedan north on the highway toward Sedalia when her car and a 1947 Ford sedan driven by John W. Schrewsbury, 59, 3839 Harrison avenue, Kansas City, collided. Schrewsbury was headed south.

Manslaughter charges were filed against Schrewsbury in the court of Magistrate W. M. Ilgenfritz, Saturday morning. He was arraigned in court, Saturday afternoon and his bond set at $2,000. The bond was furnished by Forest E., and Carrie Fletcher, 3721 Summit avenue, Kansas City. The preliminary hearing was set for Thursday, November 10.

Dead:

Miss Catherine E. Fowler, about 70, 612 South Park avenue.

Mrs. J. A. Stamper, 73, 612 South Park avenue. She suffered a fracture of the pelvis, internal injuries, shock, abrasions and bruises.

Injured:

Mrs. A. Earl Wingate, 56, R. F. D. No. 4, Sedalia, condition not believed too serious. Concussion, bruises and facial lacerations, and shock.

Miss Mary Foster, 55, St. Joseph, Mo., bruises and slight lacerations. Condition not believed serious. Visiting her cousin Mrs. Stamper.

Mrs. Anna Wilhoit, 35, wife of D. B. Wilhoit, R. F. D. No. 1, Sedalia. Possible fracture of the jaw, lacerations of the mouth, severe laceration of the tongue, multi-abrasions of the knees and elbows. She was driving her car.

Daniel Wilhoit, 2 year old son of Mrs. Wilhoit, suffered possible fracture of the upper part of the jaw, two front teeth knocked out. Bruises and abrasions.

Mrs. Joella Kay, 65, St. Joseph, Mo., suffered fracture of the left wrist, bruises and shock. Condition not believed to be too serious. She was visiting her cousin Mrs. Stamper.

John W. Schrewsbury, 59, 3839 Harrison, Kansas City, driver of other car. Suffered cuts on the right eye lid and forehead, laceration on the bridge of his nose, and shock. His condition is not believed serious.

All available ambulances were rushed to the scene and the injured were taken to the hospital in those emergency vehicles and a reporter's automobile. Doctors C. Gordon Stauffacher, A. L. Walters, Carl Siegel, F. B. Long and John Lamy gave medical attention to the injured.

Mrs. Wilhoit told State Trooper Pete Stohr she saw the car approaching in her direction, tried to avoid the collision.

Schrewsbury questioned by Troper Stohr and a newspaper reporter, said he was en route to his place on the Lake of the Ozarks near Gravois Beach. He said, "I was going along minding my own business about 30 or 35 miles an hour. I was on my own side of the road." He didn't appear to realize just what had happened and at first refused to be taken to a hospital.

Agreed To Blood Test

Trooper Stohr ordered the man taken to the hospital for medical treatment. At the hospital he agreed to a blood test and samples of his blood were taken to the state patrol laboratory at Jefferson City by Trooper Stohr.

Dr. Stauffacher, corner, said Miss Flower was killed instantly suffering crushed chest, fractured right leg and cuts and abrasions. Miss Fowler was riding in the front seat with Mrs. Stamper and was next to the door. The Wilhoit baby was also in the front seat.

Dr. Stauffacher after conferring with William F. Brown, prosecuting attorney, who was also called to the scene of the wreck, stated that he would not hold an inquest.

Returning From Visit

Those in the Wilholt automobile had been to the Wilhoit farm, known as the Charles Wingate farm and the Spring Fork Stock Farm, where they visited during the day. Mrs. Wilhoit was bringing them back to Sedalia. With the exception of Miss Fowler they are all relatives.

Both automobiles were badly wrecked, the Wilhoit car being towed to Sedalia by Chamberlain's wrecker and the Schrewsbury car was taken to the Hamlin service station.

Miss Catherine E. Fowler was the daughter of the late William and Elsie Fowler, pioneer residents of Pettis county.

She was born near Hughesville, Mo., and was the oldest of ten children.

Miss Fowler was a member of the Hughesville Presbyterian church.

Preceeding her in death besides her parents were three sisters and one brother, Mrs. J. M. Wiley, Mrs. Frank Martin, Mrs. Ed Callis and Joe Fowler.

Surviving her are the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. Ray W. Hunt, 1405 West Third street, Sedalia, William P. Fowler and John A. Fowler, Hughesville, Mrs. J. H. Biddison, Houston, Texas, James Fowler, Dallas, Texas.

J. Waldman Well Known Merchant Dies

Went to California After Retiring from Business in 1943

Jacob Waldman, well known pioneer merchant of Sedalia but of recent years a resident of Los Angeles, Calif., having retired from business in Sedalia in 1943, died at the General hospital in Los Angeles about 6:30 o'clock Wednesday night. He had been in poor health for several years.

Mr. Waldman was born in Berdichev, Russia, more than ninety years ago. As a young boy he left home and made his way to Turkey by boat. To gain his freedom from Odessa, Russia, he hid himself beneath the deck cargo of a ship. He worked his way as a sailor from Turkey to Bordeaux, France, thence to the West Indies and then to New York.

Came West from New York

In New York he worked for various mercantile firms for several years. Later he heard of the opportunities out west and decided to go to the new lands of the United States. He was in the New York railroad station trying to decide where to go and his destination was determined when a man approached the ticket window and asked for a ticket to Kansas City. He too obtained a ticket to Kansas City. He remained there a very short time and hearing of homestead lands in Nebraska, he went there. Later he purchased a mercantile wagon and toured Nebraska and surrounding territories for several years.

Mr. Waldman then settled in Grand Island, Neb., and went into business with the late Moses Chasnoff. They operated the store for a short time and he sold his interests and went to Lincoln, Neb., where he owned and operated a merchandising store for several years. Selling his interests in Lincoln, Neb., he returned to Kansas City and upon arriving there heard of the boom in Sedalia and came here and went in business.

In Business in Sedalia

He operated a store at 111 West Main street, known as the Hub and also a place of business at 120 South Ohio avenue. Later he had The Model, 124 South Ohio About 1908 he opened the Waldman Clothing Store at the corner of Second street and Ohio avenue, and from time to time he expanded the store and before he retired his business took in three store rooms. Mr. Waldman was associated in business with his two sons, William J. and Harry E. Waldman.

Mr. Waldman closed out his business in December of 1943 and on January 1, 1944 left Sedalia for California to make his home in Los Angeles.

He was married to Sarah Yanow and they celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary at their home then at 1102 West Fourth street about ten years ago.

Surviving him is his widow, of the family home, 642 South Burnside, Los Angeles; his son, Harry E. Waldman, North Long Beach, Calif.; daughter, Mrs. Rose Wexler, Palm Springs, Calif., all of whom were with him at the time of his death. Dr. R. S. Waldman, William J. Tax Payments Are Coming In Faster County tax statements are being mailed out as fast as they can be assimilated, Miss Hazel Palmer county collector said. Many persons pay the taxes of various members of their family or deceased persons, which necessiates time in compiling, Miss Palmer explained.

The statements of merchants ad valorem taxes were sent out first, accompanied by statemnts of all their other taxes, as far as same could be determined, Miss Palmer said.

The collector said tax payments are coming in faster this year than although the line at the window is not so crowded. This is attributed to the return of tax statements with checks for payment, Miss Palmer said.

Optimists Aid To Churches

Members of Junior Club to Services Today

This morning, members of the Junior Optimist club of Sedalia, will attend church and Sunday School of their choice, as has been their custom since they became members of the original group known as the Junior G. Men. Prior to their membership in the club, only about four out of seventy five boys attended Sunday School or church. Now, these boys, voluntarily, through encouragement of their leaders, hold a ninety percent attendance record each Sunday.

For members who are too far from the church or Sunday School of their choice, a small bus provides transportation. This bus is driven by Jim Reed, member of Sedalia Optimist Club, and provides transportation for from seventeen to twenty boys each Sunday, These boys are also dropped off at the Churches and Sunday Schools of their own choice.

Junior Optimists

The boys two clubs are no longer known as Junior G Men, but are now known as Junior Optimists clubs, with complete charters, similar to those provided for the senior clubs, and with its membership cards, entitling them to the priviliges of Junior Optimists wherever they go.

Two group operate at present, the "East-Enders," meeting on Monday night at Washington School, under the supervision of Robert Phillips, Dr. Ben Klein, and W. D. Steele. The "Beevers" meet at Mark Twain School every Wednesday night under the supervision of James Reed. Ernest Cummins, and John Hill. Each club meets 52 times during the year, and in addition to this, hikes are taken during the summer and outings are provided.

Monday night at seven P. M. a program to which the public is invited will be provided at Washington School. The program will be staged by the members of the "East-Enders" Junior Optimist Club, and consisting of boxing, wrestling and tumbling exhibitions.

Not to our surprise but very much to our satifaction, comes the information that Area Office has sent in a request, via long distance, for more volunteers from this Chapter to report at Jefferson City, November 11, to help the Blood Unit from the St. Louis Center. Such was the record of the volunteers who represented the Chapter last month, that their services are regarded as invaluable.

Last Wednesday, Mrs. Hazel Page, Field Representative from Area Office, and Mrs. John McClure, newly elected executive-secretary from Saline County, visited the chapter. Our office system and records are frequently referred to by Area Office as shining examples of what a Red Cross office should be.

Give Lectures on Archeology

Roy Weldon of Warrensburg, Archeologist and explorer, who has spent eighteen years studying Central American Archeology, their customs and culture, will present seven lectures for the benefit of Sedalia residents, during October and November. He will be presented by the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, located at 9th and Montgomery. The lectures will be given at 7:45 on Sunday evenings October 23 and 30, and November 6 and 13, and conclude with the evenings of November 14, 16 and 17.

Mr. Weldon has made three trips to Mexico, Central America and South America, the third one being made in February, March and April of 1949, at which time he was accompanied by Francis Anderson, of Holden.

He has personally visited many of the fabulous ruins in those countries and has brought back hundreds of pictures, in color, which will be shown in his lectures. "Evidences abound to show how and why Scientists are becoming convinced that the bearded White God, Quetzal Coatl, which native legend and archaeology describe so completely, is Jesus Christ himself," says Mr. Weldon. "Archaeology from Mexico to Bolivia bears emblems of crosses, healing hands, a God of Light and goodness, sacraments of the Last Supper, and other evidences of Christianity," he claims.

All seven lectures will be open to the public and a free will offering will be taken. Roe B. Vincent is Pastor and extends a cordial invitation to all to attend.

Value of Gold Not Change

President States It Will Not be Done During Time He Is President

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 — (AP) — President Truman said today there will be no change in the value of gold as long as he is president.

The President replied with what he described as a categorical no when he was asked if anyone in the administration was giving consideration to raising the price of gold as a means of reducing the national debt.

Any such action would have to take the form of a recommendation to Congress.

The answer to the question, Mr. Truman asserted, is a categorical no. As long as he is President of the United States, he said, the value of gold is fixed.

The $35 an ounce U. S. price for gold has been in effect since January, 1935.

It was set when President Roosevelt "revalued" the paper dollar by lifting the government's buying or selling price from $20.67 an ounce which had been in effect for decades.

Rumors Persisted

Rumors that the gold price would be lifted again have been persistent in financial circles and elsewhere outside the government.

Shares in gold mining enterprises have moved up several times as the rumors became intense.

Persistence of these reports also is believed by government officials to be a major circumstance in causing gold to start moving from the U. S. to foreign countries recently. The metal had poured into this country for the last 15 years without interruption except in wartime.

Certain foreign countries, officials surmised, have been buying gold from this government on the theory that there might be something to the rumor despite repeated and emphatic denials by Secretary of the Treasury Snyder.

One point of the rumors was that the administration, by raising the paper-dollar price of gold, would have a gain through increasing the value of the $24,500,000,000 stock of gold it now owns. The U. S. stock is about three-fifths of the world gold supply.

The "gain," so the rumors went, could then be used for issuing paper dollars to pay part of the $256,800,000,000 federal debt.

Will Close Mail Order House

HANNIBAL, Mo., Nov. 10.—(AP)—The American Sales Agency, Inc., will close its cigarette mail order house here this week because of a new federal regulation governing the sales.

The announcement was made today by Edward Tweel, the company's sales representative.

He is a nephew of Nicholas J. Tweel of Huntington, W. Va., the concern's president, who said several days ago he would fight the new law.

The regulation requires that cigarette mail order houses doing interstate business provide lists of their customers and pay cigarette taxes to the state.

Young Tweel said the office here would be closed along with those at Alexandria, Va., and Asheville, N. C., and that all three would consolidate at the main offices in Huntington to await outcome of an anticipated court fight over the new law.

Verdict In Suit To Defendant

A circuit court jury found the issues in favor of the defendant Thursday afternoon in the case of Daisy Van Meter against the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad company, a corporation, in a damage suit which asked for $15,000 for alleged wrongful death to plaintiff's husband, who died as a result of being struck by a train near Leeton on or about October 24, 1947.

The trial lasted a day and half.

The jury was composed of W. D. Steele, Egbert Means, C. E. Wells, R. N. Neffendroph, F. C. Chaney, Mrs. Lewis Schlobohm, J. V. Ramey, Charles Smith, Herschel Summers, Ray Haines, Ernest Bommer and George Coffman.

Attorneys for the plaintiff were: Frank T. Armstrong and Thomas C. Swanson of Kansas City. John T. Martin represented the defendant.

Steel Strike Has Paralyzing Effect

DETROIT, Nov. 10—(AP)—Pushing its paralyzing effects deeper into the car industry, the steel shortage will throw some 34,000 more auto workers out of their jobs within two weeks.

About 91,000 Detroit area employes of Chrysler Corp., have been idle since last Friday, when the corporation shut down its Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler divisions because of the steel tieup.

At the close of tomorrow's shift, Willys-Overland in Toledo will add 7,000 to the loyoff list.

Nash Motors plans to shut down its two main Wisconsin plants Nov. 18, idling 13,000 more workers.

The other major shutdown is Pontiac division of General Motors, which will take 14,000 off its payroll Nov. 23.

Hudson Motor Car Co., employing 12,000 production workers, halted assembly lines at the close of today's shifts, but planned to reopen Monday.

A four-day work week has been put into effect in a number of auto and auto supply plants, notably several divisions of General Motors.

The Ford Motor Co., has announced it can keep up production at slightly reduced schedules for the rest of November. Ford manufactures a large part of its own steel.

Four Firemen Die in Collision

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Four firemen were killed and four injured when two fire engines, racing to answer an alarm, collided at an intersection near Pimlico race track in Northeast Baltimore yesterday.

"Both of them were really travelling," said a filling station attendant who saw the trucks speeding for the corner. He estimated that one, a hook-and-ladder, was doing between 50 and 60 miles an hour, while the other, a hose truck, was doing about 35 or 40.

"Both of them had their sirens screaming and I guess they just couldn't hear each other," the witness added.

The eight firemen, four on each engine, were hurled through the air by the violence of the impact.

The dead were identified as Joseph A. Remeikis, 35; Charles Paff, 57; James W. Haynie, 26, and Joseph B. Magaha, 25.

Can't Write, But Passes Bad Checks

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Police are looking for a man who has succeeded in passing bad checks all over town despite a formidable handicap:

He can't write.

The check-passer is described as being about 75 years old, six feet tall, and clad in faded blue overalls.

Equipped with a social security card as identification, he has been ambling into stores and offering down payments—by check—on merchandise.

The checks invariably are for much more than the amount of the down payment.

Damage Suit Is Filed Against Swift And Co.

Oscar Y. Thomas filed a damage suit Thursday in the circuit clerk's office, against Swift and company, a corporation, and against Charles E. Ramseyer.

The plaintiff alleges that on November 2, the defendant was neglectful in his driving duties and caused an accident which injured the plaintiff until he can not freely do his work, and he asks a judgment of $7,500 as a compensation.

Also the plaintiff alleges that his car was damaged and asks another $400 as compensation for this damage.

Hogs Drop Below Price Ceiling

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Live hog prices sank below the price ceiling of late 1946 today when the best price on the market was $16.20 a hundred pounds. This was a nickel under the ceiling set at the beginning of September, 1946, and in effect until Oct. 15 that year.

The new three-year low compares with the alltime record high of $31.85 set Aug. 19 last year. A year ago today the beset price on the Chicago market was $23.00.

Two Die In Plane Crash At Browning

BROWNING, Mo., Nov.10—(AP)—Two young men were killed here today when a light plane crashed and burned at the edge of town.

The two were identified as Charles E. Christy, 22, owner and pilot of the plane, and Gene Carter, 18, both of Browning.

The plane stalled during the takeoff from a road on the outskirts of the town, and crashed and burned. The two bodies were burned beyond recognition.

Christy was the son of Ban Christy, and was in partnership with his father in operation of a garage here.

Carter, who graduated from high school here last spring is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carter. He had been working at the Burlington railroad station.

Smith-Cotton To Hold An Archives Dance

The Smith-Cotton Archives, the school year-book, staff held an election Wednesday morning to decide whether or not the students wanted an Archives Ball this year. The vote was overwhelmingly for a dance.

The Ball will be held on December 22 and will be carried out on a Christmas theme. This dance which is sponsored by the Archives staff will be a formal-program affair and all alumni in college are invited to attend.

There will be a crowning of the queen who was chosen by the students and she and her attendants will reign over the dance.

They are: Queen, Joyce Kubli, attendants, Alberta Runge, Patty Croy, Margaret Ann Wade and Barbara Tweet.

Two Held For Contempt Are Given Release

Accused Of Evading Questions In Grand Jury Investigation

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10—(AP)—Nathan Bassin and Max Ducov, beer distributors, were released from jail tonight after they appeared before a federal grand jury and cleared themselves of contempt charges.

The grand jury, investigating gambling and crime, had charged the two men with evading questions concerning their business dealings.

Appear Before Jury Again

Late today, after a two-hour conference between defense attorneys and government attorneys, Bassin and Ducov, brothers-in-law, volunteered to appear before the grand jury again.

Bassin was questioned first, about 20 minutes. He appeared cheerful before and after his session.

Then Ducov, appearing worried and fretful, was closeted with the jury from 5:07 p. m. to 5:40 p. m. Then the jury recessed for dinner and called him back in at 7:25 o'clock. At 10:50 o'clock the men were released.

Vincent P. Russo, special assistant to the attorney general, drove to Judge Duncan's home to get his signature on the release order.

In a three-day hearing on the contempt charges the government alleged Bassin did not tell truthfully where he got $7,500 with which he bought a tavern and beer agency.

Ft. Sill Personnel Chief Is Killed

LAWTON, Okla., Nov. 10—(AP)—Fort Sill's chief of civilian personnel was killed in his home tonight and a dismissed assistant librarian at the Army post admitted the shooting.

Police Chief Joe Cable said 45-year-old James T. Downen's death climaxed an argument between him and A. H. Farish, 36, who was fired about two months ago.

Farish is in jail here. No charges have been filed.

Maj. Frank J. Petrilli, who lives across the street from the Downen home, was the first to arrive on the scene. He said Farish gave him a .25-caliber pistol.

Downen's wife and 17-year-old daughter were in another part of the house when the fatal shot was fired as he sat in a living room chair.

Downen has been at Sill about two and a half years. He is a native of Durant.

Seven Injured As Bus Overturns

DESERT CENTER, Calif., Nov. 10—(AP)—A greyhound bus went out of control on rain wet pavement and overturned today, injuring seven persons and shaking up at least 25 others. The accident on U. S. highway 60 nine miles east of here, occurred when the bus driver tried to avoid hitting an automobile.

None of the injuries was believed serious, Blythe Community Hospital said.

Among those who were kept in the hospital for observation are: Mrs. Wanda B. Stoner, 27, (626 N. Nebraska) Oklahoma City and Mrs. Everett Wilson, 48, (472 W. 6th St.) Hazelton, Kas.

Fire Companies Busy Thursday

The Fire companies were kept busy this afternoon in extingushing grass fires.

The first run was made to the residence of Mrs. Dan Cronan, 1625 East Fifth street. The firemen used one booster line to quickly put out a fire in a garden which caused no damage. Residents of the home were appreciative of the prompt response as an occupant of the home was very ill. A barn and garage were saveed.

An hour later, the firemen were called to a vacant lot in the 600 block on East Fifth street to extinguish a grass fire which caused no damage.

At 2:29 p. m., the fire trucks went to the residence of Charles Morrison, 308 North Grand avenue,. Two pumps buckets were used on the grass blaze which caused no damage.

Miners Return To Soft Coal Pits on Order

Production of Coal Slowly is Nearing Normal

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Soft coal production climbed slowly toward normal today as bituminous union miners returned to the pits east of the Mississippi for the first time since September 19.

Many Western Pennsylvania miners, where some 56,000 work in commercial and steel company owned operations, waited for local union meetings before picking up picks and shovels again. They have been idle almost eight weeks.

Operator sources, who refused to be identified, spoke of the diggers' dissatisfaction with the strike and their eagerness to get back on the payrolls.

"Once the miners are back at work, I think they'll stay there," declared one veteran mine owner.

Some miners returned to work at 4 p. m. yesterday, but the bulk are expected back today. Vice President Harry Suter of the Western Pennsylvania coal operators estimated 80 per cent of normal working forces will answer whistles by the time the late afternoon shifts start.

Most mines were reported to be in good shape and ready to resume production. Others gave the first men reporting back the job of preparing the pits for normay operations.

The unpredictable Lewis ordered his 378,000 soft coal miners east of the Mississippi to go back to the pits until midnight, November 30. They had been idle eight weeks.

Lewis is still trying to get a contract to replace the one which expired last June 30.

Want Issue Settled

And some of Lewis' members say they don't like the idea of going back to work until the contract issue is settled. But, as always, they're following Lewis' orders.

"Why go back for just three weeks?" was the general reaction among a sober-faced group of miners at nearby Bridgeville when they learned of Lewis' dramatic move.

"We might as well stay out until we get something," said one UMW member.

"After the 30th, we'll be at it (on strike) again," another miner declared grimly.

At Russellton, near Pittsburgh, about 95 per cent of the striking miners were hunting when Lewis' orders came. One fellow, his gun on his shoulder and a rabbit in his hand, said he'd be glad to work.

"I'm tired of just loafing around," he said.

Joseph Mautino, president of Local 4426 at Harmarville, Pa., said his men would meet today. He added:

"What the boys decide is okay with me. They are very bitter, but Mr. Lewis' orders will send them back to work. They may grumble a lot, but they'll always do what Lewis tells them."

Plant a Fruit Orchard Friday

BOONILLE, Mo., Nov. 10.—(AP)—The planting of a 35-acre fruit orchard is expected to attract about 3,500 persons tomorrow.

Known as the state orchard of tomorrow day, the event is sponsored by the University of Missouri, the Missouri State Historical Society and the Boonville Chamber of Commerce. It will be held at the C. C. Bell orchards east of here.

The demonstration will include planting, pruning, construction of terraces and application of trunk protectors.

A feature of the event will be an apple pie six feet in diameter. The first 2,000 persons to register will receive a slice of the pie at the noon luncheon.

Asks Audit for Miners' Welfare Fund

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) asked today for a court audit of operations of the coal miners' welfare fund since he has been one of its trustees.

When that has been done and his own actions as a trustee have been reviewed, he asked the U. S. district court here to let him get off the board.

Bridges' petition to the court was in some degree his response to a plea by Ezra Van Horn, former coal operator member of the board, to be absolved of any responsibility for the way the multi-million dollar welfare fund has been administered.

State of Siege Is Proclaimed At Bogota

Report Hundreds Died in Colombia During Clashes

BOGOTA, Colombia, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Colombia's conservative government has decreed a state of siege and suspended all sessions of the Liberal-dominated congress in a move climaxing weeks of pre-election clashes in which hundreds reportedly have died.

Censorship of press and radio also was ordered by President Mariano Ospino Perez.

(News of the state of siege was filed last night by the Associated Press correspondent in Bogota and was not received in New York until this morning).

The state of siege was proclaimed last night after troops cordoned off Colombia's capitol building and stood guard throughout the country to suppress any further outbreaks of the bitter fighting which has raged for the past month between Liberals and Conservatives.

The president also suspended sessions of departmental assemblies and municipal councils.

Assassination Reports

Widespread rumors of assassination attempts againt political leaders were denied officially by the national radio.

Many business places in the center of the city closed early yesterday afternoon as troops began moving through the streets.

Earlier yesterday the government imposed a 9 p. m. to dawn curfew in Bogota and in Cali, Colombia's fourth largest city, to keep everyone off the streets at night.

Troops were dispatched to strategic points throughout the country. Government buildings were put under heavier guard. Congress members and newspaper reporters were barred from the capitol building.

Speculation grew that the army might take over power from the civilian government to curb the bloody outbreaks between conservative and liberal party supporters.

Might Delay Voting

Such action might postpone the balloting scheduled Nov. 27 to name a successor to conservative President Mariano Ospina Perez.

Though Bogota has been free of political violence recently, party newspapers in recent weeks have reported a steadily rising wave of hard fighting between groups of conservative and liberal partisans. Each party blames the other for the fighting.

The government has confirmed only a few of the reports. Press accounts put the death toll at more than 500 in the last two weeks of October alone.

The conservatives so far have appeared determined to hold the election Nov .27, with Laureano Gomez as their candidate. The liberals have said they will boycott the voting. They charge the government has not preserved order and any election now would not be a free vote.

Liberal leaders last night reiterated they would not recognize the result of any election now.

Though President Ospina and his government are all conservatives, the liberals have a majority in both houses of congress. Their leaders have threatened to push through a proposal for a four-man provisional government to succeed Ospina when his term ends next May 5.

Doomed Husband Still Wants Wife

BREMERTON, Wash., Nov. 10—(AP)—A 34-year-old husband, whose wife is charged with attempting his murder to put an end to what she called his persistent love making, today dusted off an offside proposal of marriage.

The husband, Wilford Piatt, showed reporters a letter which he received from a New York City woman.

"Wilford," It read in part, "I would never get tired of your love making."

Piatt has sand he wanted his wife back despite her signed statement that she made a $324 down payment on an unfulfilled plot to have him killed.

"I'm not interested in any proposals unless the woman has enough money to help me get my wife out of jail," he said.

Value of Gold Not Change

President States It Will Not be Done During Time He Is President

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 —(AP)— President Truman said today there will be no change in the value of gold as long as he is president.

The President replied with what he described as a categorical no when he was asked if anyone in the administration was giving consideration to raising the price of gold as a means of reducing the national debt.

Any such action would have to take the form of a recommendation to Congress.

The answer to the question, Mr. Truman asserted, is a categorical no. As long as he is President of the United States, he said, the value of gold is fixed.

The $35 an ounce U. S. price for gold has been in effect since January, 1935.

It was set when President Roosevelt "revalued" the paper dollar by lifting the government's buying or selling price from $20.67 an ounce which had been in effect for decades.

Rumors Persisted

Rumors that the gold price would be lifted again have been persistent in financial circles and elsewhere outside the government.

Shares in gold mining enterprises have moved up several times as the rumors became intense.

Persistence of these reports also is believed by government officials to be a major circumstance in causing gold to start moving from the U. S. to foreign countries recently. The metal had poured into this country for the last 15 years without interruption except in wartime.

Certain foreign countries, officials surmised, have been buying gold from this government on the theory that there might be something to the rumor despite repeated and emphatic denials by Secretary of the Treasury Snyder.

One point of the rumors was that the administration, by raising the paper-dollar price of gold, would have a gain through increasing the value of the $24,500,000,000 stock of gold it now owns. The U. S. stock is about three-fifths of the world gold supply.

The "gain," so the rumors went, could then be used for issuing paper dollars to pay part of the $256,800,000,000 federal debt.

Found Dead With Throat Cut

The body of Joseph O. Tillery, 37 years of age, of 5238 Paseo, Kansas City, was found about 40 feet from his automobile, about 15 miles southeast of Versailles on Lake Road 8, Wednesday night about 10:30 o'clock.

The body was found lying on an upgrade in a ditch, and lying on his back in an upright position. His throat was cut "from ear to ear" according to the state highway patrol. The cut was said to have been about 10 inches deep. Two razor blades were found on the front seat of the car, which is a 1947 Buick coach.

The highway patrol reported Tillery was "believed murdered." A coroner's inquest was held this afternoon at Kidwell funeral home in Versailles, conducted by Birch L. Medicus, coroner of Morgan county. His widow, Mrs. Lois Tillery and their six - year - old daughter, and three brothers arrived today at Versailles.

His car was found against a tree, and nothing in the man's effects indicated what his business was or why he was in the area, the patrol said. The body is being held at Kidwell funeral home. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Tillery was an owner of the Minnow Life Manufacturing company and had been preparing the fire to make minnow buckets.

His brother, L. D. Tillery, said Joseph had no financial worries, but had been fretting recently over the difficulty of getting steel for his plant because of the national steel strike.

Mrs. Tillery told Cornie Wood, Morgan county sheriff, that her husband had been in ill health for several years, following a stomach ulcer operation. She said he recently had been nervous and unable to sleep.

Boys Find Old Grenades

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Fiveboys found 16 hand grenades in a muddy bayou. They played with them for two days. Not a grenade exploded.

Ammunition expert Sol Cohen said the boys were lucky they didn't get blown to bits.

The grenades appeared old. But Cohen, chief ammunition inspector at the San Jacinto ordnance depot, said some explosives can stay under water for years without losing their power.

Theodore Buselmier, 15, Joe Oubre, 13, Lee Wilson, 11, David McWilliams, 12, and Dan Davidson, 11, found the grenades Monday.

One boy said he dropped a grenade on a sidewalk—just to scare a girl.

Armistice Day Parade at 10 A. M. Friday

Rev. Arnold to Give Address at The Court House

The Armistice Day parade, Friday will move off at 10:00 o'clock in the morning from Broadway and Ohio avenue, led by a group of horseback riders, followed by the Smith-Cotton high school band. Mayor Julian H. Bagby and Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors will be among the eight or ten horsemen.

Next in line will be the massed colors of the various veterans' organizations, followed by the veterans, all in one body. All veterans are invited to join the parade.

Following the veterans will be the Gold Star Mothers, who will be riding in cars, followed by the various auxiliaries of veterans' organizations.

The Hubbard high school band will be next in line of march and will also be celebrating homecoming day with a football game at Liberty park that afternoon.

Behind the Hubbard band will be the Boy and Girl Scouts of Sedalia.

Floats to be in Line

The various floats entered will then be placed in the line of march as they come into position or as they report. The dead line for float entries will be 9:45 a. m. Friday. The judges for the floats will be chairman, Judge J. V. Kesterson, Judge A. M. Harlan and Judge W. L. Marlin. Prizes for the best floats will be awarded after the ceremony. All floats are to report at the assembly area at Tenth street and Ohio avenue, prior to the parade.

Observances of Armistice day will follow the parade at 11 a.m. in front of the court house in tribute to fallen members of the armed forces. The Rev. Walter P. Arnold will be the principal speaker and Rev. D. Warren Neal, will give the invocation and benediction.

The Veterans Council, of which Walter McMellen is president, is sponsoring the Armistice day ceremony. All downtown stores will be closed until noon.

Asks Audit for Miners' Welfare Fund

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) asked today for a court audit of operations of the coal miners' welfare fund since he has been one of its trustees.

When that has been done and his own actions as a trustee have been reviewed, he asked the U. S. district court here to let him get off the board.

Bridges' petition to the court was in some degree his response to a plea by Ezra Van Horn, former coal operator member of the board, to be absolved of any responsibility for the way the multi-million dollar welfare fund has been administered.

Congressman Christopher is Guest Speaker

Tells Kiwanians Of Outlay to Keep The Peace

A report on legislative experiences in Congress was made by Congressman George H. Christopher, Sixth Missouri district, of Amoret, before members of the Sedalia Kiwanis club and guests in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon.

Dr. Floyd Lively was program chairman and George H. Scruton introduced Mr. Christopher.

The congressman said we gave the military 15.6 billion dollars and to give an idea how large a sum of money that is, the Missouri valley, exclusive of railroads, telegraph wires and incorporated towns is valued by the agriculture department at 9.1 billion dollars. The speaker said he had to think a long time before rendering a decision. The military bill was passed by the House in April and came back to the Senate and passed in October.

Keep Military Strong

The speaker, in discussing the Marshall plan, said it was the first time in history of the human race that any nation ever considered spending vast sums of money in hopes of securing peace. He said if war should come, many times the cost of the Marshall plan would have to be appropriated the first day war was declared to conduct the conflict.

"In my opinion," Rep. Christopher said, "if we keep ourselves militarily strong, Russia would probably hesitate to start actual hostilities."

In answering the question what Congress was going to do about taxes, he replied, "Nobody is going to give you anything for nothing and if some one offers to, take another look at him. He probably has an ax to grind."

Rep. Christopher said at the conclusion of his speech, "my intention is to render conscientious service to the folks in my district."

Mr. Christopher spoke before a group of Pettis county committeemen of the Production and Marketing Administration in the office at 209½ South Ohio avenue at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

National Kid Day

Preceding the congressman's talk a recording announcement was played calling attention to Kiwanis sponsored National Kid day which will be observed in Sedalia and throughout the country Saturday, November 19.

Clubs guests were: Marvin Durst, Butler, secretary to Congressman Christopher A. W. Haller with Bert Hathaway; Judge Frank Monroe with Will Hurley; Mayor Julian Bagby, Atwell Bohling, Bryan Howe and Jas. Harms with Henry Salveter; James Reed with the Rev. Warren L. Botkin; Claude Boul with L. H. Archias, Jr.; Mrs. Clyde Heynen with Clyde Heynen; Robert George with Ken Miller; Abe Silverman with I. H. Reed; George H. Trader and D. Kelly Scruton with George H. Scruton; W. C. Askew and Judge E. W. Couey with Ben Robinson; Jack Cunningham with Art Morgan; W. B. Rich and C. C. Czeschin with J. C. Griffin; William Brown with Mike Giokaris; Emmett Sullivan with Edw. Mullaley; John Zander and Dr. M. E. Gouge with Dr. Floyd Lively and Frank Hayes with W. F. Keyser.

Terrace at Pool Ready to Seed

The terrace and lawn surrounding the Municipal swimming pool at Liberty park was put in good shape by city employes, and is now ready to have grass seed sowed upon it.

The 250 by 135-foot lawn was rolled, graded, disked, harrowed and had fertilizer and plenty of rich black dirt spread upon the ground recently in preparation for grass seeding.

James I. Collins, city engineer, said various types of grass seed would be sowed today. It will take about 60 days for the seed to germinate, and eventually, a stand of blue grass will surround the pool.

The intention of the park board and other city officials are to make the surroundigs around the modern pool as beautiful as possible.

Stores Be Closed Until Noon Friday

The retail stores in the business district will close until noon Friday in observance of Armistice Day, but will open at 12:00 o'clock noon and will remain open until 5:00 o'clock.

Find Body After Room Afire

ST. JOSEPH, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Firemen who extinguished a blaze at a rooming house early today found the body of Tommy Dunn, about 60, in his room. They said he probably was suffocated by smoke.

Dunn was a barber.

Can't Write, But Passes Bad Checks

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Police are looking for a man who has succeeded in passing bad checks all over town despite a formidable handicap:

He can't write.

The check-passer is described as being about 75 years old, six feet tall, and clad in faded blue overalls.

Equipped with a social security card as identification, he has been ambling into stores and offering down payments—by check—on merchandise.

The checks invariably are for much more than the amount of the down payment.

Santa Claus Will Appear Early At Business Houses

The contract for Christmas Street Decorations to the Raines Decorating Mo., was approved Wednesday evening by the Decorations committee of the Sedalia Retail Merchants and the assembly of materials for same will be started at once.

The decorations plans call for green spruce roping, additional strings of lights, and the use of cutouts in the overhead street decorations. In addition through the courtesy of the Local Carpenter's Union the church which so effectively decorated the Court House Lawn will again be used this year.

An effort will be made to have Santa Claus appear at an early date, and visit with local children. The exact date of his visit is not yet known but will be announced through the press as soon as possible.

Plan For Christmas Carols

Plans are also being made by Pat Darnell, chairman, to again have group and community singing on the steps of the Court house at appropriate times during the pre-Christmas season. Last year a number of groups participated in the caroling, and it is hoped that with an increased number of musical organizations in town this year that will participate in the caroling. A schedule will be arranged for all who care to sing and an appropriate time will be arranged for them.

The committee is also designing an appropriate window sticker for all of the firms and individuals who have so generously gave to make the decorations possible and at the same time of the installation of the decorations this sticker will be mailed to all who have made contributions.

Members of the committee are Cline Cain, Paul Hedderich, Glenn Lewis, John Heiss, and M. G. Goodrich.

Voice Protest on A 'Vile Parody'

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The Knights of Columbus has objected to Washington University, St. Louis, to what the Knights termed a "vile parody on the Lord's Prayer" in a campus publication.

Bernard S. Gillis, state deputy of the Missouri Council of the K. of C., a Roman Catholic organization, today released a letter of protest he had sent to Arthur H. Compton, chancellor of the nonsectarian school.

Gillis said the parody appeared in the October issue of "Quirk," described on the cover as the official humor magazine of the school, the parody was on the subject of drinking set to the meter of the Lord's Prayer.

"What amazes me," Gillis wrote, referring to Quirk, "is not the emphasis on sex and the tendency to vulgar humor, but the blasphemous item on page 4 entitled 'With Bowed Heads.' This is, as anyone will readily see, a vile parody on the Lord's Prayer.

"Never before have I seen such a deliberate desecration of a thing held dear by the Christian people of all denominations."

Plant a Fruit Orchard Friday

BOONILLE, Mo., Nov. 10.—(AP)—The planting of a 35-acre fruit orchard is expected to attract about 3,500 persons tomorrow.

Known as the state orchard of tomorrow day, the event is sponsored by the University of Missouri, the Missouri State Historical Society and the Boonville Chamber of Commerce. It will be held at the C C. Bell orchards east of here.

The demonstration will include planting, pruning, construction of terraces and application of trunk protectors.

A feature of the event will be an apple pie six feet in diameter The first 2,000 persons to register will receive a slice of the pie at the noon luncheon.

J. G. Johnson Fatally Injured

John G. Johnson, 63 years old, Missouri Pacific engineer, a former Sedalian, but who for the past several years has been residing in Jefferson City, was struck by a switch engine and fatally injured about 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night in the Missouri Pacific railroad yards in Kansas City. Mr. Johnson was walking from a restaurant to freight train he was preparing to take to Jefferson City. The switch engine was backing up. He had been working on the chain gang between Jefferson City and Kansas City.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Effie Johnson, of the home, a son, Charles, and a daughter, Mildred, wife of Robert Swackhamer, both of Jefferson City, three brothers, W. E. Johnson, 820 South Vermont avenue, this city, H. C. Johnson, 1415 State Fair boulevard, this city, and Homer Johnson, Independence, and three sisters, Mrs. A. A. Jollif, Kansas City, Mrs. William Milburn, of California, Mo., and Mrs. Millard Cook, of Jefferson City.

Mr. Johnson lived in Sedalia many years and at the time he moved to Jefferson City resided at 654 East Fourteenth street.

The body will be taken to Jefferson City where funeral services will be held at 10:30 Saturday morning.

State of Siege Is Proclaimed At Bogota

Report Hundreds Died in Colombia During Clashes.

BOGOTA, Colombia, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Colombia's conservative government has decreed a state of siege and suspended all sessions of the Liberal-dominated congress in a move climaxing weeks of pre-election clashes in which hundreds reportedly have died.

Censorship of press and radio also was ordered by President Mariano Ospino Perez.

(News of the state of siege was filed last night by the Associated Press correspondent in Bogota and was not received in New York until this morning).

The state of siege was proclaimed last night after troops cordoned off Colombia's capitol building and stood guard throughout the country to suppress any further outbreaks of the bitter fighting which has raged for the past month between Liberals and Conservatives.

The president also suspended sessions of departmental assemblies and municipal councils.

Assassination Reports

Widespread rumors of assassination attempts against political leaders were denied officially by the national radio.

Many business places in the center of the city closed early yesterday afternoon as troops began moving through the streets.

Earlier yesterday the government imposed a 9 p. m. to dawn curfew in Bogota and in Cali, Colombia's fourth largest city, to keep everyone off the streets at night.

Troops were dispatched to strategic points throughout the country. Government buildings were put under heavier guard. Congress members and newspaper reporters were barred from the capitol building.

Speculation grew that the army might take over power from the civilian government to curb the bloody outbreaks between conservative and liberal party supporters.

Might Delay Voting

Such action might postpone the balloting scheduled Nov. 27 to name a successor to conservative President Mariano Ospina Perez.

Though Bogota has been free of political violence recently, party newspapers in recent weeks have reported a steadily rising wave of hard fighting between groups of conservative and liberal partisans. Each party blames the other for the fighting.

The government has confirmed only a few of the reports. Press accounts put the death toll at more than 500 in the last two weeks of October alone.

The conservatives so far have appeared determined to hold the election Nov .27, with Laureano Gomez as their candidate. The liberals have said they will boycott the voting. They charge the government has not preserved order and any election now would not be a free vote.

Liberal leaders last night reiterated they would not recognize the result of any election now.

Though President Ospina and his government are all conservatives, the liberals have a majority in both houses of congress. Their leaders have threatened to push through a proposal for a four-man provisional government to succeed Ospina when his term ends next May 5.

Look To End Of Strike

Legal Aspects of Steel Peace Are Being Considered At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 10—(AP) — CIO United Steelworkers and giant United States Steel opened peace talks on a legal level today which might end the most costly steel strike in American history.

Rumors flooded this steel capital that industry leader U. S. Steel is making an offer to put its 170,000 workers back in the mills across the country.

There was no official comment from either big steel or union president Philip Murray. But a meeting of lawyers for both sides during the morning made it plain they are exploring the possibilities of a settlement.

Chief negotiator John A. Stephens, U. S. Steel vice president, stood by as did union authorities. Steelworker teams were on hand for a time but were told to go home and report back at 3 p. m.

Big steel and the union heads were expected to get together before the day is out. Lending credence to prospects of a break was a union call for meeting of its powerful wage policy committee tomorrow—possibly to consider a settlement.

A peace pact with U. S. Steel would mean virtual end to the costly 41-day strike by the Steelworkers for free insurance and pensions as recommended by a presidential board.

Last of Big Four

U. S. Steel is the only one of the four top producers still holding out. It led industry's fight against footing the welfare bill.

Today's peace talk came on the heels of a strike-ending contract with Youngstown Sheet & Tube's company, employing 19,000.

Shortly before last midnight Great Lakes Steel at Detroit reached a similar agreement for its 10,000 employes.

Those rapid-fire developments brought to five the number of major steel producers who have agreed to Murray's demands for non-contributory pensions.

Youngstown Sheet & Tube's contract calls for $100 monthly pensions to workers aged 65 with 25 years' service. If a worker is entitled to a $70 monthly pension from his Social Security payments the company will pay $30 to make his pension total $100.

The contract calls for a five-cent-an-hour social insurance program. Workers will pay two and one-half cents. The company will do the same.

Will Close Mail Order House

HANNIBAL, Mo., Nov. 10.—(AP)—The American Sales Agency, Inc., will close its cigarette mail order house here this week because of a new federal regulation governing the sales.

The announcement was made today by Edward Tweel, the company's sales representative.

He is a nephew of Nicholas J. Tweel of Huntington, W. Va., the concern's president, who said several days ago he would fight the new law.

The regulation requires that cigarette mail order houses doing interstate business provide lists of their customers and pay cigarette taxes to the state.

Young Tweel said the office here would be closed along with those at Alexandria, Va., and Asheville, N. C., and that all three would consolidate at the main offices in Huntington to await outcome of an anticipated court fight over the new law.

Hogs Drop Below Price Ceiling

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Live hog prices sank below the price ceiling of late 1946 today when the best price on the market was $16.20 a hundred pounds. This was a nickel under the ceiling set at the beginning of September, 1946, and in effect until Oct. 15 that year.

The new three-year low compares with the alltime record high of $31.85 set Aug. 19 last year. A year ago today the beset price on the Chicago market was $23.00.

Layoff at Shops in Effect

The layoff of 187 shopmen of the Missouri Pacific Wednesday and an additional 20 today went into effect as ordered from company headquarters, Superintendent Guy D. Bailey confirmed when asked regarding the action.

Four Firemen Die in Collision

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Four firemen were killed and four injured when two fire engines, racing to answer an alarm, collided at an intersection near Pimlico race track in Northeast Baltimore yesterday.

"Both of them were really travelling," said a filling station attendant who saw the trucks speeding for the corner. He estimated that one, a hook-and-ladder, was doing between 50 and 60 miles an hour, while the other, a hose truck, was doing about 35 or 40.

"Both of them had their sirens screaming and I guess they just couldn't hear each other," the witness added.

The eight firemen, four on each engine, were hurled through the air by the violence of the impact.

The dead were identified as Joseph A. Remeikis, 35; Charles Paff, 57; James W. Haynie, 26, and Joseph B. Magaha, 25.

Miners Return To Soft Coal Pits on Order

Production of Coal Slowly is Nearing Normal

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Soft coal production climbed slowly toward normal today as bituminous union miners returned to the pits east of the Mississippi for the first time since September 19.

Many Western Pennsylvania miners, where some 56,000 work in commercial and steel company owned operations, waited for local union meetings before picking up picks and shovels again. They have been idle almost eight weeks.

Operator sources, who refused to be identified, spoke of the diggers' dissatisfaction with the strike and their eagerness to get back on the payrolls.

"Once the miners are back at work, I think they'll stay there," declared one veteran mine owner.

Some miners returned to work at 4 p. m. yesterday, but the bulk are expected back today, Vice President Harry Suter of the Western Pennsylvania coal operators estimated 80 per cent of normal working forces will answer whistles by the time the late afternoon shifts start.

Most mines were reported to be in good shape and ready to resume production. Others gave the first men reporting back the job of preparing the pits for normay operations.

The unpredictable Lewis ordered his 378,000 soft coal miners east of the Mississippi to go back to the pits until midnight, November 30. They had been idle eight weeks.

Lewis is still trying to get a contract to replace the one which expired last June 30.

Want Issue Settled

And some of Lewis' members say they don't like the idea of going back to work until the contract issue is settled. But, as always, they're following Lewis' orders.

"Why go back for just three weeks?" was the general reaction among a sober-faced group of miners at nearby Bridgeville when they learned of Lewis' dramatic move.

"We might as well stay out until we get something," said one UMW member.

"After the 30th, we'll be at it (on strike) again," another miner declared grimly.

At Russellton, near Pittsburgh, about 95 per cent of the striking miners were hunting when Lewis' orders came. One fellow, his gun on his shoulder and a rabbit in his hand, said he'd be glad to work.

"I'm tired of just loafing around," he said.

Joseph Mautino, president of Local 4426 at Harmarville, Pa., said his men would meet today. He added:

"What the boys decide is okay with me. They are very bitter, but Mr. Lewis' orders will send them back to work. They may grumble a lot, but they'll always do what Lewis tells them."

One Parachuted to Death; Others Safe

CONDON, Ore., Nov. 19.—(AP)—One naval airman parachuted to his death as a four-engined plane crash landed in a wheat field north of here last night.

The six others aboard the navy privateer were safe. Two parachuted and four rode the plane down.

A sheriff's searching party found the body of the victim at dawn today. Members reported at the nearby Louie Barnett ranch that he was killed by a blow on the head in landing. He was not named, pending notification of next of kin.

Lewis Fails To Show Up

Plans Upset For Mediation Talks And Director Ching Indignant

Federal officials and mine operators fumed in Washington at the failure of the mine union chief to show up for coal peace talks.

The mine chief was last seen by newsmen as he entered a taxicab in front of Chicago's Sheraton hotel, where he had met with the union's 200-man policy committee since Monday.

Lewis declined to make known his destination but he was overheard as he instructed the cab driver to take him to Grand Central depot. It was believed he intended to board the Baltimore and Ohio railroad's Capitol Limited for Washington.

However, the railroad said it did not have a reservation for Lewis, at least not under his own name. Personnel at the depot and on the train said they had not seen the mine chief.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 —(AP)—John L. Lewis today snubbed the government's bid to a coal peace conference and Cyrus Ching, federal mediation director, said he was dropping his efforts to smooth the way to a new mining contract.

Ching went to the White House and reported that Lewis, instead of showing up for the peace talks scheduled for this morning, had sent a wire saying he would see the mediators on Monday.

When he left the White House, Ching told reporters he would tell the mine owners here for the conference to go on home.

He said he had other plans and would be too busy to see Lewis on Monday.

Ching added:

"I haven't any plans at this time for calling any further meetings in the coal dispute.

He hedged that a bit later, however, by saying that he was not ruling out the possibility that another government effort to promote peace might be made.

No White House Action Yet

Asked if he expected President Truman to take any action in the coal dispute in view of today's developments, Ching said:

"Not yet. There are no plans for anything like that yet nothing has been decided."

The mediation chief said the government "must evaluate the situation" before deciding on its next move.

Then, at a later news conference, Ching said he would have to determine between now and Saturday whether to call any meetings at all. He said "we will have our plans better formulated by Saturday."

"It is quite obvious" Ching said, "that had the miners not gone back to work today we would have had to take some action. It had reached the crisis stage.

"Another crisis may arrive November 30. As far as the mediation service is concerned we are not going to sit down and wait. But we will do what we can as long as anything can be done."

Could Establish Board

If President Truman should decide that the mediation service can accomplish nothing in the situation, he might turn to other means. He could establish a fact-findings board empowered to recommend settlement terms. Or he could invoke the Taft-Hartley act's court injunction emergency powers.

The T-H law permits the government to seek a court order halting a strike for 80 days.

It was quite obvious that the government was going to make strong efforts to prevent another coal walkout at the end of the month.

It was also plain that officials were pretty annoyed by Lewis' attitude toward the invitation to peace talks this morning.

It amounted to a sharp slap in the face to Cyrus Ching, federal mediation chief. It left him, too, pretty much in the position of the parson when the bride-to-be does not show up for the wedding.

Ching was there, fuming. The soft coal operators were there, fuming. But no Lewis.

In fact, it was something of a mystery where Lewis was. Aides of the bushy-browed union leader

Trial Delayed On Spy Charges

NEW YORK, Nov. 10—(AP)—Russian engineer Valentin A. Gubitchev came into court again on Wednesday on a spy charge and his command of English suddenly deserted him.

Gubitchev, suspended from his United Nations job, is charged with Judith Coplon to transmit stolen government documents to the Russians.

Miss Coplon, former justice department employe, was convicted in Wahington and sentenced to 40 months to 10 years for stealing confidential FBI papers with intent to pass them to Soviet agents.

Gubitchev and Miss Coplon appeared in court today for the start of their trial, but lengthy arguments by attorneys in the judge's chambers postponed the actual trial at least until tomorrow. The nature of these arguments was not disclosed.

In past court appearances, Gubitchev spoke English fluently and understood everything that was said to him.

But today, when Federal Judge William Bondy asked him if he was ready for trial, Bubitchev answered with a barrage of Russian.

A lawyer who speaks Russian happened to be in the courtroom and offered his services.

While the lawyer interpreted, Gubitchev declined to say whether he was ready for trial, said the court had no jurisdiction over him, and claimed diplomatic immunity.

Sedalia's Airport Has Grass Fire

Fire at the Sedalia Municipal Airport did considerable damage to runways and a lespedeza seed crop, Wednesday afternoon, shortly after 2 o'clock.

Jack Funk of the Funk's Flying Service, reported he was working in a hangar when he heard the crackling of fire and rushed out to see a good portion of the eastern section of the flying field on fire. He said he fought the blaze for more than two hours before getting it under control.

Mr. Funk said he heard a train pass a short time before and believed it might have started from sparks, from an engine. He said a good portion of the grass on the east end of the northeast-southwest runway, which is considered the main runway was burned off. This he said might create a mudhole if weather should turn bad.

He reported he was alone at the flying field it being the day-off for his mechanic and Mrs. Funk was in town and had to battle the flames alone. He said he wore out two brooms and a pair of pants.

The lespedeza patch was on the east end of the flying field.

Short Week For State Employees At Jefferson City

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 10—(AP)—This will be a short work week for state employes, the overnor's office said.

All offices will be closed Friday, Armistice Day.

It was decided that shucks, there was no point in coming back for a half day's work Saturday. So most state offices will be closed all day Saturday, too.

Helen G. Steele Music club memebers and guests were given an informal and retrospective view of the field of concert artists gained over a period of 43 years by Mr. Walter Fritschy of Kansas City on Wednesday afternoon at the Heard Memorial club house. His talk was highlighted by pertinent references to the effect of radio and movies in lowering the standards of both music and art. The modern methods of exploitation of promising artists at an early age often result in a complete loss of their talents even before they reach maturity. Young people of today who aspire to the heights are not willing to devote the time and hard work which a career in concert and opera requires. That, according to Mr. Fritschy, is the difference between the modern and the so-called Golden Age of Music and the Theater.

"There is something great in the truly great artist," said Mr. Fritschy and "all great talent is a gift from God." There are many performers but few are endowed with this greatness and the perseverance to achieve perfection of performance.

In answer to questions from the audience, Mr. Fritschy gave some interesting comments on artists both past and present. He stated that Myra Hess is considered the most satisfying of living pianists and is so classed by other artists. Jennie Tourel is the greatest among living women singers and possesses great musicianship. Mischa Elman has the finest tone of all contemporary violinists.

Ezio Pinza's voice is reminiscent of Chaliapin and the singers of the Golden Age. Enrico Caruso's voice in Mr. Fritschy's opinion was "the greatest ever to come from a human throat." Marian Anderson is truly great and there is nothing finer than her tonality in the opening phase of Schubert's "Ave Maria." She worked on this number for six months and decided it was not for her. She shelved it for two years and then spent six months more on it with such splendid tonality as the result. The speaker said that any singer who cannot properly sing a vowel is no singer. He paid a fine tribute to the ability as a teacher of Mrs. T. J. Strickler, who was Margaret Truman's first teacher.

George Gershwir's opera, "Porgy and Bess" is the most vital music on the stage today in the opinion of Mr. Fritschy.

The speaker's advice to aspiring young musicians is work and more work, coupled with patience and an earnest desire for quality instead of speed. "The modern piano is built for speed and the young musicians are literally cutting seconds and minutes off the great concertos," he said.

Miss Jessie Blair, chairman of the day, introduced the speaker and related some humorous incidents shared by them in the 43 years off and on that she has been attending his concert series in Kansas City. She commented that the people of Kansas City owe Mr. Fritschy a great debt of gratitude for the fine standards he has maintained in his concerts.

Mrs. E. F. Yancey, life president, presided over the short business session and introduced Mrs. A. B. Potts, junior federation chairman, who called attention to a radio program on ABC Saturday at 9 a. m. which features Sigmund Spaeth and is sponsored by the National Federation of Music clubs. She also mentioned a program on which tribute was paid to the fine work of Mrs. Hart Dierks of Kansas City, national federation chairman of music in hospitals.

Mrs. Fred Ross, the program chairman, announced that Miss Ruth Ann Yunker of Sedalia and a student at Christian college, will give a program of the numbers she will use for her graduate recital to the Music club on February 8. Her graduate recital will be given in the college auditorium on March 1. Among her numbers will be Cesar Franck's "Symphonic Variations" with her teacher, Mr. Launer at the second piano.

Mrs. Ross also called attention to the annual club supper and program to be given the night of November 16. Mrs. Homer Keith, Hymn of the Month chairman, gave the history of "Now Thank We All Our God," the hymn for November and led the group in singing this inspiring hymn. Miss Lillian Fox accompanied at the piano.

The regular weekly chorus rehearsal next Wednesday afternoon at promptly 2 p. m. was announced by Mrs. C. D. Demand choral director. She called attention to the fact that there are only six more rehearsals before the program and urged all who intend to sing in the chorus to be at the next rehearsal.

The Mozart Music club held its monthly recital at the home of Mrs. Jewell Thomas, 401 Dal Whi Mo, Sunday, November 6.

The recital was opened by the group singing "America," accompanied by Mrs. Thomas. Musical games were played and awards given the winners. Plans were discussed for the Christmas recital which will be held December 18.

The program followed: "Fairy Polka" by Spindler, Joyce Burke; "Black Water in the Moonlight" by Wachs, Bonnie Lazenby; "Coronation March" by Meyerbeer, Barbara Mertgen; "Solfeggietta" by Bach, Marilyn Kelley; "Revel of the Wood Nymphs" by Barbour. Betty Lazenby; "Nelly Bly" by Foster, Charlotte Griggs, "Nola" by Arndt, Ruby Faye Silsby; "The Barn Dance" by Howell, Beverly Mertgen; "A Mountain Stream" by Smith, Valgene Hayworth and "Nola" by Arndt, Nancy Jane Oswald.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Hileman of Grand River, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. F. A Morris and Mr. Vernie Morris of Weiser, Idaho, have returned home after spending a few days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Morris of Emden, and brothers and families, Ernest Morris of Huhesville and Virgil and Orie Morris of Sedalia.

A family dinner, to which all contributed, was held Sunday at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Morris.

Those attending were Vernie Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Morris and sons, Arthur, Charles, Larry, Harry and Junior; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Hileman, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Orie Morris, daughters Crystal and Darlene and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Morris and daughter Betty.

The afternoon was spent in conversation and taking pictures.

Mrs. C. R. Almquist, 1603 South Moniteau avenue, entertained the members of the G. I A. to the B. of L. E at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Those present were Mrs. J. W. Murrell, Mrs. John Overmier, Mrs. George McKelvey, Mrs. S. E. Bushey, Mrs. W. C. Edwards, Mrs. F. C. Wilhite, Mrs. Emma Steele, Mrs. Walter Motz, Mrs. George S. Young, Mrs. Roy Lierman, Mrs. Wallace J. Lang, Mrs. R. C. Smallwood, Mrs. A. J. Rose and Mrs. P. H. Handley.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie whipped cream and coffee were served by Mrs. Almquist.

The first meeting of the newly organized Past Matrons, Past Patrons and Associates club of Pettis Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, was held Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Almquist, 1603 South Moniteau avenue.

The first officers of the club are: Walter Kennedy, president and Mrs. C. R. Almquist, vice president, both charter members of Pettis chapter and Mrs. Cleo Boston, secretary-treasurer.

A short business meeting was followed by a social session.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs Walter Kennedy. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Duffett, Mrs. Lucille Vilmer, Mrs. Lottie White, Mr and Mrs. Howard Gwinn; Mr. and and Mrs. William L. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brummet, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gwinn, Mrs. E D. Bybee, Mrs. Max Holland, Mrs. Max Holland, Mrs. Katherine Stevens, Mrs. Grace Arbo-Gast, Mrs. J. B. Hancock, Mrs. J. W. Leftwich. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kettlesen, Mrs Jewell Nave, Mr. and Mrs. Linden L. To Condemn For A State Office Building

Proceedings Start Next Week Against Five Tract Owners

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 10—(AP) — Attorney General Taylor will start condemnation proceedings next week to acquire a site for the new $3,500,000 tsate office building, Gov. Forrest Smith reported.

Proceedings will start against owners of five tracks at the southeast corner of the intersection of East Capitol and Jefferson streets, just a block east of the capitol.

Hopes To Reduce Price

Smith told his news conference today he hopes the suit will cut in half the price asked by the five owners, now totaling $263,000. The total assesesd valuation of their land is about $23,000.

Smith said the board of public buildings—himself, Taylor and Lt. Gov. James T. Blair, Jr.—believes the state at least could cut the price to $175,000 by condemnation proceedings.

Marcel Boulicault of St. Louis, architect for the building, is studying space demands for state agencies now, Smith said, to decide how many stories the structure should have.

He said earlier estimates indicated some agencies wanted offices for secretaries as big as his own executive office.

"They'll not get that much space," Smith remarked.

May Expand Hotel

He didn't close the door to possible future acquisition of the space, however. The hotel has announced plans to use the area for an addition to its own building. But if pressed by the state, the hotel management has said it will sell the 44-foot frontage for $1.000 a foot.

The governor said the board of public buildings also has deferred action on possible condemnation of four tracts just across the street west of the proposed building site.

Four houses there may be bought by the state and razed to make room for a parking lot between the new office building and the present state highway department building, Smith explained.

Condemnation proceedings may be well enough along by the end of this month to start clearing the building site, Smith said.

Man And Wife Jump From Burning Home

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10—(AP)—A man and his wife jumped from a second story window to escape fire which destroyed their combination home and filling station today.

John Bidnick, 32, was ill in bed when the fire broke out near the front door of the station. Mrs. Bidnick ran upstairs and helped him to a window. The fire had cut off escape by the door, so they jumped, escaping injury.

Where Russia Gets Atomic Material—

Stamps In the News

By SID KRONISH

Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson announced that the Wright Brothers 6-cent Air Mail commemorative stamp will be placed on first day sale at Kitty Hawk, N. C., on Dec. 17.

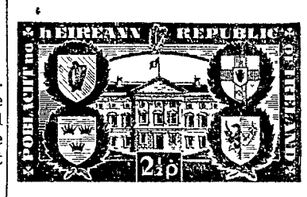
The Wright Brothers' historic plane, with the caption "First Free Controlled and Sustained Powered Flight By Man," forms the central design. The portraits of the two aviation pioneers together with their names appear in the upper right corner.

Stamp collectors during first day cancellations of this stamp may send a limited number of self-addressed envelopes, not exceeding 10, to the Postmaster at Kitty Hawk, N. C, with postal note or money order remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed.

Dayton, O., stamp collectors, however, are irate over the U. S postal authorities' refusal to make Dayton the place of the first day sale. Daytonians protested that since their city was the home of the Wright Brothers and the scene of the greater part of their aviation experiments, the fair city of Dayton should have received the honor.

The Post Office Department stood firm on its original decision. Officials said the purpose of the stamp was to commemorate the first flight of the Wrights on Dec. 17, 1903, at Kitty Hawk.

Carl Soendlin, Secretary of the Dayton Philatelic Society announced that Dayton would not be left up in the air over this aerial issue. He is going to have a batch of the stamps flown to Dayton from Kitty Hawk for stamping with a Dayton postmark



To commemorate the international recognition of the Republic of Ireland and the coming into operation of the Republican of Ireland Act, the Irish government will issue a new stamp on Nov. 21. The central design will show a picture of Leinster House, the seat of the legislature where the Act was passed. The Arms of the four provinces appear one in each corner of the stamp It will be in two denominations, 2½ pence red brown and 3 pence blue.

"Better Late Than Never" must be the philatelic motto of Colombia., It has just issued a new stamp honoring the First Forestry Congress of Colombia which took place in 1945. The 5 centavos olive green stamp pictures a tree and the official emblem of that organization.

The flow of stamps honoring the 75th anniversary of the Universal Postal Union continues to flood the philatelic scene. These new issues come from all corners of the globe.

All the British colonies have issued sets of 4 UPU stamps. All have the same central design with the names of the countries at the bottom.

Ceylon, however, has issued 3 bi-colored stamps. All depict a world globe as the central design. A plane flies above the globe. At the bottom of the stamps are a train and a boat.

The Soviet Zone of Germany has also paid tribute to this philatelic anniversary. The stamp is 50 pfennig blue and shows a dove with a letter in its mouth. A world globe appears in the upper right corner of the extra large stamp.

The Yugoslav sector of the Free Territory of Trieste has overprinted the two Yugoslav UPU issues in red, reports the New York Stamp Co.

The President's Sympathy To Reed Family

Friend and Colleague During His Days In United States Senate

PARSONS, Kas., Nov. 10—(AP)—Pres. Truman joined political and business leaders Wednesday in extending sympathy to the family of Senator Clyde M. Reed, who died unexpectedly at his home here.

The President said he was shocked and saddened by the death last night of the 78-year-old Republican senator and publisher of the Parsons Sun.

"The loved and loving husband and father was also my friend and colleague through all the years when our work in the Senate brought us in daily association," Mr. Truman said in a telegram to Mrs. Reed.

Expression Echoed By Many

The President's expression was echoed by many other politica and busines sleaders in messages received at the Reed residence.

Even as plans were made for the funeral Friday, speculation arose over a possible successor. The appointment will be made by Gov. Frank Carlson, who was expected to be in no hurry to fill the vacancy.

Carlson, frequently mentioned as a likely candidate for the senatorial nomination in the 1950 primary, expressed grief and shock at Reed's death, but he gave no hint on when he will act.

Most political observers in Topeka, the state capital, were inclined to discount the possibility the governor might resign to clear the way for his own appointment to the Senate seat.

Reed was elected to the Senate in 1938 and re-elected in 1944. His second term expires Jan. 3, 1951.

Kansas Republican, died of a heart attack at his home in Parsons, Kas. He was 78. (AP Wirephoto)

Collapsed At Home

The senior senator from Kansas collapsed while descending a stairway at his home. Death was attributed to a heart attack. He had left a hospital here last week after being treated for influenza.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Friday at the First Presbyterian church with the pastor, Dr. E. W. Armstrong, officiating. Fred W. Brinkerhoff, editor of the Pittsburg (Kas.) Headlight and Sun and a long-time friend, will give the eulogy. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery here.

In Washington, where flags on the capitol were at half staff, Vice President Barkley named a committee of 12 senators to attend the services. They were Senators Schoeppel (R-Kas), Donnell and Kem (R-Mo), Hickenlooper (R-Ia), McKellar (D-Tenn), Hayden (D-Ariz), Bridges (R-NH), Wherry (R-Neb), Capehart (R-Ind) McFarland (D-Ariz), and Kerr (D-Okla).

The House sergeant at arms, Joseph C. Callahan, appointed all six Kansas representatives in Congress to represent the House at the funeral.

Love For Youth Effects Release

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 10—(AP)—Young Johnny Mordan was free to return to a sweetheart whose love effected his release from jail.

The 18-year-old Danville, Pa., youth pleaded guilty to an automobile theft charge. Instead of sending him to prison, District Judge Eben L. Taylor deferred sentence for one year and freed Mordan with a lecture.

"It means," said the judge, "that you have a chance now to prove yourself to the people who have shown so much interest in you."

The court deferred sentence on recommendation of local juvenile authorities who obtained a home and a job for Johnny in Washington, D. C.

The young couple was arrested 40 miles south of Tulsa on Oct. 17 in a stolen car. They told officers of sleepless nights on the road, without food or shelter. They took the car "to get some rest," Rita said. She was sent home, Johnny jailed.

The girl then wrote authorities here not "to punish Johnny because he loved me so good." County Attorney Elmer Adams ordered a thorough investigation of the case, leading to the youth's release.

Probation Officer Chauncey Moore said he had worked out an arrangement with Pennsylvania juvenile authorities so the pair might visit each other.

Firemen Killed In Crash Of Trucks

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10 —(AP)—Two fire engines answering an alarm came together with a terrific crash at an intersection Wednesday, killin four firemen.

Four other firemen were injured, two critically.

One of the vehicles was a hook and ladder, the other a hose truck.

They met in the center of an intersection knocking down an overhead traffic signal.

A witness said that firemen were bounced off the engines like "so many tenpins."

A passenger car was nearly cut in half when one of the fire trucks spun into it after the crash.

Grand Jury Witnesses Are Jailed

Duvoc And Bassin Guilty Of Contempt Of Federal Court

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10—(AP)—Max Ducov and Nathan L. Bassin, Kansas City beer distributors, were found guilty of civil contempt of federal court late Wednesday.

District Judge Richard M. Duncan ordered them confined until they "tell the truth to the grand jury."

Judge Duncan committed the men indefinitely but indicated they would be confined for at least the length of the grand jury term unless they purged themselves earlier. Fred Canfil, federal marshal, said they would be placed in the county jail.

Evasive Answer To Jury

The government charged Ducov and Bassin brothers-in-law, had given evasive answers to the federal grand jury investigating gambling and other crime here.

Judge Duncan gave his decision immediately after attorneys closed there arguments in a hearing which began Monday. Meanwhile the grand jury has been in recess.

"My own opinion," Judge Duncan said, "is that Bassin finds himself in the middle, pressed from both sides—a most unfortunate situation for him. Mr. Bassin seems unable to remember things of common experience in everyday life."

It was entirely possible for Bassin to accumulate $7,500 over 25 working years, 20 years in a bank, the judge said. But it was "incredible" that a man working in a bank would conceal the money in a trunk at home. . . .

"Bassin was evasive to an extent almost incredible," he said. "With truth and fact, he just obviously was a tool, and is one now."

Of Ducov, the judge said he believed the brother-in-law was the "beneficiary of Bassin's efforts in concealment." He termed Ducov a "much smarter man, and better able to care for himself."

Could Disposed Of $43,000

A man who lived in Ducov's manner easily could dispose of $43,000 in the period under question by the jury and still not be able to account for it, the judge remarked.

Ducov was guilty mainly the judge said, because he was equally evasive about transactions concerning the Wiggle Inn (a tavern) and transfer from Ducov to Bassin of the Dukes Sales Company, a beer agency.

Walter Calvin, defense counsel immediately asked the judge to furnish a list of questions the defendants must answer before their release.

The judge commented that he did not consider it necessary.

Max H. Goldshein, special assistant attorney general, said the government's presentment defined clearly the areas of evasiveness. He said it was readily apparent what the prisoners must do to purge themseives of contempt.

In closing argument, Goldshein had called the defense stories of Ducov and Bassin "ridiculous fantasy." Defense attorneys countered that they were guilty of perjury, if anything, but not contempt.

with the flair for the dramatic said they did not know.

Ching was plainly burned up.

First, he fired a telegram to United Mine Workers headquarters asking Lewis for "clarification." But he didn't even know whether Lewis would see it.

Then Ching delivered a report to the White House that Lewis had cooly turned down a bid to a peace conference.

Ching called for his car and sped to the White House himself to make the report.

While he was traveling there, President Truman was holding his regular Thursday news conference.

The Lewis-Ching situation had not come to light and the questions to Mr. Truman did not deal with it.

The president was asked what might be the administration's next move in the coal situation.

He wouldn't say about that.

No Comment on Order

Nor would the president comment on Lewis' order of yesterday sending the coal miners back to work for three weeks.

Instead of a comment, the president said of Lewis:

Mr. Truman was asked if he thought the steel settlements would have been reached and the coal strike called off—at least temporarily—if the Taft-Hartley act had not been hanging over the unions.

The president, who wants the Taft-Hartley law repealed, said he couldn't say. He suggested that the question be put up to management and labor negotiators.

When Ching headed for the White House, he indicated to reporters that he was ready to wash his hands of Lewis, leaving the coal situation on the White House doorstep.

Ching had outlined to the newsmen the whole series of events since he asked Lewis and the operators to a peace meeting.

Ching told reporters he had received this reply to his wire to Lewis:

"Ching. Department Labor, Washington, D. C.

"Your wire. Mine Workers' representation will be in your office 2:30 o'clock Monday.

"Lewis, Chicago, Illinois."

Ching said he had asked Lewis for a "clarification" because he said Lewis' message "appears not to be responsive" to the federal invitation.

The conciliation service said the Lewis telegram, although signed Chicago, had been sent from the Washington office of the United Mine Workers.

All Day Meet By Homemakers

The Walnut Grove Homemakers Club held an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Howard Paige. The morning was spent in tacking a comfort for the hostess. At noon a contributive lunch was served to six members and two visitors.

Due to the absence of the president and vice president, the secretary, Mrs. Paige, called the meeting to order. The devotional leader, Mrs. Dorothy Hefner, read a psalm. Roll call was answered wth a Hallowe'en custom. Mrs. Paige read the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved. A book review, "Under the Lonto Rim," by Zane Gray, was given by Mrs. Hefner. The club decided to raise money for the treasury by having each member pay to cents for each inch of her waist line which is to be brought to the next meeting. Mrs. Paul Harvey, game leader, led in playing a game, with Mrs. J. J. McBride being the winner. Mrs. Wray Schroeder joined the club.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Charles Smethers, November 17.

Some Counties Have Surplus

Survey Suggests Sixteen of Them Reduce Taxes

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 10,—(AP)—At least 16 of Missouri's 109 rural counties should cut taxes because they have big surpluses, the Missouri public expenditure survey recommended today.

The survey, a taxpayers' organization, said these 16 counties have general fund surpluses exceeding 100 per cent of their appropriations:

Benton, New Madrid, Cole, Jefferson, Clay, Saline, Mississippi, Audrain, Johnson, Texas, Ray, Osage, Shelby, Clark, Ralls and Knox.

The biggest surplus is in Benton county, 145 per cent. The survey said a surplus of only about 65 per cent is enough to operate on a cash basis.

Six Have Deficits

In contrast, six counties began their 1949 operating year with general fund deficits—Stoddard, Worth, Wayne, Ripley, Ozark and Reynolds.

More and more counties are levying the constitutional limit of taxes—89 this year compared with 84 five years ago. General fund tax rates among the 109 rural counties averaged 45.4 cents on each $100 assessed valuation, an increase of 1.1 cents over last year and 6.1 cents more than five years ago.

The little class four counties (those with less than $10,000,000 assessed valuation) are in the worst shape. Their taxes average 5.4 cents more than in class three counties (those with $10,000,000 to $50,000,000 valuation.)

Only one class four county, Crawford, had a general fund rate under the constitutional limit.

On the average, the rural counties got 70 per cent of their general revenue from property taxes, 21 per cent from surplus, six per cent from sales and service, two per cent from state aid and one per cent from licenses.

Forfeit Bonds on Exceeding Speed Limit

The following were arrested on East Twelfth street for excessive speed, Wednesday night and forfeited $10 bonds in police court this morning: Homer Templeton, Hughesville, route 2; Dr. Gray of Kansas City, William K. Wells of Lees Summit, Frances M. Brisco, Kansas, and Glen Young, of Otterville.

Betty Metchalf, 713 West Second street, charged with speeding, was fined $10.

Irwin Rudolph, 321 North Grand avenue, was fined five dollars and Raymond Partrey, Bothwell hotel, fined $10 on charges of soliciting without a permit, Wednesday in Sedalia.

A total of 12 overtime parking bonds of a dollar each were forfeited.

Preliminary Hearing Nov. 26

The preliminary hearing in Magistrate court of John W. Schrewsbury of Kansas City, charged with manslaughter has been continued to November 26.

Shrewsbury was driving one of two cars which collided head-on last Friday evening on U. S. highway 65, three miles south of Sedalia, in which Miss Catherine Fowler, 73, was instantly killed, and Mrs. Annie Stamper, 73, both of 612 South Park avenue, later died, and injured eight others, as a result of the collision.

PLASTI-LINER

ONE APPLICATION

For the Life of Your Plates

If your plates are loose and slip or hurt, use this amazing, pliable, non-porous strip to refit them yourself, for instant and permanent comfort. It's easy. Just lay the strip on your upper plate or lower plate, then bite and it molds perfectly. Hardens for lasting fit and comfort. Helps stop the embarrassment of slipping, rocking plates or the misery of sore gums. Eat anything and talk freely without fear your teeth will loosen. Ends forever the mess and bother of temporary applications that last only a few hours or months.

Easy to Re-Fit and Tighten False Teeth PLASTI-LINER is tasteless and odorless. Won't injure your plate. Guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money back. Removable as per directions. Users say: "Until I used Plasti-Liner I used several kinds of liners without success. Now I can eat anything." H. H. M. "My plates are now better fitting than new." M. H. Investigation as Vaughan Sees it

Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, President Truman's military aide and a target in the Congressional "five percenter" inquiry, summed up his reaction in this painting, "The Path of Investigation." It will go on exhibit at the Associated American Artists Galleries in New York along with other canvasses by "famous amateurs." Sponsors describe it as a road trailing off into the distance, flanked by pumpkin heads and ending in a trail of smoke and a question mark. (AP Wriephoto).

Tipton

Mrs. E. N. Pizer

Next Monday, November 14, there will be held at the public school building a school and pre-school health clinic sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary with Mrs. H. C. Hume as chairman of the project.

Besides diphtheria inoculations, smallpox vaccinations and typhoid vaccines, there will be dental examinations.

There will be a small charge of 15c for each inoculation or two for 25c.

It is pointed out that children who have had previous inoculations should have booster "shots" at this time.

Mrs. Beatrice Grubb, of Washington, Mo., public health nurse, will be here to assist the local physicians and dentist.

Mrs. E. N. Pizer, who re-entered the St. Joseph hospital in Kansas City a week ago last Monday is continuing to improve.

Maynard White took his father, Alva White, to Kansas City, Saturday, where Mr. White was entered as a patient at St. Luke's hospital. Complications are causing Mr. White to be quite ill.

Miss Clara Dueber was brought home Sunday by her brother, Lawrence, after having been a patient a month at St. Mary's hospital in Jefferson City, where she had undergone a major operation. Miss Clara is able to be up and about the house.

Spending Saturday and Sunday in Kansas City were Mr. and Mrs. K. J. Sieber and daughter, Betty, and Miss Clara Kline. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Dueber, Mrs. Dueber being a sister of Mrs. Sieber and Miss Kline.

Leaving Tipton last Monday, Mayor and Mrs. J. J. Brant, took their son, Cpl. Jerry Brant, as far as Taylorville, Ill., on his trip to New Jersey, where he is with the Air Force medical school. Jerry had been home on a 12-day furlaugh, Mayor and Mrs. Brant, who were accompanied by Mrs. Brant's sister, Mrs. K. J. Seiber, then went on into Chicago, and then to Milwaukee and Beaver Dam, Wis., visiting an aunt of the mayor at Beaver Dam, Sister Helenwarda,a hospital nurse, After travelling some 1,800 miles Mayor and Mrs. Brant and Mrs. Seiber returned home, Saturday.

Mrs. Leslie Allison is reported as improving at St. Luke's hospital in Kansas City, where she is a patient.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hardy were week-end visitors in Kansas City, Mr. Hardy having a check-up at the Plaza Medical center.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dawson, newlyweds, have returned from a month's honeymoon trip to the west coast. They took the northern route going out and on their return travelled through the south. For the present they are residing with Mrs. Dawson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Stratman, while their farm home east of town is undergoing a series of improvements.

Moving to Tipton from St. Elizabeth are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Oligschaeger and their family of five children. They have purchased the 120-acre improved farm of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mertens, who are now occupying one of the Earl Norman farms.

Mr. and Mrs. Urban Bestgen went to Falls City, Neb., Friday, for a visit with Urban's sister, Sister Ann Leonard, a nurse in Our Lady of Perpetual Help hospital. They came home Sunday morning, stopping enroute at Leavenworth, Kas., to see their daughter, Miss Colette, a student in St. Mary's academy.

Missouri Bride Is Killed In Accident

NAPLES, Fla., Nov. 10—(AP)—A honeymoon trip ended Wednesday in the death of the bride and injury of her husband when their car and a truck collided.

Mrs. John R. Crowley, 18, the former Betty Snook of Mexico, Mo., was killed instantly. Crowley, also 18, of Leon, Kas., received cuts and bruises.

The couple was married last week in Jeffersonville, Ind., and was touring Florida on a wedding trip.

Highway Patrolman W. W. Miller said the accident occurred when Crowley tried to pass a truck and trailer.

Good Samaritan Car Aids Drivers

ST. PAUL — (AP) — A modern Good Samaritan is travelling the midwestern highways today "looking for trouble." Helping travelers in any sort of trouble is the special job of Connie St. Mane in his "safety and courtesy car," equipped with the most up-to-date supplies for first-aid to man and motor.

In addition to a stretcher and medical aids, St. Mane carries such additional help for the stranded motorist as: Two gallons of gasoline, fuses, jacks, flares, flags, fire extinguishers and tools. He is trained to use them, too, with Red Cross and Boy Scout training in addition to his background as a veteran trucker.

The special red-and-white car travels an average of more than 1000 miles a wek to give help in highway emergencies ranging from full-fledged collisions to changing a tire for a lone woman motorist. "The look on a woman's face when I pull up and ask if I can change a tire for her is pay enough for me," St. Mane says. He makes no charge for any emergency aid. The "courtesy car" is helping make friends for an entire industry, according to its sponsors, the Schirmer Transportation company of St. Paul, Minnesota, operators of a trucking fleet.

Life spans of between 200 and 300 years are normal for the elder duck, giant tortoise, goose, parrot and raven.

Trucks With Poison Gas Collide In St. Joseph

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 10—(AP)—A collision involving one of 15 trucks carrying poison gas for the U. S. Army caused the worst traffic jam in St. Joseph's history Wednesday.

Four persons were injured in the collision. None of the gas containers was broken, although the truck was knocked 42 feet by the impact from a furniture company delivery truck at a downtown intersection.

It took police two hours to untangle the traffic tieup.

Scientists have estimated that in six months the progency of a single pair of houseflies could exceed 100 quintillion.

Camera News

By Irving Desfor
AP Newsfeatures

Pictures and anniversaries go hand in hand. It is only natural, therefore, if we take a look at the photographic picture of the U. S. Marine Corps on its 174th anniversary. On Nov. 10, 1775 the Corps was created by the Continental Congress. Its history has been the fighting history of this country.

Like the other armed services, the marine corps trains and maintains a photographic division. From a World War II peak of 600 officers and men, today its personnel numbers over 150 photographers and photographic officers. They use all types of equipment from small candid cameras to large aerial cameras and from magazine-loading 16mm cameras to 35mm professional motion picture production outfits.

The selection of a marine for photographic duty is based on his interest in photography and his amateur or professional background as discerned from a military classification questionnaire. Selected recruits are normally assigned to the corps photo school at Camp Pendleton, Cal., for a six months' course in both motion and still photography. A comprehensive schedule adapts the student to take all types of pictures including portraits, amphibious maneuvers, news pictures and photos for intelligence, planning and training purposes.

After this "breaking in" period, further training in aerial or motion picture work might be indicated for some Marines and off they go for specialized schooling. A limited number of others are sent to commercial firms (like newspapers and photo syndicates) for additional training. The others are assigned to a photographic laboratory at a continental or overseas marine corps station. Wherever possible, marine corps photos identify the photographer who took the picture, thereby boosting morale and personal pride.

All still photos and negatives taken by marine corps photographers throughout the world are filed at headquarters in Washington, D.C. The library unit there fills all photo requests from the entire marine corps and interested civilian groups.

The marine corps recognizes photography as a hobby, too. It has provided a place to work in the hobby shops at the major posts and stations of the corps. These shops have dark rooms and include enlargers among the equipment. And courses in photography are available to all regular marines through the marine corps institute, a correspondence school.

All She Wants For Christmas Is a Doll And Soda Pop

SUSAN JUZWIAK and Yuletide target: No more beer for her.

Text and Picture
By Mary C. Flynn
NEA Staff Correspondent

KANSAS CITY, Kas.—(NEA)—When Santa sorts out his mail he will find a letter from a seven-year-old girl who wants only "a doll and some American soda pop."

Susan Juzwiak was only a toddler when she was fed beer regularly in a German labor camp. Her parents gave it to her because there was little food and no milk nor fruit juices.

"I like beer," she exclaims in the same way most American children say, "I like candy."

But no whittle Susan, who came to America as a Polish Displaced Person last May, is beginning to like the new, strange-tasting soft drinks. She is fascinated by the "pretty water."

* * *

Like hundreds of other former DP children who will experience their first American Christmas, Susan is looking forward to seeing a Yule tree with tinsel and bright lights for the first time. Last Christmas she got a glimpse of a tiny, unlighted tree at the DP camp in Germany. The only "ornaments" were an apple or some articles from a CARE package.

Susan never has owned a doll of her own—at least not in the American sense. An old piece of fabric, tied with a string and crudely embroidered "face," was the only "dollie" she ever had.

If Susan doesn't get just the kind of doll she wants from Santa, she'll understand. Her father, the only one in the family household who is employed, explained that Santa also must bring gifts for the five adults and Susan's 12-year-old sister, Christine, all of whom occupy the same four-room apartment in Kansas City.

Susan's father, Walter Juzwiak, a veterinarian, worked for a month as a dishwasher in Philadelphia, but now is a U. S. meat inspector in a Kansas City packing plant.

Little Susan was only 18 months old when her family was forced by the Germans to leave their home in Stanislawow in what was Poland before 1939 and now is known as the Soviet Ukraine.

Child Strangles In Crawling Through Hole

SIBLEY, Mo., Nov. 10—(AP)—Four-year-old Mary Marie Stewart died of strangulation at her home here.

Her head was caught while she tried to crawl through a hole in the wall of a shed.

The mother, Mrs. Jesse L. Stewart, found the child wedged tightly in the hole about 10 minutes after Mary left the house. Mrs. Stewart said Mary had climbed through the hole many times.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have five other children.

Silver Returned for Food Packages

CUMBERLAND, Md., — (AP) — A grateful Englishman is making his collection of Victorian and Georgian table silver available to Mayor Thomas S. Post.

E. J. Dennis, of London, wrote the mayor for food packages from Cumberland and saying he was anxious to dispose of the collection.

Dennis said he would send a few of the valuable items to interested Cumblanders on approval. He is asking no cash payment.

Governor Dewey Says Senator Dulles' Showing Administration Setback

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 10—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said Wednesday Senator John Foster Dulles' showing in yesterday's election was a "setback" for President Truman's administration.

Dewey told a news conference he based his belief on the fact that Dulles, defeated Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, "ran well ahead of local tickets all over the state."

Baby Born on Train

Ben Duncan flagged the Southern Pacific's Sunset Limited to a stop near Buckeye, Ariz. He couldn't get his car started and his wife had a fast approaching date with the stork. Mrs. Duncan, 31, loaded aboard the train, gave birth to a 6 lb., 6 oz, baby girl, her fourth child, in a chair car while the train was enroute to Phoenix. Here she is shown being removed from the train after its arrival. Mother and child are both doing well. (AP Wirephoto)

The CORN BORER Has Become A Real MENACE!

"The European corn borer has become established in all counties of North Missouri and as far south as Highway 50," according to a bulletin published by the College of Agriculture, University of Missouri.

Conditions favorable to the borer caused an alarming increase in 1949, according to farmers checking their own and neighborhood fields.

Many of these farmers are changing to Peppard Funk G Hybrids because of evidence they find of their resistance to corn borer.

NOW IS THE TIME to check corn for resistance to corn borer damage. It's easy when you know how. Peppard's corn research department has prepared a simple bulletin telling you what to look for and how to look.

Sam Engel Gets Ten Years For Swindle

"A Virtual Death Sentence" Says Defense Attorney

CHICAGO, Nov. 10—(AP)—A lonely old man, Sigmund (Sam) Engel Wednesday was sentenced to from two to 10 years in prison for a love swindle. His attorney called it "a virtual death sentence."

The 74 year old international confidence man, who ran out on scores of women victims after winning their hearts and money, was all alone when he heard the bad news.

"Only True Love" Leaves

Mrs. Pauline Langton, 39 year old New York widow whom Engel called his "only true love" was no longer at his side.

The pint-sized Romeo later told newsmen he hadn't seen or heard from Mrs. Langston since last Saturday. A spokesman at the Commodore Hotel, where she had been staying, said she checked out Saturday without leaving a forwarding address.

Engel's attorney, Allen R. Bloch, argued fruitlessly for a new trial.

"This man is old," he said. "His days are over. Why be vindictive? He can't harm anyone anymore. A year for him is like 10 for a younger man."

Master Of "Con Men"

But Assistant State's Attorney James A. Brown, who asked for a nine to 10 year sentence, called Engel "the master con man of his time."

Engel showed no sign of emotion as Judge George M. Fisher denied a new trial and passed sentence. He silently searched the courtroom with tired eyes, apparently looking for Mrs. Langton.

Judge Fisher granted the baggy-eyed Engel a 60 day stay so he can appeal to the Illinois supreme court. The prisoner was returned to the county jail.

"HOT, DRY RUN" FOR JET "SCRAM SEAT"—Zoom! To the top of a 105-foot tower in two seconds shoots Marine Sgt. Thomas W. Watson of Farmville, Va. At the Philadelphia Naval Base, Watson was testing a skyrocket device which duplicates the "ride" of a jet pilot when he uses an automatic ejection seat to free himself from a crippled plane. The high speed of the seat started it smoking at 40 feet, right, but the sergeant was unhurt. The skyrocket trainer will be used to teach pilots what to expect when they spring out of a crippled jet and parachute to earth.

Divorced Parents To Funeral Of Son

ADRIAN, Mich., Nov. 10—(AP)—Eight-year-old Glenn Rose, Jr., slain by his angered little brother, was buried Wednesday. His divorced parents looked on in silent grief.

The father, Glenn, Sr., and the mother, Mrs. Floyd Sager, came and went separately. During the services they did not speak to each other.

They bowed their heads when the Rev. Douglas Hines quoted the words on the Biblical David-mourning for his lost son—"my son, my son!"

Six-year-old Dickie Rose, who said he shot his brother "because he hit him and I got mad," did not know of the service. He was kept at the Neuropsychiatric Institute in Ann Arbor, where he was taken soon after the slaying Sunday in Milan.

Mrs. Sager, recently remarried, was divorced from Rose last January.

Young Glenn was buried in the Maple Grove cemetery at Hudson, where the family formerly lived.

BY WILLIAM C. McKENNEY

America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

In today's article John R. Crawford and I continue our discussion of what happens in connection with the penalty cards when you make an insufficient initial meld.

Question: Our side has 1600 on on the score, which means that we need 90 points for an initial meld. Thinking that I have 90 points, I put down 3 kings, 2 queens and a deuce and 3 five-spots. Before I discard, one of the opponents call sattention to the fact that I have only 85 down. I have no more melds in my hand. I discard one of the five spots and the other eight cards remain face up on the table as penalty cards. My partner has three nines. At his turn to play, can he put down the 3 nines and use my 3 kings, 2 queens and deuce to fulfill the initial meld requirement for our side?

Answer: No. Although your penalty cards are down on the table, bear in mind that they are not melded. They are left face up on the table so the opponents can see what your penalty cards are, but they must be treated as if they were still in your hand. If you had 3 kings, 2 queens and a deuce in your hand, your partner could not reach over and take them out of your hand and meld 3 nines with them, could he?

Question: My 8 penalty cards are face up on the table. At my partner's turn to play, he melds 90 points. He has an extra five-spot in his hand. Can he play this on my 2 fives?

Answer: No, he cannot. Once again, although the 2 fives are down on the table, they are penalty cards and must be treated as if they were in your hand.

Question: If my partner makes a legal initial meld are my penalty cards automatically melded, or do I have to meld them when it is my turn to play?

Answer: No, they are not automatically melded, and you do not have to meld them at your next turn to play. You are privileged to meld the 3 kings if you want to. If you do not meld them, they are still exposed cards subject to penalty. You may if you wish meld the 2 queens and the deuce, but you do not have to do so. If your partner has melded 3 fives, you can play your 2 fives on his fives. You may add the deuce to the fives or to any other meld he has made. In other words, you do not have to meld the two queens with the deuce; but if you do not meld the queens, they are still exposed cards subject to penalty.

Question: My 8 penalty cards are still on the table. Suppose that at my next turn to play, I draw a ten, and I have 2 other tens in my hand. Can I meld these 3 tens, together with the 3 kings, 2 queens and deuce, and fulfill the requirement of 90 points for my initial meld?

Answer: Yes, but you cannot then pick up the 2 fives. Unless you pick up another five, the 2 fives remain penalty cards and you must discard one of them.

Question: I put down 3 kings, 2 queens and a deuce and 3 five-spots, and I discard a seven. Now the next player calls my attention to the fact that I have put down only 85 points instead of the 90 points I need for an initial meld. Am I allowed to pick up my seven-spot?

Answer: You cannot pick up the seven spot and put it back in your hand or on the table, even though it is an exposed card. You have completed your play and you can do nothing at this point about making your meld sufficient or changing your discard. However, at your next turn to play you may do anything you wish with the nine penalty cards. You may add a deuce or any other card to them, or change them around and add other cards in order to make a sufficient meld. Any of the exposed cards that are not used in completing the minimum initial meld must remain as penalty cards and be discarded in order at your first opportunity.

Question: I have eight penalty cards down. At my partner's turn he makes a legal minimum meld. On the next play, his left-hand opponent goes out. Does my penalty cards count in our meld or do they count as though they were in my hand?

Answer: They count as though they were in your hand, because penalty cards have to be face up on the table, have never been melded.

S-C Tigers to Try for CEMO Championship

Local Gridders Meet Mexico There Friday Afternoon

Friday is the big day for the Smith-Sotton Tigers when they meet Mexico Military Academy in a conference game played at Mexico that afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Following the game, the Tigers will either be the champions of the Central Missouri Conference or they will have tied for first place with Columbia, providing the Kewpies down the Kemper Yellowjackets, Friday.

The Mexico Colonels are holding third place in the conference, and this tilt will be one of the toughest for the Tigers this year, as the Mexico team will outweigh the Tigers 20 pounds to the man, according to Coach Ralph Dow of the Smith-Cotton Tigers.

In Good Shape

Coach Dow said the boys are in pretty good shape, although there were still some injuries; however, he said they look better now than they hve all season. Ace quarterback, Gene Dowdy, who has carried a knee injury for several weeks , is still not completely recovered from the ailment, but he can be expected to play full time in the event his passing and running attacks are needed.

The Tigers have had two weeks of idleness, the team having an open date last Friday. Last week, they went through light practice, but all this week. the coach has sent the Tigers through rigid maneuvers, working on the Colonels' defense, running the team through Mexico's plays and passes. The local gridders were scheduled for a light workout today.

Depart Friday Morning

Friday morning, 29 Tiger footballers, Coaches Dow and Howard Glavin and manager Cecil Monsees will leave in a S-C bus from the high school at 9:00 o'clock.

The Tigers' starting lineup will be. Myron Herrick, le; Billy Wheeler, lt; Lloyd Young, lg; Donnie Dowdy, c; Delbert Bryant, rg; Charles Phillips, rt; Leo Eickhoff, re; Gene Dowdy, qb; Donald Pummell, rhb; Dale Ruffin, lhb; and Bob Ray, fb.

Rickey Approves Anti-Bonus Rule

By Joe Reichler

NEW YORK Nov. 10—(AP)—Anti-bonus rule magnates have gained another ally in Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Rickey said he will vote to kill the rule at the annual major league sessions in New York next month. But he added a stipulation.

"The Pittsburgh amendment, as it is now offered, I shall vote for," he said. "It kills all present bonus restrictions. It wipes out all provisions.

"However, another amendment must be passed. This would restrict minor league clubs from giving players part of their purchase price."

It is Rickey's contention that a big league club or its affiliates can't compete in the bidding for a player against an independent minor league club that "promises a player 50 per cent of the money received upon his sale to a big league outfit."

Rickey said he will also vote in favor of the National league's three-game playoff in the event of a penannt tie at the end of the regular season.

"I don't believe in the American league's one-game 'sudden death' playoff," he said.

Judge Folta Wonders If He Got The Bear

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 9—(AP)—Federal Judge George W. Folta is considered hereabouts as almost as much of an authority on hunting as on law. He has always maintained that 99 times out of 100 a bear will run when a human shouts at it.

Back from a hunting trip yesterday, Folta told of a big she bear which came out of the brush toward him as he stood in a clearing. Remember his "law," the judge yelled. The bear rushed toward him.

When the animal was only 10 feet away, Folta fired once and the bear fell dead at his feet. The shot had penetrated under the chin and apparently broke the animal's neck.

"It was a lucky shot and if it hadn't been good, I guess I wouldn't be telling about it," Foltz declared, then he mused:

Fans Disagreed To 50-50 Fight

DETROIT, Nov. 10 — (AP) — Young Lester Felton of Detroit, who is fast becoming one of the most controversial figures in boxing, was back in the headlines today — this time because he did not win a fight.

The 20-year-old Negro welterweight zoomed into national prominence Oct. 21 when he got an unpopular decision over Kid Gavilan of Cuba in a fight here that touched off probes by the state boxing commission and the police.

Felton returned to ring warfare last night and wound up with a ten-round draw at Olympia stadium with tough Tony Pellone of New York

Most of the 8,967 fans and the newspapermen thought Felton had won.

Judges Johnny Webber and Lou Jallos each called it a 50-50 fight, while Referee Clarence Rosen voted for Felton by a 54-46 margin. Under Michigan rules, explained by boxing commission chairman Floyd Stevens, that was a draw.

The Associated Press scorecard showed Felton a 52-48 winner, and fight writer Charlie Ward of the Detroit Times had an identical figure. Tommy Devine of the Detroit Free Press called it 53-47 for Felton.. Sam Greene of the Detroit News called five rounds for each fighter, but said "Felton won his rounds by bigger majorities and it was his fight."

Kramer as Again The Opponent For Gonzales

Gonzales has been able to win only three of 10 matches with Kramer so far.

Last night. Kramer turned the trick at the community center in White Plains, N. Y., in straight sets, 8-6, 6-3.

College for Builders

CHICAGO — (AP) — Bricklayers and carpenters may start out in the years ahead with college diplomas as well as trowels and hammers. Martin C. Scores 26 Touchdowns For Total Of 156 Points

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov 10—(AP)—A 19-year-old sophomore full back for Little Rock Junior college claimed the national junior collegiate football scoring leadership. He is Harold Waggoner who in eight games has tallied 26 touchdowns for a total of 156 points.

Waggoner, a 175-pounder from North Little Rock, Ark., is a 60-minute man He is a defensive standout as well as a triple threat on offense.

His coach, Jimmy Karam, says he's one of the fastest men in football. He runs the 100-yard dash consistently at 9.6 seconds.

The Little Rock Jaycee squad has bowled over eight straight opponents—six of them senior college squads—by lop-sided scores. Two games remain of the 1949 schedule.

Sooner Back Is Nation's Top Scorer

Geo. Thomas Needs Two Touchdowns to Establish a Record

By Saul Feldman

NORMAN, Okla , Nov. 10—(AP)—George Thomas went to the University of Oklahoma to become a sports writer, but now is making football headlines

Thomas leads the nation's scorers among major colleges with 87 points.

The blond speedster was a good high school player at Fairland, Okla. He wanted to take journalism at Oklahoma, but had to sidetrack his sports writing ambitions because of too much curricular work.

He enrolled in business management and has found that he can keep up his regular class work and still devote time to football.

Coach Made Happy

This has made Coach Bud Wilkinson a happy man.

The halfback isn't an impressive looking runner, but his flat-footed style makes him hard to stop.

In Oklahoma's opening game, Thomas returned the opening kickoff against Boston College 95 yards. Against Texas, he broke loose for 40 yards.

He has carried the ball 84 times this season for 536 yards. Four of his touchdowns have come after receiving passes.

Thomas, a senior, has a chance to set a new Big Seven Conference scoring record. He needs only 11 points to, tie the all-time mark of 98 set by Missouri's Bob Steuber in 1942.

Oklahoma has games left with Missouri, Santa Clara and the Oklahoma Aggies.

Barring injury, it seems cetrain Thomas will make two touchdowns. But he will have to do it quickly.

With Oklahoma's 300-yard a game rushing offense which has generated 17 straight victories. the first team isn't used more than a half

Thomas is quick to point out that most of the credit should go to the Sooners' rugged forwards, especially right tackle Wade Walker and right guard Stan West.

Walker has led interference for Oklahoma right halfbacks to conference ground gaining honors the past three years—Joe Golding in 1946. George Brewer in 1947 and Thomas last year.

Wilkinson terms him the most powerful man for his size—177 pounds—on the team.

Hubbard High Homecoming This Friday

Pep Rally Set For Tonight, Football Game Friday 2 p. m

Football spirit will run high at Hubbard high school for the next two days.

The Hubbard high school Tigers will meet the Douglass high school Tigers of Columbia, Missouri, to determine what you might call the championship between small Negro schools. Hubbard and Douglass are the only schools of their size that participate in the fall sports.

Program For Tourney

Plans have been made by the high school students for the following activities:

Pep-rally including bon-fire, snake dance, songs, and funeral, for the Columbia Tigers, at Hubbard high school at 7.30 p. m.

Friday:

1:00 p. m. Homecoming parade —several floats will appear in the parade and it promises to be the best parade ever presented to the public by Hubbard high school. There will be special cars in the parade for all alumni.

2.00 p. m. Columbia versus Hubbard at Liberty Park.

Band demonstration and crowning Queen, Miss Patricia Winston.

Homecoming Dance

The spirit of the students is high and all are helping to build floats and painting signs with zest to make the 1949 Armistice Homecoming the biggest day of the year.

Columbia will present a fighting squad against Hubbard and will be a tough foe to defeat.

Hubbard's last win displayed it had finally developed into a machine instead of a bunch of individual stars.

• Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10—(AP)—There's going to be an all-out effort to dispose of baseball's annoying bonus rule at the December meetings, but it may run into a little opposition. . . . Branch Rickey says he won't vote for the "Pittsburgh amendment" wiping out all bonus restrictions unless the old rule is restored which prohibits a minor league club from giving a player part of the purchase price when he is sold. . . .Rickey explains that transfers within a chain generally are player trades involving only nominal sums, so they can't make similar offers. . . . So it would be "murder" to allow independently owned clubs that privilege. . . . The original purpose of the bonus rule, of course, was to discourage offering ridiculous sums to untried kids. It didn't work. . . . Few, if any, independents can match the bonuses which major league clubs will hand out to boys who will immediately be farmed out. Seems like it would only be giving the independents a fair break to let them make another kind of offer. . . . But Branch apparently wants all the breaks to favor his side.

Sports Before Your Eyes

George Munger has ordered scrimmage for his Penn footballers every day this week in preparation for the Army game. . . . And how about a fast workout with the light bag? . . . Billy Key, the clever young Georgia golfer, has transferred from Washington and Lee to Rollins college in Florida, where he can play golf the year round . . . When Northwestern's Bob Voigts became tearful over the departure of Alex Sarkisian because "they'll run us up the middle," the experts thought it was an act. But Northwestern's last three opponents have gained 798 yards through the line. . . . Pat Egan of the Rangers has played 200 consecutive National Hockey league games since Feb. 23, 1946. . . . Slightly bitter over Jim Gallagher's criticism of Branch Rickey's farm produce, one Dodger employe points out that Branch, Jr., set up the system for Larry MacPhail in 1939 so you can call any player from a Brooklyn farm a Rickey product.

Quote, Unquote

John Barnhill, Arkansas coach: "If you lose less than half your games in baseball, you've had a good season and finish in the first division. In football you have to win them all."

Branch Rickey: "Duke Snider is better than he was last spring and will be continuously better, but he is not great yet. He's got a distance to go." . . . Burt Shotton: "You don't need 20 game pitchers to win. I've found out that you can win without them."

Scouting Report

Larry "Moon" Mullins, St Ambrose college coach, claims Joe Lucas is a better football player this season than when he earned little All America mention as a tackle last fall. But he's playing defensive end and offensive guard now.

Pigskin Pickins

Columbia vs. Navy — If victoy is pat of Columbia's fate, it will come to Little much too late.

Oklahoma vs. Missouri — Oklahoma and Darrell Royal will cause Missouri's blood to boil.

Minnesota vs. Pittsburgh — Pittsburgh's Panthers ain't got the anthwers.

California vs. Oregon — California will make a score when it digs down in the mines for Ore.

Wyoming vs. Baylor -- Wyoming will find only hexes, deep in the heart of Texas.

Art Wall, the Duke university golfer from Honesdale, Pa., who has made 28 holes-in-one, has decided to turn pro and will serve his six months probation period before going after the cash in PGA tournaments.

One Grid Rule Is Cause Of Bad Relations

By Gayle Talbot

NEW YORK, Nov. 10—(AP)—An innocent-looking little paragraph on page 44 of the football rules book for 1949 appears to be the cause of more strained relations than usual between officials and coaches this season.

Scarcely a weekend passes that some overwrought mentor does not accuse a group of officials of having robbed him blind. Penalties are up and so are blood pressures. All because article 4 (the little joker) says.

"When a teammate of the runner uses a hand or forearm in blocking or to supplement a shoulder or chest block the hand must be in contact with the body during the entire block."

Poor Offensive Lineman

Know what that means? Only that the poor offensive lineman, who always has taken a wicked mauling from the unfettered defense, now is even further restricted. He can't even rooster-fight this year without incurring a 15-yard penalty.

Once he was permitted to lock his hands and flail around pretty good with his elbows. Then last year, the locked hands were abolished and it was decreed that the offensive blocker had to keep his hands "near" his body. This year the rules makers went whole hog.

Now the only way the poor bloke who is trying to carve a hole for a ball-carrier can make certain of avoiding "illegal use of hands" is to take a firm grip on his jersey with either paw when a play starts and hold on for dear life until it ends.

Watch Those Hands

If a hand slips loose and an official sees it—whambo—15 yards. That usually happens just after a team mate has run 83 yards for a score. That was what Coach Frank Leahy was raving about earlier in the season, after Notre Dame's win over Washington.

Difficulty is, of course, that certain officials are enforcing the new rule more closely, more literally, than others. The yelps are coming, mainly, from coaches who have been bitten by a zealot.

Asa Bushnell, the czar of eastern football who appoints officials for 20 to 30 games each week, said the new "tightening-up rule as he calls it, has brought a great many more penalties, though he doesn't yet know the exact percentage of increase.

Request Strict Enforcement Of Grid Rule

Coaches Like Rule Restricting Elbow Blocking

By Will Grimsley

NEW YORK, Nov. 10—(AP)—College coaches not only like the new football rule restricting elbow blocking but most of them want it more rigidly enforced.

"If there's any hollering about the increase in penalties the coaches brought it on themselves," said Lou Little of Columbia, chairman of the coaches rules committee, today. "They were all for it.

"In fact, we sent letters to the various conference commissioners requesting strict enforcement. We feel it's a fine rule and will cut down rough play and injuries."

Rule Stipulates

The rule stipulates that when an offensive player uses a hand or forearm in blocking the hand must stay in contact with the body.

Once the block could lock his hands and flail away, rooster fashion. The locked hands were barred last year and the regulations were changed to say the hands should stay "near" the body.

Now there must be a contact all the way. If the hand slips and it is detected. it's a 15-yard penalty.

Penalties are on the rise and the emphasis on horn-tooting has brought beefs from some of the mentors. The stricter blocking rule is blamed.

Short of Complaints

But a cross-country sampling of coaches, opinion by the Associated Press today showed almost everybody for the rule and a shortage of complaints.

"I think the rule is perfectly all right," commented Minnesota's Bernie Bierman. "I don't think the officials are calling violations too close and in some cases are not calling them close enough."

Lynn Waldorf of California and Marchy Schwartz of Stanford were others who approved.

There were no outright objections but a lukewarm attitude toward the rule was reflected by Herman Hickman of Yale, Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma and Jim Tatum of Maryland.

Hickman Declares

Hickman said he's not "heatedly for or against it" but he believes it can be overemphasized. Officials should overlook cases where the blockers hands fly out from the body inadvertently and should crack down only when intent is involved, big Herman declared.

Wilkinson declared it's unfortunate the violation is called sometimes when it doesn't have a bearing on the outcome of the game. "It's a step in the right direction, though," he added.

Tatum would like to see the rule changed so that hands may be taken away from the chest and penalties imposed for "striking motions with arms, fists and elbows." He favors the spirit of the regulation he said, but it's hard to enforce.

Coach Faurot Speaks Up

Missouri Don Faurot wants the rule kept on the books and enforced. There were "plenty of uppercuts" before, he said, and some teams still "get away with murder."

Plays Ice Hockey With Broken Leg

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19—(AP)—Center Cliff Simpson, scorer of the St. Louis Flyers of the American (Hockey) league, didn't know it at the time, but he played in four games with a broken leg.

And during that time he scored two goals and was credited with an assist.

He was injured Oct. 27 in a game at New Haven, Conn., and thought he had sprained an ankle. He couldn't understand why the ankle continued to pain him when he removed tape from it after each game.

An X-ray examination after Simpson returned to St. Louis this week cleared up the mystery. He has a bone fracture two inches above the ankle.

Dr. Robert F. Hyland put the leg in a cast, and Simpson is on crutches. He probably will be out of action for three or four weeks.

A Dim View For Tigers Over Sooners

Faurot Fretted Over Condition Of His Squad

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10—(AP)—The Kansas State Wildcats, who have already achieved their best record in Big Seven conference football since 1944, hope to take another step forward Saturday.

The Wildcats play Oklahoma A. & M. at Manhattan, Kas., in a non-conference game.

Kansas State won two games in 1944, beating the University of Kansas 18-14 in the last game of that season. But then they failed to win another conference game until Oct. 1 of this year when they beat Colorado 27-13 at home.

Coach Ralph Graham's 'Cats also won over Fort Hays State in the 1949 opener, giving them two victories thus far in the season. They'll play Tulsa in Oklahoma City Nov. 19 and Missouri at Columbia on Thanksgiving day before calling it quits for the year.

Chance For Wildcats

Although fairly well beaten down in manpower, the Wildcats figure to have at least an outside chance against both Oklahoma A. & M.. and Tulsa. The loss of fullback Gerald Hackney due to injury three weeks ago has taken steam from the offense, but the Wildcats' sophomores still have the desire to win.

At another Big Seven camp, Coach Don Faurot took a dim view of his Missouri Tigers' chances of beating undefeated Oklahoma at Columbia, Mo., Saturday. Oklahoma can clinch its second Big Seven title by beating the Tigers.

Frets Over Sooners Power

Faurot fretted over the condition of his squad and the overall power of Oklahoma. Nick Carras and Mike Ghnouly, ace defensive backs, have failed to respond to treatment for injuries and neither is expected to play much against the Oklahomans.

Nebraska and Iowa State continued to work hard for their conference game at Ames, Iowa. Nebraska drilled against the type of pass plays they expect Iowa State quarterback Bill Weeks — Big Seven leader — to throw against them.

Iowa State, at top strength, worked until dark and then moved indoors under the lights for signal drill and calisthenics. Saturday will be Coach Abe Stuber's birthday and he wants to have his boys in condition to give him a present.

The Colorado Buffaloes will depart tomorrow for Albuquerque, N. M., where they hope to avenge a defeat handed them last season by New Mexico university. Kansas has an open date.

WICHITA, Kas. — Alvin Williams, 161, Wichita, stopped Eddie Miller, 159, Dayton, Ohio, 8 rounds.

DETROIT — Lester Felton, 146½, Detroit and Tony Pellone, 145½, New York, drew 10 rounds.

Republican Party Warned By Stassen

It Must "Rebuild" To Serve The People If It's To Avoid Defeat

By The Associated Press

Harold E. Stassen warned the Republican party yesterday (Wednesday) that it must "rebuild" to serve the people if it is to avoid defeats such as those it suffered Tuesday and in 1948.

While Democrats from President Truman down viewed Tuesday's off-year state and municipal voting as portending further victories in 1950, Stassen conceded his party "is in a bad way."

In an informal speech before the National Press Club in Washington, the former Minnesota governor—who now heads the University of Pennsylvania—said the results in New York and elsewhere "reemphasized the very serious nature of our defeat in 1948."

He said the Republicans must reorganize both policies and organization and bury intra-party differences in both the foreign and domestic fields. Specifically, Stassen said they should accomplish this by:

Must Accomplish Points

1—Opposing what he called the "gravy train" or "give-away" approach of the Truman administration on domestic programs. "If you take away the incentive to produce and the penalty for loafing, then you are on the road to ruin," he said.

2—Advocating a bi-partisan foreign policy "with vigorous participation in the affairs of all the world."

3—Giving volunteer groups a place in the regular campaign organization, and younger victorious candidates some influence in party councils.

Nearly complete returns yesterday (Wednesday) showed the Democrats won not only the top prize in Tuesday's voting—the U. S. senatorship from New York—but the only two house seats that were at stake, in Brooklyn and San Francisco, and far-flung city elections.

"Vote Of Confidence"

President Truman interpreted the results as a vote of confidence in his "fair deal." He said it would have a "very decided effect on the election in 1950" when control of Congress will be at stake.

Guy Gabrielson, the Republican national chairman, said in a statement that the principles which Republican Senator John F. Dulles expounded in his campaign "are those which ultimately will prevail because they are right."

Dulles concentrated his drive against centralization of power in the federal government. His victorious opponent, Herbert H. Lehman, came out for most of the "fair deal."

Stassen, Dewey's opponent for the Republican presidential nomination in 1948, was asked during a question-and-answer period after his press club talk whether the Dulles defeat eliminated Dewey politically.

His Audience Chuckles

"I would say," Stassen replied after a pause, "that no individual election every completely eliminated anyone."

Then, as the audience chuckles, he added:

"Sometimes they have a marked trend in that direction."

Stassen side-stepped a question involving whether he himself will run for the presidential nomination in 1952.

Asked whether General Eisenhower will be his chief opponent for the nomination, Stassen said:

"That is a loaded, double-barreled question. I hope you ask me that two years from now."

Late returns from Tuesday's voting showed that Pennsylvania had voted about three to one for a $500,000,000 veterans' bonus. A referendum on a $105,000,000 bond issue to finance a bonus was still in doubt in New Jersey, with opposition having a slight edge.

Student Pilot Forgets Wings

SAN MONICA, Calif., Nov. 10 (AP)—With unvarying precision, student pilots wheeled their Douglas AD-1 Skyraiders down the taxi-way at Charleston, R. I., for simulated carrier takeoffs.

The routine was the same for each, taxi, lower the folded wings, zoom into the air.—But, what's this?

"What happened?" queried the dazed pilot when the rescue crew freed his scratched and bruised body from the demolihed aircraft.

"Nothing much," he was told. "You just forgot to unfold your wings."

Details of this feat were contained in official reports received at Douglas El Segundo (Calif.) plant from a Douglas service representative and were confirmed by the Navy.

Wrong Radio May Caused Fatal Crash

Federal Inquiry In Plane Crash Which Cost Lives Of 55

By James J. Strebig

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10—(AP)—A youn airport traffic controller admitted at a federal inquiry Wednesday possibility of using the wrong radio channel when he tried to prevent an air collision which cost 55 lives.

The testimony came from Glenn D. Tigner, 21, one of several operators in the Washington National Airport control tower Nov. 1 when a war surplus P-38 fighter ripped through an Eastern Airlines DC-4, killing all aboard. Erick Rios Bridoux, Bolivian civil aviation director and pilot of the P-38, survived the wild plunge into the Potomac river, but was seriously injured.

Six-Man Panel Hear Evidence

The six-man panel set up by the civil aeronautics board to hear testimony of 50 witnesses, did not reach the point at which Rios' story, told to investigators in a hospital interview, will be read. The seventh witness was on the stand when the hearing recessed overnight.

Tigner was questioned for two and a half hours about the ten-minute period that elapsed between Rios' takeoff for a test flight around the field and the moment the fighter slashed into the big transport. Both planes were coming in to land at the time and the accident occurred just as the Airline pilot began to turn away at Tigner's warning.

Investigators brought out that Tigner had to use one radio channel to talk to Rios and another to Captain George Ray of the Airliner. The channel is selected by pushing buttons.

Tigner was asked whether it was "possible you were on the wrong frequency?" to be heard by Rios.

"It is possible, yes," Tigner said.

Some Stories Differ

Maj. German Pol, Bolivia's official representative who was on the field at the time, said he saw the DC-4 "pulling up and to the left x x x. Right at this moment the accident happened x x x."

Both Tigner and Robert B. Union, a control operator who watched the collision through field glasses, said the fighter appeared to be slightly to the right of the DC-4 when the airline pilot applied power, leveling off from a descending position, and then turned left just as the fighter hit.

Testimony indicated concern over condition of the plane, which the Bolivian government was buying from a Washington firm.

Pol said Rios had refused to fly it on three occasions before the tragic flight, insisting each time on repairs.

Did Much For Beauty And Public Service

Some of the many achievements of Hilliard Brewster, who passed away Monday morning in Sedalia are epitomized in a letter concerning him received by the management of the Terry hotel from F. H. Chambers, of Kansas City, a close friend.

The letter says in part:

"Had Hillard Brewster turned his artistic talents into the business world for profit he would have been a rich man; but, his rewards have always come from the satisfaction which he and his appreciative friends, a few of whom survive to gratefully recall his gratuity in public services, generally far beyond any monetary reward."

"Our public memory is prone to be father short and, indeed, when a modest public servant reaches the ripe age of 83 years there are only a few who actually know of his endless contributions to the public weal who are left to tell of his benefactions, no matter how much his services may have been valued at one time."

"At one time he developed the grounds of the boys' home in Boonville until they became the pride of the entire state."

"During Governor Hyde's administration he was called to Jefferson City, in charge of the green houses for penal institutions. With no extra compensations he landscaped the other state governmental grounds, including the new state capitol group of buildings. He was drafted and freely gave of his ability and time to decorate the capitol for at least three generations of our governors."

While at the penal institution that same desire to serve others was frequently evidenced by aid to men whom he thought were good even if misfortune had overtaken them. We do have some worthy citizens in this state who might not have left their "time" there as actually worth while men had it not been for his counsel and friendship.

Put Talents to Use

"During that same period he donated his outstanding talent to the planting of 20,000 trees and shrubs which were donated from 47 states to "commemorate the valor of confederate soldiers and sailors" at Memorial Park, Higginsville. This was typical of the man. He was not of southern parenthood, but he loved his fellow men. He recognized valor."

"There are few if any communities in Missouri, his native state, where some beauty spot along their highways did not originate within his brain."

"No man or woman ever went through the State Highway Department's landscaping exhibits at the state fair annually who is not indebted, I believe, to him for those gorgeous examples of what any community, or home owner, might aspire to and no man can say just how much better off the world becomes for such generosity."

"He loved to make the most of his rare talents, including his voice."

Rival Restaurants Cooperate

CHICAGO—(AP)—George Drake and Marion Isbell run restaurants just around the corner from each other. They are competitors. Yet they recently ran a series of six advertisements—three apiece—in Chicago newspapers in which each paid tribute to the other as a good friend and fine neighbor.

One of Isbell's ads set forth: "In order to get along with the rest of the world we must learn to get along with one another—with those in our immediate vicinity, our neighbors. George and I have learned."

County Liable In Medical Cost

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 10—(AP)—When a prisoner is inside the county jail, the county is liable for the cost of medical attention. But should the prisoner escape and break his legs in the effort, he has to pay the bill.

That was the opinion of attorney general J. E. Taylor today in the case of Henry Herbold of Oregon county.

Herbold was being held in the Oregon county jail at Alton on a mixed felony charge. He broke the bars in the window of his third floor cell and tied blankets together for a rope.

The blankets parted as Herbold tried to climb down the outside of the jail. Both his legs were broken and he was taken to a hospital in Springfield. He died there later.

The opinion was written by assistant attorney general Stephen J. Millet for Percy W. Gullic, prosecuting attorney of Oregon county.

Millett wrote that the county is not liable for the costs of Herbold's hospitalization but if his estate is insufficient to meet the bill, the county could pay it.

Use of pumice and pumicite reached a record 607,746 tons in the U. S. in 1948.

GOP Bickering Contributed to Bare Campaign Cupboard

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Resignation of isolationist insurance man James Kemper as treasurer of the GOP national committee was dressed up in a high-sounding smoke-screen about foreign policy in order to cover up a bitter personal GOP feud. Actually, his resignation was handed in one hour after Guy Gabrielson of New Jersey became the new national chairman last August, but it was agreed to delay the announcement until the political horizon was calmer.

Kemper's exit puts the spotlight on some red faces and raw nerves inside the GOP committee, which probably will be smoothed over now that he is out. Although Kemper talked big about lack of funds in the GOP treasury, real fact is that he was never much of a money-raiser. The best GOP money-raiser was the man Kemper and Dewey ousted as GOP national finance chairman after the 1948 convention—Walter Hope.

Hope, an able New York lawyer, learned of his resignation by reading it in the morning papers, and his friends claim that the shock was responsible for his death a month or so later. Hope left in the treasury a surplus of $800,000 after the Philadelphia convention.

He was replaced by bourbon prince Harold Talbot, eager aspirant to the court of St. James, whose family had almost ordered their clothes for their presentation to the king—when they heard the news of Dewey's defeat. Between January 1949 and August 4, when GOP Chairman Hugh Scott resigned, Talbot had raised the magnificent sum of $71,000—while Scott and Kemper were spending money at the rate of $80,000 a month.

Talbot's main excuse was that he couldn't collect funds because of the Omaha GOP fight. And when it became apparent that Guy Gabrielson was to be the new chairman, Talbot began a quiet campaign against him, which culminated in a lunch at which he and Gabrielson patched up their differences. That same night, however, Talbot dined with an oil executive who reported back to the new GOP chairman that Talbot had begun his attack all over again.

As a result of all this, GOP finances today are in terrible shape. However, with Sinclair Weeks of Massachusetts now in charge of the national finance committee, they are improving. Johnny Hanes, onetime Democrat and member of the Roosevelt administration, has been appointed vice-chairman, and some of the big contributors already have promised to kick in.

Merry-Go-Round

Some folks were surprised when Senator "Wild Bill" Langer, Republican, praised President Truman, Democrat. But it was this same president who appointed Langer's nephew, Morgan Ford, as judge of the United States Customs court in New York. Ford was an insurance man in North Dakota, a long way from New York. . . . Air Secretary Stuart Symington staged a private poker party for President Truman and cronies last week. The now vanished 70 air groups were not discussed—not even the 58 air groups which have also vanished. . . . Colliers magazine hits the purge of the left-wing CIO unions right on the nose in its advance article by Sam Stavisky. The man responsible for injecting new pep into Colliers is Louis Ruppel, one of FDR's old newspaper pals.

U. S. Steel vs. U. S. Government

While the U. S. Steel corporation was using its influence against a settlement of the strike, it was also trying to increase its tremendous hold on the steel industry through the U. S. government.

Its latest proposed acquisition is a government wartime shipyard at Orange, Texas, which it plans to convert into a factory for making steel pipe for the oil industry. The shipyard was purchased by U. S. Steel's wholly owned subsidiary. Consolidated Steel, upon whose property the yard was built Then Albert Herbert Bergson, head of the Justice Department's anti-trust division, ruled that this would increase U. S Steel's monopoly position and would be against the best interests of the USA.

However, this didn't please Congressman J. M. Coombs and other Texas politicos who thereupon pushed a resolution through both houses of Congress authorizing the shipyard facilities to be sold to U. S. Steel.

Once before, Congressional and White House pressure was used to increase U. S. Steel's hold on the industry. After the war, when the government advertised its Geneva, Utah, steel plant for sale, once again the Justice Department's anti-trust division ruled that any sale to U. S. Steel would be against the best interests of the nation.

However, then Senator Abe Murdock of Utah now a Labor Relations commissioner, pulled every wire possible to sell the government's property to U. S. Steel. Simultaneously, Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder, a good friend of U. S. Steel President Ben Fairless, was given credit for talking to the White House.

At any rate, President Truman personally directed Attorney General Tom Clark to overrule his antitrust division and decree that there was no objection to selling the government's Utah steel plant to U. S. Steel.

Thus the steel corporation has been in the fortunate position of being able to thumb its nose at President Truman's fact-finding board and at the same time get President Truman's help in tightening its monopoly hold of the steel industry.

Capital News Capsules

Undersecretary of State out—Kindly Jim Webb has informed President Truman he wants to resign as Undersecretary of State. Webb game of diplomacy, wants to get back into private life. The president asked Jim to remain hasn't liked the sophisticated rough-and-tumble on until after the important atomic energy talks with Britain and Canada are over, then he will look for another mon. Meanwhile Webb is on the list of possibilities for the presidency of the university of North Carolina, though Sperry Gyroscope is itching to get him back.

Air Traffic Tickets—CAA Chief Del Rentzel has called in Navy and Air Force leaders to iron out air traffic problems in the hope of preventing future disasters. The CAA is in charge of patrolling the airways, and can hand out traffic tickets for air violations. But it is up to the Navy and Air Force to punish their own fliers. One problem, therefore, is to make sure military pilots are properly punished for reckless flying. Another problem is the close proximity of military and civilian fields. Busy fields, such as Washington's national airport, are forced to hold up traffic several times a month while some military pilot on a training mission hunts for his bearings.

Government Fight With A&P Looms as a 'Paper Bullet' War

By Douglas Larsen
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Anti-trust suits used to be titanic legal struggles that lasted for years. Now they've apparently become titanic propaganda struggles, at least if the current case against the A & P food store chain is any indication.

Both sides are screaming that this litigation ain't cricket. But every day finds the word-war getting hotter with more participants.

Justice officials say that A & P started it by buying full-page ads in 2000 newspapers throughout the country, to tell their side of the story. A spokesman for the food chain gives the company's reasons for the ads:

"Our 30,000,000 customers wanted to know what was involved in the suit. So did the thousands of suppliers who do business with us, as well as our employes. We took out the ads to tell them. It was the best way."

To counter the effect of the ads on the public mind, Attorney General J. Howard McGrath and chief Department of Justice trustbuster Herbert A. Bergson hit the banquet trail. They began to make public speeches denying what was said in the A & P ads, and supplying some opinions on the case which weren't included in the original court brief.

With the help of the efficient public relations staff of the Department of Justice these speeches got wide play in the press and on the radio. A & P countered with another set of full-page ads in 2000 papers. Then more speeches by Bergson and McGrath. And more A & P ads. At this writing A & P has placed four sets of ads in 2000 papers. Company spokesmen say that there will be more if there is a need for further enlightening their customers, suppliers and employes. And Bergson and McGrath aren't planning to stop talking.

Old Hand At It

But those are just the activities of the main contestants. Rep. Wright Patman from Texas, the long-time chain store hater, couldn't resist the chance to start sounding off. For a couple of weeks he made speeches on the floor of the House almost every other day, castigating the A & P. And, as is his privilege, he had close to 50,000 copies of each speech mailed out to newsmen and interested persons at government expense.

Next voice to roar out in public against the A & P was an outfit called the National Federation of Independent Businessmen. It placed full-page ads in 500 papers around the country. George J. Burger, the vice president, says the organization has 136,000 members—presumably small businessmen—and that it is the largest group of its kind in the country. Burger says the decision to support the Department of Justice case was made by the board of trustees.

According to Mr. Burger, his federation is just beginning to sound off. National radio programs and more ads are in the mill. His organization's interest, he says, is simply to see that the country's anti-trust laws are properly enforced.

A & P's supporters haven't become too vocal yet but they will. American Trucking Association and several state granges have announced that they are ready to get into the propoganda fight. And other big merchandising outfits are about ready to throw in with A & P. They see it as a death fight for the right to mass purchasing and mass buying

At the rate this thing is developing, in a few months there won't be any newsprint or radio time left for anything but the A & P suit.

The chain must file its answering brief Dec. 9. It will probably be nearly spring before the case can come before a judge.

A & P attorieys will ask the court to handle the charges as a separate litigation, divorced from the former case against the company which resulted in a $175,000 fine. They say that the old case was settled once and for all and that new issues are involved in the present suit. If they are successful in this appeal it will lengthen the time of the case considerably.

Justice Department attorneys are claiming that the present suit is part of the older suit because the A & P has not stopped those illegal monopolistic practices for which the company was fined. They contend that it is part of the old case. If this argument holds, there should be a quicker decision.

Hubby's Interests Changed? Better Change Yours, Too

Her main complaint seemed to be that they married each other because they shared the same interests. But after a few years of marriage his interests had changed.

Evidently she didn't understand that what happened to her husband happens to most men.

If the average wife wrote down her husband's main interests and ideas of relaxation at the time they married and then made out another list four or five years later she would have two lists with a few duplications.

But that shouldn't make a woman feel gyped or cheated.

As a wife it is her job to keep up with his changing interests, not to sit and sulk because they've changed.

Husbands and wives don't remain companionable through the years because they cling to the same set of interests they had when they fell in love.

Share New Interests

They stay companionable because they are both willing to share each other's interests and activities as they develop through the years.

So they've lost that "common interest" they once shared. What of it?

Another interest can take its place. All that a wife who wants to remain a companion to her husband has to do is to see to it that a "common interest" that no longer common to both of them is replaced by a new interest they both share.

One set of common interests can't be counted on to last a lifetime. Lasting companionship is always the result of making new interests "common ones."

Surgery is Required to Make The Prostate Gland Shrink

Written for NEA Service

There are several kinds of prostate trouble. One of them — hypertrophy — is definitely associated with aging. Although in many men the prostate tends to shrink with age, in some it enlarges instead. Because of the position in which it lies, its increased size partly shuts off the free flow of urine.

The first sign ordinarily is delay and difficulty in beginning urination. This develops rather rapidly to a stage in which the bladder cannot be completely emptied. When this happens the bladder wall becomes thickened and therefore is able to hold less urine so that the desire to urinate comes more and more often. As the amount of urine remaining in the bladder increases, the difficulty becomes worse, the bladder holds less and there is increasing frequency. This often shows up more at night.

Tube Can Be Used

Sometimes a man with an enlarged prostate suddenly may be unable to urinate at all. The bladder then has to be emptied by the use of a tube, called a catheter, which is passed into the bladder. With the help of a catheter the bladder can be emptied and the symptoms relieved temporarily. However, it is not usually advisable to rely on the constant use of the catheter tube nor to leave one in place for very long because of the danger of infection.

When the prostate has enlarged so much that the use of a catheter is necessary (or preferably earlier), expert advice and treatment is nedeed. There is no medical treatment for a hypertrophied prostate gland; that is, there is no medicine which can be taken or given which will make the prostate gland shrink. The treatment consequently is by surgery. For this several different methods of operating on the prostate gland are available to relieve the symptoms and to remove some of the excessive tissue.

The CAMEO

By Virginia Teale

Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Hagar Blair and Andrey Yakov both want to buy a valuable cameo. Both Neil O'Neill and Tom Falter claim to own it. All live in a western art colony. Hagar, setting out to see Falter about the cameo, finds the cameo box in her car, and the cameo is gone. Meanwhile, Neil and Yakov have gone to Bob's place, where Tom O'Neill, Neil's husband, is in his cups. Learning that Falter might be at his home, Yakov slips out. Later Neil goes, leaving Tom alone with Bob Knox, the proprietor.

UPON recovery from her first minutes of stupefaction after finding the empty cameo box on the seat of her car, Hagar Blair had driven up Hillside Road to think out what her discovery might indicate, and what to do about it.

Opening the box, she ran her fingers across the purple velvet lining—idly she picked with her fingernail at the edge of the cushion. The cushion tilted. Hagar attempted to push it back into place, but it had become wedged.

Using a hair pin as a lever, she dug carefully at the side of the velvet cushion to put it straight. It finally popped out. Hagar brushed the loose glue out of the box, blowing into it to remove the small particles. She held it close to the light to appraise its condition, and it was then that she noticed the numbers.

There were two sets of figures, engraved one beneath the other, and a single figure at the bottom. Probably some jeweler's code number, she decided. Arranged in a peculiar way, though, for that sort of thing: 10-4; and below that, 8-2; and below that, 6.

She pressed the cushion back in place and closed the box.

She started the motor. Pulling the wheel hard over, she whirled the little car around and pointed its nose downhill.

* * *

SHE brought the car to a bouncing stop in front of Falter's mail box. As she climbed out and slammed the door, she was jeering at herself:

"So far, old lady, you've behaved like a stupid cat worrying at the tail the lizard has left behind." She climbed the steps to Martin's porch, "Well, here's hoping it's not too late to catch the lizard!"

Hagar saw a light inside and pounded on the door.

"Falter? Hey, it's me! Hagar. I've come to talk business."

She leaned against the door. It creaked open about two feet and stopped.

She stepped inside and looked around: What a pigsty! There was a bottle of red wine overturned on the floor and a murky pool had spread out, around and under it.

Probably lying drunk on his bed, Hagar decided, and made up her mind to prove it. She approached the half-open door of what she judged would be the bedroom and peeked inside.

She froze for a few seconds, then her body perked up into boardlike stiffness and she tottered backward into the studio.

Though she could not now see through the bedroom doorway, the picture on the other side was photographed on her brain.

Martin Falter, in blue and white striped pajama trousers, sprawled across the bed, the hair on his naked chest matted with glistening dark red, his head lolling on the edge of a round pillow-bolster, and the whole dreadful tableau startlingly illuminated by the light of a fluorescent reading lamp.

Her eyes lost their look of vacant horror and became only astonished and curious as they darted over the disordered studio. Except for the spilled wine, Hagar thought, there was no sign of a fight. She noticed, then, that the front door was wide open and went over to close it. She reached for the knob, paused a moment and pushed the door closed with her foot.

Taking a pair of gloves from her pocket, she slipped them on and walked through the bedroom door on tiptoe and closed it behind her. She kept her eyes off the bed as much as possible.

* * *

ON the floor, near the closet door, she saw an open suitcase; a number of clean shirts and socks were strewn around it. Hagar concluded the bag had been already searched and turned her attention to a wardrobe chest opposite the bed. She examined the contents of the drawers and found but a few odds and ends of clothing.

Slowly, then, her eyes averted, she advanced toward the bed. She crouched beside it and, feeling as though she were about to touch a dead snake, slid her hand under the pillow bolster. There was nothing tucked away there, and she was about to withdraw her hand when she realized that the area under the pillow was hard and smooth rather than resilient. She pressed her fingers down on what seemed to be a wood panel about 10 inches wide which extended from her edge of the bed to a point almost halfway across.

She sat back on her heels and considered: There seemed to be a rectangular piece cut out of the mattress, and in the hole there seemed to be some sort of compartment or box resting on top of the springs. Hagar realized that there was no way of exploring this further without moving Falter's body. She shivered. Then, warily, she untucked the sheet from the side of the bed and peered underneath. Fitted in snugly between the mattress and bedstead was a gray wooden box of a type used by carpenters to carry tools. Hagar slid her hands in on each side of it and pulled—it slid forward quite easily.

Hagar glanced up at the bed and her stomach churned! The pillow bolster was settling as she moved the box from beneath it and Falter's head and shoulders had begun to slant toward her!

Butter-nut BREAD'S GOOD IDEAS

KITCHEN TRICK

PERK UP the flavor of mashed potatoes with sour cream and chopped green onion tops...chopped hard-cooked eggs are good too.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

FOR A SCRATCH-FREE shine on your toaster and other appliances, polish with dry baking soda on a soft dry cloth.

RECIPE

CALIFORNIA SUPPER DISH

1 small onion, chopped
4 Tbsp. shortening
1—4 oz. can mushrooms
1 Tbsp. chopped green pepper
2 c. canned tomatoes
¾ c. kernel corn
½ tsp. salt
dash of pepper
dash of thyme
1½ c. cookd rice
1—7 oz. can tuna, flaked
⅓ c. buttered crumbs

BUDGET BALANCER

MEALS and budgets both balance when you serve plenty of Butter-nut Bread! Butter-nut adds vitamin-and-mineral enrichment to every meal... and tender, delicious flavor, too.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

All over the world today there are people teaching bitterness and hate.

Here in America we have learned to live together in friendship.

For us here at A&P, it has been a wonderful and thrilling experience to get from those with whom we compete day after day such astounding evidence of friendship and respect.

The things that have happened since the anti-trust lawyers from Washington brought suit to destroy A&P have amazed us.

While we sincerely believed that we had earned the friendship of millions of consumers for whom we have provided better food at lower prices, and the friendship of millions of farm families for whom we have provided a better market for their produce, we were not prepared for the avalanche of offers of support.

But most of all, we have to confess that we had underestimated the fine sportsmanship of many of our competitors all over the country.

Can anyone believe that these competitors would rush to our defense if, as the anti-trust lawyers allege, we had been trying to put them out of business?

We and they have fought hard for business.

There are nearly 350,000 individual grocers competing with us. They have a larger share of the nation's grocery business today than they had ten years ago or twenty years ago.

Many of them do as good a job as we do, and they make it plenty tough for us.

Now, day after day, these same competitors are letting us know that they are in our corner.

All we can say is, thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

Who hollered for Uncle?

Who wants him to break up A&P?

COULD IT BE INDEPENDENT GROCERS? Doesn't seem likely. In ten years America's independent storekeepers almost tripled their business. In 1938 they did just under 5½ billion dollars worth of food business. Last year the independent storekeepers handled over 15 billion dollars worth of food.

WHOLESALE GROCERS? Hardly. For many of them are directly or indirectly engaged in or supporting some form of voluntary or cooperative chain to match chain economies.

THE EMPLOYEES? That would be funny—except that some folks probably believe it. Actually, less than 25 years ago many food chain stores could have paid all expenses—rent, heat, light, wages, etc.—out of the money a store manager alone gets paid now. And the store manager of 25 years ago would have been happy to get what a clerk gets today.

PRODUCERS? Well, take farmers. Certainly part of their prosperity must be attributed to the markets that big chains create for them. The big chains buy the entire pack of many a cannery. Those canneries pack the farmers' crops. What would the farmer do with his highly perishable crop if the food chains were eliminated as big volume buyers?

COMPETING CHAINS, MAYBE? No. Practically every chain in the grocery business had more sales last year than the year before. One chain that we know a lot about increased its food business 21% last year and is up 19% in the first eight months of this year.

THEN IT CERTAINLY MUST BE THE PEOPLE! Like fun. If the people hated food chain stores, would they have spent 9½ billion dollars in them last year? Folks like the low prices and high standards of chains—and the better the chains are run, the better folks like them.

Does This Sound as Though We Need Help? Thorofare Super Markets came into existence 10 years ago. The food chains Thorofare replaced were doing about three million dollars worth of business a year. Housewives liked our policies well enough to boost their purchases in our 90 stores to about 30 million dollars a year.

We call that a vote of confidence. And we're going to keep right on proving that as long as we stick to good brands and better-than-average selections at rock-bottom prices, we can compete with anybody in the business. And keep right on growing, too!

We don't believe any chain will be punished for being efficient, or for pleasing housewives so well that it is forced to grow.

We, too, believe that it is a storekeeper's duty to bring the public the best food at the lowest possible prices, and hope to see the chain store way of doing business vindicated.

And as long as the producers, the employees, the customers, the wholesale grocers, the independents and the competing chains thrive so well, we will continue to think it's a good way to do business.

PITTSBURGH, PA.

We Don't Want the A&P Put Out of Business

The owner of the undersigned store is an independent merchant in this community. We run our own store, set our own prices, maintain our own policy.

We consider the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. as a chain store. Because they are a chain they give us stiff competition.

The competition offered by the A&P keeps us on our toes.

The Department of Justice has brought a suit against the A&P claiming that the A&P is a monopoly.

Whether it is or not we are in no position to judge.

What we do know is that the A&P doesn't do all of the grocery business in this area. We are here and ready to serve local customers.

WE DON'T WANT TO SEE THE A&P PUT OUT OF BUSINESS.

The A&P is keeping food prices down. We in turn keep our prices down; and that helps us to sell more goods.

KUGLER'S SUPER-FOOD MARKET

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

We Agree With A&P

Yes, we want our A&P competitors to stay in business on their present scale because we know what it would mean to the American people without them.

We are only one store and are striving to serve our community with good food at low prices, but the A&P is a nationwide organization serving the American people everywhere with good food at low prices.

Destroying the A&P would mean eliminating competition nationally in the food field which every poor man knows consumes the major portion of his salary.

A COMPETITOR'S OPINION of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

The self-styled "trust busters" of the government recently made headlines as a result of a move to destroy the A&P.

Frankly, we don't like it.

So What...

And if monopoly of the food business is charged, that sure hands us a laff. We...at P.P.M. are growing like wildfire. Seems like we're able to sell better foods at better prices.

Your increasing patronage of our stores is positive proof that A&P has no monopoly on the food business.

PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND

I Welcome A&P Competition BECAUSE

• • • • like myself, many hundreds of independent grocers got their start with the TEA COMPANY.

• • • • The great A&P is not detrimental to the progress of the grocery business. On the contrary, A&P has always been beneficial to any open-minded businessman who believes in FREE ENTERPRISE. Founded on the principle of FAIR PLAY and FAIR PRICES, A&P developed from a humble start to its present commanding position in the field of retail merchandising.

• • • • My experience as a former employee of the TEA COMPANY has served me well. I attribute my success to the ideas and methods tried, tested and proven by the A&P stores—at a great cost.

• • • • A&P upholds the rights and privileges of a good worker. I know this from personal experience. A&P is ever on the lookout to promote sincere and ambitious employees to trustworthy and important positions and has never crossed the efforts of any employee to enter into business for himself. A&P helped me to start in business... IS THAT AN ACT OF A COMPANY MONOPOLIZING THE GROCERY BUSINESS? NO!

A&P taught me to serve the public BETTER—MORE ECONOMICAL and MORE EFFICIENT, thanks to the start given me by B. F. VINSON.

• • • • During the depression of the thirties, A&P paid higher wages than any other chain. A&P has striven to keep up the standard of living in this country. I shudder to think what would happen to its 110,000 employees if it was forced out of business.

• • • • I am not afraid of A&P competition—I welcome it. It's democratic—it's the American Way.

This suit is another threat against our great American system of free enterprise. The A&P Co. has always been clean, above board competition and any successful independent merchant, if he is honest, will admit that they have taught him a great many things regarding merchandising, reducing overhead, better buying, etc., thus lowering food costs for the great American Public.

Settle by Raising Rates

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 10—(AP)—The only way it can settle its financial troubles is to raise rates, the Bolivar, Mo., Telephone company told the State Public Service commission yesterday.

The utility said its rates would have to be raised enough to bring in $11,458 more a year, mostly because of ice storms last winter which destroyed all its outside equipment.

The storms caused $16,000 worth of damage and only part of the plant has been restored. But revenue now is so low nobody will lend the firm more money to complete reconstruction, the company complained.

Former Colonel Goes to College

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A former army colonel, three times a grandfather, is having the time of his life as a student at the University of Southern California.

Desmond K. Laub, 62, majors in French and studies the modern French novel, American history, geology and English literature as well. "I'm making straight A's," he grins, "which is better than my daughters did when they went to the University of Michigan."

As a youth Laub bypassed college in favor of a trip to Denmark. Back in this country he took a job with the Detroit News and over a 30-year period was everything from cub reporter to foreign correspondent. He won a purple heart as an infantry lieutenant in World War I, and left the last war a colonel in the Air Corps Intelligence Corps.

Retirement wasn't to his taste, so Laub went to college. "I'm having a wonderful time," he says. "Being with all these young people is keeping me young."

Justice In Purple Robe

BALTIMORE —(AP)— Patrolman Edwar Burns turned up at a police station in the wee hours of the morning with two prisoners charged with disturbing the peace—chiefly Burn's peace. The officer was wearing a white and purple bathrobe, and a mood to match.

He explained he had found a strange car parked in his parking lot space. So he blocked the culprits' exit with his own machine, then went to the adjacent apartment house where he lived and crept into bed.

A call from the night clerk hauled him out around 1 a. m. Burns found half a dozen men bouncing in his car in an effort to move it, a hot discussion and two arrests followed. A magistrate later fined the two $5 a piece after they explained they had thought the lot was unused during the night.

Says Space Ship Must Wait

BALTIMORE—(AP)—Man's desire to roam about outer space and explore heavenly bodies will remain a songwriter's fancy for a few years, says Dr. Ralph E. Gibson, director of the applied physics laboratory of the Johns Hopkins University. Dr. Gibson cites these obstacles to inter-planetary travel:

1. You would need a rocket ship weighing about 10,000 tons—the weight of a light cruiser—to carry a pay load of 50,000 pounds. 2. You would need fuel tanks, a quarter of a million feet in size and would have to carry 8,000 tons of fuel, probably liquid oxygen. 3. You would have to start with a velocity of 36,000 feet a second in order to get shot out of the field of the earth's gravity.

Dr. Gibson's laboratory has been experimenting in guided missiles at the government's White Sands (N. M.) testing grounds.

Persimmon Menace

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Citizens Association of Anacostia, a section in southeastern Washington, is petitioning the District of Columbia government to do something about fruit falling from persimmon trees planted along three streets.

"Have you ever stepped on one?" asked Mrs. Carrie Smith, first vice president.

Hollywood Couterier "Preplexed, Confused"

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 9—(AP)—Hollywood couterier Marusia says she's "perplexed, confused," about the order she says she has from a fashionable St. Louis department store to make the wedding dress of Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, who is marrying Vice President Alben Barkley.

A friend of Mrs. Hadley says Marusia isn't making anything for the St. Louis widow; that the trousseau is being fashioned in New York.

"Well, I have an order to make the wedding dress and a going away dress," Marusia told a newsman today. Asked to produce the order, she said "that would not be a matter of good policy, but I assure you I acted in good faith and that I am going ahead with the order."

"Undoubtedly," says Marusia, "Mrs. Hadley does not feel it is in good taste to make public her wedding wardrobe until after the ceremony. She wants to keep it secret."

She agreed with a reporter who suggested that Mrs. Hadley, like other women, has the prerogative of changing her mind.

Engineers His Harmony

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—(AP)—"I have a little bit of music in me, and every so often it comes out," Parker H. Daggett, Rutgers university professor of electrical engineering admits with a grin. But that 'every so often' has resulted in more than 100 songs—everything from football songs to musical comedy hits. His latest, "Old Rutgers" was introduced this year, the third he has written for the university.

Forty-three years ago, Daggett was undecided whether engineering or music was to be his life's work. They've been blended in harmony.

Crete's Wine Goes to France

CRETE—(AP)—The people of Crete are thanking France for half a million dollars, but they're worn out after putting in 24 hours a day for nearly a month to earn it. The money represents the sale of wine under a "deadline" contract with hard-pressed French wine importers, whose own domestic grape production had been cut badly by this year's drought.

CREAMO ONLY MARGARINE WITH CREAM

5 out of 6 choose Creamo in Taste-Test

Pure sweet cream is responsible for Creamo Margarine's superiority: its smooth, cream-rich flavor. Because no other margarine gives you cream, no other margarine equals Creamo's naturally superior flavor. In addition to being a finer tasting spread for bread, Creamo's extra flavor makes it wonderful for flavoring other foods. Try it on hot vegetable dishes, and for baking and frying. You'll be delightfully surprised at the delicious difference. Ordinary dishes become party dishes, with just a little cream-enriched Creamo added. You'll find that Creamo's exclusive cream content works flavor miracles. Try a pound of Creamo today: Taste it yourself. You'll see immediately why new thousands every day are switching to Creamo. You'll learn why the only margarine made with cream is the only margarine to buy... Creamo Margarine.

Knob Noster

Mrs. Russell Kendrick

Miss Marjorie Kelley of southeast of Knob Noster won second place in the state R. Y. O. talkmeet in Jefferson City Wednesday which was in connection with the annual meeting of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation. Contestants spoke on "Effect of Rural Youth Citizenship in the Democratic Government" Miss Kelley will represent the state as alternate at the national conference in Chicago on December 12th.

Miss Lyda Fern Vogler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Vogler of Knob Noster and Jack Maudlin, son of Mrs Vinton Bugbee of northeast of Knob Noster, were married at 2 00 o'clock on Sunday afternoon at the home of Elder R. E. Burgess in Knob Noster, who read the single ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vogler, brother and sister-in-law of the bride were the attendants

The bride wore an aqua crepe dress and her corsage was of white chrysanthemums. Mrs Vogler was attired in a green taffeta dress.

Mrs. Arch Vogler, mother of the bride and Mrs. Bugbee, mother of the bridegroom, wore black crepe dresses

The bride was graduated from the Knob Noster high school in 1949 and has been employed at the Town and Country shoe factory in Warrensburg.

The bridegroom served in the army air corps in Japan for 18 months.

The couple will live in Kansas City where Mr. Maudlin will be employed Those attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Whetstone, Mr and Mrs K. E Nichols and Raymond Scott of Kansas City, Mrs. Roy Wood of Kansas City, Kas.; Mrs E. L Moorman, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Nutt, Mr. and Mrs Vinton Bubee, Mary Jane, Wilma Dean, Nancy and Marvin Bugbee, Mrs. Arch Vogler, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vogler and Leon Bennett of Knob Noster.

Members of the Ladies Aid society of the Christian church met at the church Thursday for an all day meeting. A covered dish dinner was served with Mrs R. W. Davies and Mrs Otto Baldwin as hostesses There were seven members and thirteen guests for dinner. Mrs. Harry Lane conducted the business meeting and Mrs. H. A. Wimer led the devotional. The afternoon was spent quilting Mrs J D. Garrison was a guest.

Mr. and Mrs H C. Schlusing were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Lane and daughter Rosemary, southeast of town.

Members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church met with Mrs. O. W. Peithman Thursday afternoon. Mrs Vernon Lane, the president, presided. Mrs Laura Roadruck led the devotionals. Mrs. Marion Sibert was the lesson leader. Her subject was "The Land of the Crescent, and the Five Pointed Star." She was assisted by Mrs E. O. Price, Mrs Byron Lane, Mrs. Elmo Lay and Mrs. Ora Austin Nineteen members were present Mrs. S L. Doggett was a visitor Mrs Peithman showed handwork from the Philippine Islands. During the social hour, refreshments of cookies and coffee were served

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin F. Blaine, daughter Barbara Ann of Grandview spent Sunday with Mrs Blaine's mother Mrs Russell Kendrick and Mr Kendrick and with Mr. Blaine's parents, Mr and Mrs Henry Blaine and daughter Judy in Sedalia.

POSTER FOR HOLY YEAR—The above poster is being circulated to stimulate interest in the Holy Year of 1950, as proclaimed by the Pope in Rome for Catholics of the world. It bears the hopeful slogan. "May this genuinely Holy Year be for the human family the harbinger of a new era of peace, prosperity and progress."

Using the same kind of smelling salts that kept grandma from swooning, this girl staves off driver's drowsiness by whiffing at ammonia fumes.

Emergency Treatment

EFFINGHAM, Ill.—(AP)—When a lighted kerosene stove was turned over accidentally in the home of Mrs. Andrew Verdeyen, she calmly removed the kerosene bottle attached to the stove to cut off the fuel supply and then tossed a blanket over it to smother the flames. Firemen merely had to carry out the stove.

"NERVES STILL STEADY AT 60"

Switching to Grain Drink can Help Young and Old

"I thought my shaky nerves were due to getting older. But my doctor blamed the caffein in coffee and suggested a switch to POSTUM. Now my nervousness is completely gone and I sleep and feel so much better!"

Are "coffee nerves" making you uncomfortable? . . . Jittery by day? . . . Sleepless at night? . . . Many people —young and old alike—have found the answer in switching from coffee and tea to POSTUM.

SCIENTIFIC FACTS: Both coffee and tea contain caffein—a drug—a nerve stimulant! So while many people can drink coffee or tea without ill-effect, others suffer nervousness, indigestion, sleepless nights. But POSTUM contains no caffein or other drug — nothing that can possibly cause sleeplessness, indigestion, or nervousness!

MAKE THIS TEST: Buy INSTANT POSTUM today—drink POSTUM exclusively for 30 days. See if POSTUM doesn't help you, too, to sleep better, feel better, enjoy life more! . . . INSTANT POSTUM—A Vigorous Drink made from Healthful Wheat and Bran—100% caffein-free! A Product of General Foods.

Cairo Houses Fall

CAIRO — (AP) — Many of the dwelling places in old Cairo are more than 1,000 years old. Almost weekly one collapses. Usually there are a number of deaths.

The most recent collapse came when a four-story house fell down in the Sayeda Zeinab district, killing six and injuring seven.

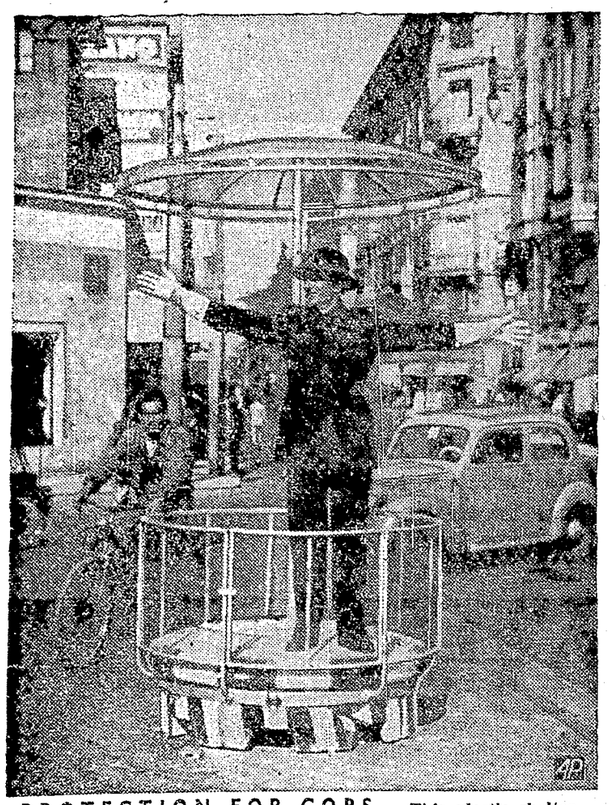
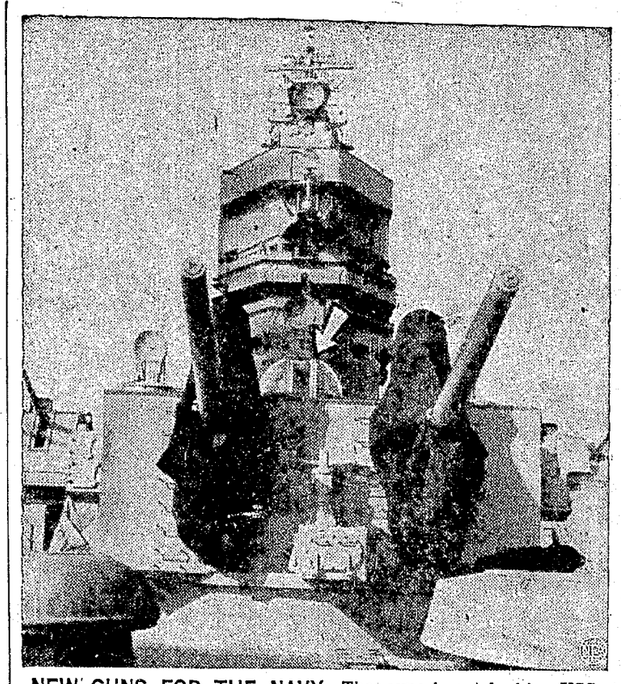
FITS WELL—Looking young enough to pass for a student himself, 25-year-old Jerry Coleman of the Yankees signs autographs for coeds in San Francisco's Lowell High. The New York second baseman and American League rookie of the year was guest speaker at a football rally in his former high school.

RIGHTING THE RIGGING — Norman Fullerton of Bowie, Texas, adjusts rigging on telescope mast pole during exhibition of techniques, part of Bowie's Oil Progress Week.

HOME FOR THE ROAD—In Albany, N. Y., funnyman Joe Jackson, Jr., wears a 64-year-old clown costume that belonged to his late father as he trys out the jeep station wagon he will use for touring Europe. Joe, who carries on a comedy act originated by his father, will use the station wagon for a dressing room and living quarters with his wife.



PROTECTION FOR COPS — This plastic shelter in Piazza Fiume, one of Rome's busy intersections, is being tested as protection for traffic police against wind and rain.



NEW GUNS FOR THE NAVY—The experimental ship, USS Mississippi, carries this new twin-barrelled, six-inch gun mount, designed for both surface fire and anti-aircraft. A minimum crew of five can operate the mount. The plastic bubble, giving all-around vision (arrow), allows one officer to control the fire direction.

With but a stroke of her brush any housewife can paint frosting on glass, chrome finishes on fixtures, deskid a walk and fake a hand-rubbed gloss on furniture. This housewife (upper left) brushes new frosting paint on her clear glass bath windows to make their transparency opaque for privacy. A cheese cloth pad will mottle the surface so that when the simple paint-job is dry it will pass for expensive frosted glass.

More strokes of the paintbrush dipped into another type of paint eliminate the hazard of slippery steps around the kitchen (right). Housewife uses a bright floor enamel containing new non-skid compound which she can also use on her cellar floors.

"WHO-O-A-A-A!"—Six-year-old Glenn Ehasz rides roughshod on his new tricycle-type horse. It would be an ordinary tricycle, except for the horse head and tail, which can be attached to such things as brooms or scooters merely by loosening a few bolts. Wild West equipment will account for a huge share of the $300,000,000 worth of Christmas toys sold this year.
